Welfare The Family And Reproductive Behavior Research Perspectives:

Welfare, the Family, and Reproductive Behavior National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on Population, 1998-06-12 The design of welfare programs in an era of reform and devolution to the states must take into account the likely effects of programs on demographic behavior Most research on welfare in the past has examined labor market issues although there have also been some important evaluations of the effects of the Aid to Families with Dependent Children Program on out of wedlock childbearing Much less information is available on other issues equally central to the debate including effects on abortion decisions marriage and divorce intrafamily relations household formation and living arrangements This volume of papers contains reviews and syntheses of existing evidence bearing on the demographic impacts of welfare and ideas for how to evaluate new state level reforms Background Material and Data on Major Programs Within the Jurisdiction of the Committee on Ways and Means, 2004 For Better and For Worse Greg J. Duncan, Lindsay P. Chase-Lansdale, 2002-01-17 The 1996 welfare reform bill marked the beginning of a new era in public assistance Although the new law has reduced welfare rolls falling caseloads do not necessarily mean a better standard of living for families In For Better and For Worse editors Greg J Duncan and P Lindsay Chase Lansdale and a roster of distinguished experts examine the evidence and evaluate whether welfare reform has met one of its chief goals improving the well being of the nation s poor children For Better and For Worse opens with a lively political history of the welfare reform legislation which demonstrates how conservative politicians capitalize on public concern over such social problems as single parenthood to win support for the radical reforms Part I reviews how individual states redesigned implemented and are managing their welfare systems These chapters show that most states appear to view maternal employment rather than income enhancement and marriage as key to improving child well being Part II focuses on national and multistate evaluations of the changes in welfare to examine how families and children are actually faring under the new system These chapters suggest that work focused reforms have not hurt children and that reforms that provide financial support for working families can actually enhance children s development Part III presents a variety of perspectives on policy options for the future Remarkable here is the common ground for both liberals and conservatives on the need to support work and at the same time strengthen safety net programs such as Food Stamps Although welfare reform along with the Earned Income Tax Credit and the booming economy of the nineties has helped bring mothers into the labor force and some children out of poverty the nation still faces daunting challenges in helping single parents become permanent members of the workforce For Better and For Worse gathers the most recent data on the effects of welfare reform in one timely volume focused on improving the life chances of poor children 108-2 Committee Print: Committee on Ways and Means, 2004 Green Book, Etc., March 2004, * United States. the Committee on Ways and Means United States. Congress. House. Committee on Ways and Means,2000 Culture and Civilization Irving Horowitz,2018-02-06 This second volume in this new series aims to anchor the 21st century in the tradition of the new to raise methodology into historiography As the new millennium develops it is becoming evident that science and society are critical pivots in the formation of a larger mosaic of culture and civilization A tradition has developed and refuses to dissolve under the withering aspect of analysis Whether flying under the banner of Arthur Lovejoy George F Kennan Pitirim Sorokin Arnold Toynbee Alexander Solzhenitsyn T S Eliot Thorstein Veblen and countless others it has become clear that making sense of the whole and not resting easy with bits and pieces has become the mission of Culture Peter Watson Ideas A History of Thought from Fire to Freud Evan Selinger Ethics and Poverty Tours Walter A McDougall American Policy Traditions in the Middle East Raymond Ibrahim Violence in Judaism Christianity and Islam Michael Curtis Israel Land Law and Legitimacy Marian Tupy Persistent Poverty in Africa David Ronfeldt and Danielle Varda Cyberocracy Revisited a retrospective by Leo Alexander on Medical Science under Dictatorship and a series of brilliant new essays on Wyndham Lewis Jonathan Swift Max Scheler and Thurman Arnold Culture and Civilization does not embrace idiosyncratic visions of the apocalypse or the end of Western empires It does attempt to bring together immediate issues and ideas that are substantial and challenging The essential polarity between democracy and autocracy has now taken on historical dimensions that has now taken on larger deeper dimensions in different political economic and ecological terrain of our day is civilization versus barbarism This second volume is a sober deeper response to such a challenge Roma and the Transition in Central and Eastern Europe Dena Ringold,2000-01-01 This report brings together the available evidence from primary and secondary sources including household surveys and results of recent qualitative studies to develop a picture of the development challenges facing Roma populations in Central and Eastern Europe While living standards have declined for all population groups during the transition to a market economy there are growing indications that conditions have deteriorated more severely for Roma than for others and that Roma are poorly positioned to take advantage of emerging economic opportunities This report focuses on five countries in Central and Eastern Europe Hungary Bulgaria Romania the Czech Republic and the Slovak Republic The first chapter of the report provides the historical context and an overview of the methodological issues and main data sources chapter two presents the available evidence on welfare status and living conditions examining poverty housing education employment and health chapter three considers issues relating to access to social services and the final chapter reviews the opportunities for Roma participation in the design and implementation of community development policies and programmes and outlines policy implications Widows Waiting to Wed? Michael J. Brien,2001 Achieving High Educational Standards for All National Research Council,Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education,2002-05-11 This volume summarizes a range of scientific perspectives on the important goal of achieving high educational standards for all students Based on a conference held at the request of the U S Department of Education it addresses three questions What progress has been made in advancing the education of minority and disadvantaged students since the historic Brown v Board of Education decision nearly 50 years ago What does research say about the reasons of successes and failures What are some of the strategies and practices that hold the promise of producing continued improvements The volume draws on the conclusions of a number of important recent NRC reports including How People Learn Preventing Reading Difficulties in Young Children Eager to Learn and From Neurons to Neighborhoods among others It includes an overview of the conference presentations and discussions the perspectives of the two co moderators and a set of background papers on more detailed issues Does Money Matter? Christina H. Paxson, Norbert Schady, 2007 The authors examine how a government run cash transfer program targeted to poor mothers in rural Ecuador influenced the health and development of their children This program is of particular interest because unlike other transfer programs that have been implemented recently in Latin America receipt of the cash transfers was not conditioned on specific parental actions such as taking children to health clinics or sending them to school This feature of the program makes it possible to assess whether conditionality is necessary for programs to have beneficial effects on children The authors use random assignment at the parish level to identify the program's effects They find that the cash transfer program had positive effects on the physical cognitive and socioemotional development of children and the treatment effects were substantially larger for the poorer children than for less poor children Among the poorest children in the sample those whose mothers were eligible for transfers had outcomes that were on average more than 20 percent of a standard deviation higher than those for comparable children in the control group Treatment effects are somewhat larger for girls and for children with more highly educated mothers The authors examine three mechanisms better nutrition greater use of health care and better parenting through which the transfers might influence child development The program appeared to improve children's nutrition and increased the chance they were treated for helminth infections But children in the treatment group were not more likely to visit health clinics for growth monitoring and the mental health and parenting of their mothers did not improve

PARENTAL ADVOCACY D. Robert Kennedy and S. June Kennedy, 2009-03-13 The plea being made in Parental Advocacy is for parents to seek to understand the seriousness of their roles as parents and regardless of their preferences to consider as of first importance the impact of their action on the lives of their children The Demography of Forced Migration National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on Population, 1998-08-10 Because forced migration situations are often physically dangerous and politically complicated estimates of these populations are often difficult to make Estimates of forced migration vary but it is probable that there are about 23 million refugees and more than 30 million internally displaced people In order to assist specific groups of forced migrants and also to better understand the general plight of forced migrants good demographic data are needed However collecting data on forced migration presents tremendous challenges for normal data collection processes and standards To explore a range of issues about internally displaced persons and refugees the Committee on Population of the National Research Council organized a Workshop on the Demography of Forced Migration in Washington D C in November 1997 The purpose of the workshop was to investigate the ways in which population and other social scientists can produce more useful demographic information about forced migrant populations and how they differ This report summarizes the background papers prepared for the meeting the presentations and the general discussion

Race, Crime, and Criminal Justice Anita Kalunta-Crumpton, 2025-07-10 One of the most controversial topics on the subject of race crime and criminal justice is the disproportionate representation of Blacks in the criminal justice system as offenders and prison inmates Rather than portraying Blacks as perpetual victims of racism in which societal institutions are solely responsible for reform this book seeks to put the power of change in the hands of Blacks It focuses on the preventative role that Blacks might play and considers solution oriented ways to stop this vicious cycle

Globalization, Displacement, and Psychiatry Sanaullah Khan, Elliott Schwebach, 2023-07-26 This book explores diasporic identities and lived experiences that emerge in global patterns of oppression and considers the consequences of treatment and cure when patients experience mental illness due to war displacement and surveillance Going beyond psychiatric institutions and conventional psychiatric knowledge by focusing on informal networks socially contingent value systems and cultural sites of healing this book considers how communities utilize trauma productively for healing The chapters in this volume consider the detection of mental illness and its treatment through claims to citizenship and belonging as well as denials of social identity and psychic experiences by institutions of the state A multidisciplinary team of contributors and international range of case studies explore topics such as colonial trauma feminized trauma reproductive violence military mental health and more This book is an essential resource for psychologists psychiatrists political scientists sociologists and anthropologists as well as scholars and those involved in policymaking and practice

Handbook of the Sociology of Gender Janet Saltzman Chafetz, 2006-11-22 During the past three decades feminist scholars have successfully demonstrated the ubiquity and omnirelevance of gender as a sociocultural construction in virtually all human collectivities past and present Intrapsychic interactional and collective social processes are gendered as are micro meso and macro social structures Gender shapes and is shaped in all arenas of social life from the most mundane practices of everyday life to those of the most powerful corporate actors Contemporary understandings of gender emanate from a large community of primarily feminist scholars that spans the gamut of learned disciplines and also includes non academic activist thinkers However while in corporating some cross disciplinary material this volume focuses specifically on socio logical theories and research concerning gender which are discussed across the full array of social processes structures and institutions As editor I have explicitly tried to shape the contributions to this volume along several lines that reflect my long standing views about sociology in general and gender sociology in particular First I asked authors to include cross national and historical material as much as possible This request reflects my belief that understanding and evaluating the here and now and working realistically for a better future can only be accomplished from a comparative perspective Too often American sociology has been both tempero and ethnocentric Second I have asked authors to be sensitive to within gender differences along class racial ethnic sexual preference and age cohort lines
