Zhao,2016-07-22 This volume explores how China is adapting to international norms and practices while still giving primacy to its national interests It examines China s strategic behaviour on the world stage particularly in its relationships with major powers and Asian neighbours The Future of China and Northeast Asia Tae-Hwan Kwak,Melvin Gurtov,1997 Making China Policy Ramon H. De Keijzer,1998 In BIG DRAGON Dan Burstein joins with China specialist Arne de Keijzer to offer a comprehensive look at China and its future They suggest that no other country poses such significant business and political questions for the West and therefore the business world must develop new strategies for dealing with China The authors present a practical blueprint for business people policy makers and concerned citizens alike for maximising opportunity economic as well as political and minimising any chance of conflict In dealing with China the book warns that the West will have to revise its elitist view that its principles and mores are superior whether culturally economically or politically China the authors say will have to be dealt with on its own terms If the West fails to do so it will have dire consequences for the world The authors articulate a fresh intelligent and innovative business and political strategy rooted in realistic assessments of where China is coming from and where it is headed BIG DRAGON s strength lies in its recognition of the possible conflicts but also in the way it clearly identifies the way toward a creation of a new mutuality of economic and political interest between the West and China
