

The background of the book cover is a stylized, abstract illustration. It features two fish. The upper fish is curved, with a rainbow-colored body transitioning from yellow at the head to red and orange at the tail. The lower fish is white with a black outline and is positioned horizontally. The surrounding environment is composed of various shades of green and blue, with bold black lines creating a geometric, almost cubist feel. The overall style is reminiscent of mid-20th-century modern art.

Twentieth Century Theologians A New Introduction To Modern Christian Thought:

Twentieth-Century Theologians Philip Kennedy, 2010-01-30 One needs to be a lunatic to become a Christian the 19th century Danish philosopher Søren Kierkegaard once observed Had he lived in the 20th century he might have discerned even more of an obstacle to faith For during the last century the human condition changed more rapidly than during any previous era taking that condition far away from the historical circumstances in which Christianity was born In his new book Philip Kennedy explores the ways Christian theologians of the 20th century tried to live a productive religious life in a world overtaken by massive upheaval and innovation The book is distinctive in a number of respects First it differs from other surveys of theology by adopting a biographical method examining the lives of its subjects in historical context Second it is more progressive than its competitors covering many theologians other than white male professors especially women who have worked outside the academy or on the margins of the churches Third it is international focusing on theologians in all the continents of the world rather than just Europe or North America Fourth it makes no assumptions that its readers are religious or that theology is uniquely credible There is a need for a sensitive new textbook reassessing the subject in the light of modern concerns and scepticism about religion This book meets that need Twentieth Century Anglican

The legacies of Albert Schweitzer reconsidered Izak J.J. Spangenberg, Christina Landman, Amadi Enoch Ahiamadu, Johan Booyse, Pieter Botha, Cornel du Toit, Garth Mason, Menard Musendekwa, Eben Scheffler, Lovemore Togarasei, Andries van Aarde, 2016-12-31 This book on the legacy of Albert Schweitzer contextualises this remarkable intellectualist humanist medicine man theologian and Nobel Prize winner This collected work is aimed at specialists in the humanities social sciences education and religious studies The authors embrace philanthropic values to benefit Africa and the world at large The publication engages with peers on the relevance of Schweitzer's work for humanitarian values in Africa The essays in the book stimulate further research in the various fields in which Schweitzer excelled Its academic contribution is its focus on the post colonial discourse in contemporary discussions both in South Africa and Africa at large The book emphasises Schweitzer's reverence for life philosophy and demonstrates how this impacts on moral values However the book also points to the possibility that Schweitzer's reverence for life philosophy is embedded in a typically European appreciation of mysticism that is not commensurate with African indigenous religious values From an African academic perspective the book advocates the view that Schweitzer's concept of the reverence for life supports not only the Biblical notion of imago Dei but also the African humanist values of the preservation and protection of life criticising the exploitation of the environment by warring factions and large companies especially in oil producing African countries It also argues that Schweitzer's disposition on ethics was influenced by the Second World War his sentiments against nuclear weapons and his resistance to the Enlightenment view of civilisation With regard to Jesus studies the book elucidates values promoted by Schweitzer by following in Jesus steps and portraying Jesus message within a modern world view Taken over from Schweitzer the book argues that Jesus moral authority resides in his display of love and his interaction with the poor and marginalised The book demonstrates Schweitzer's understanding of Jesus as the one who sacrifices his own life to bring the Kingdom of God to realisation in this world The book commends Schweitzer's insight that we know Jesus through his toils on the one hand and through our own experiences on the other It is in a mixture between the two that the hermeneutical gap between then and now is bridged It is precisely in bridging this gap that Schweitzer sees himself as an instrument of God's healing It defines Schweitzer as the embodiment of being a healer educationalist and herald of the greening of Christianity His philosophy on the reverence for life prepares a foundation for Christians to think green about human life within a greater environment He advocates aspects of education such as lifelong learning holistic education and a problem based approach to education Finally the book analyses both critically and appreciatively Albert Schweitzer's contribution to the concepts of religious healing prevalent in African Christianity today
