Alice Donald, Philip Leach

Twenty Third Report Of Session 2005 06 Twenty Third Report Of Session 2005 06:

Twenty-third Report of Session 2005-06 Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: European Scrutiny Committee,2006-04-11 Twenty third report of Session 2005 06 Documents considered by the Committee on 29 March 2006 including Promotion of clean road vehicles report together with formal Minutes Twenty-third Report of Session 2005-06 Great Britain: Parliament: Joint Committee on Statutory Instruments,2006-04-04 Drawing special attention to Public Benefit Corporation Register of Members Amendment Regulations 2006 S I 2006 361 House of Commons - European Scrutiny Committee: Twenty-Third Report of Session 2013-14 - HC 83-xxi Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: European Scrutiny Committee,2013-12-04 With correction slip dated December 2013 Parliaments and the European Court of Human Rights Alice Donald,Philip Leach,2016-08-18 The European system of human rights protection faces institutional and political pressures which threaten its very survival These institutional pressures stem from the backlog of applications before the European Court of Human Rights the large number of its judgments that remain unimplemented and the political pressures that arise from sustained attacks on the Court s legitimacy and authority notably from politicians and jurists in the United Kingdom This book addresses the theme which lies at the heart of these pressures the role of national parliaments in the implementation of judgments of the Court It combines theoretical and empirical insights into the role of parliaments in securing domestic compliance with the Court s decisions and provides detailed investigation of five European states with differing records of human rights compliance and parliamentary mobilisation Ukraine Romania the United Kingdom Germany and the Netherlands How far are parliaments engaged in implementation and how far should they be Do parliaments advance or hinder human rights compliance Is it ever justifiable for parliaments to defy judgments of the Court And how significant is the role played by the Parliamentary Assembly of the Council of Europe Drawing on the fields of international law international relations political science and political philosophy the book argues that adverse human rights judgments not only confer obligations on parliamentarians but also create opportunities for them to develop influential interpretations of human rights and enhance their own democratic legitimacy It makes an authoritative contribution to debate about the future of the European and other supranational human rights mechanisms and the broader relationship between democracy human rights and legitimate authority Improving Poorly Performing Schools in England Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Committee of Public Accounts,2006 In 2004 05 approximately 837 million was spent in England on a range of national programmes to help address problems in schools that were failing or at risk of failing to provide an acceptable standard of education for their pupils Following on from a NAO report HC 679 session 2005 06 ISBN 0102936633 published in January 2006 the Committee s report examines the activities of the DfES and Ofsted to identify and deal with poorly performing schools to strengthen school leadership and to develop simpler relationships with schools Findings include that although the number of poorly performing schools has been reducing there are still around 1 500 in England that are under performing Improvements in data on secondary school performance has helped to identify schools in decline at an earlier stage so that they can benefit from increased support and similar improvement needs to be done at primary school level The system of shorter Ofsted inspections based on school self evaluation of performance may be appropriate for the majority of schools but some schools are not evaluating themselves effectively and incentives needs to be created to help achieve this School leadership is essential to achieving and maintaining improvements and Ofsted reports need to diagnose any leadership problems in failing schools explicitly Local authorities and other schools are important sources of support for struggling schools and there should be greater opportunities for schools to collaborate and share good practice

NHS Local Improvement Finance Trusts Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Committee of Public Accounts,2006-07-04 The Department of Health launched the Local Improvement Finance Trust LIFT in 2000 to address long standing under investment in primary care facilities It is a form of Public Private Partnership with a national joint venture Partnerships in Health that oversees and invests in it The total capital value of the first tranche of buildings was 711 million and the average cost of a building was 5 million 90% of the capital is provided by debt and the properties are owned by the LIFTCo with income being generated by rent payments from tenants such as GPs Primary Care Trust pharmacies and the local authority This report examines whether the programme has been implemented effectively

The South Eastern Passenger Rail Franchise Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Committee of Public Accounts,2006-05-11 In June 2003 the Strategic Rail Authority announced that it would be terminating the Connex South Eastern franchise for passenger rail services in Kent parts of Sussex and South East London the first and so far only instance where a train operating company s franchise has been terminated early Following on from a National Audit Office report HCP 457 session 2005 06 ISBN 0102936498 published in December 2005 the Committee s report examines why the franchise experienced difficulties why the contract was terminated and the impact on the interests of the taxpayer The report sets out a number of conclusions and recommendations on the lessons to be learned in order to reduce the risk of future franchise failures

The BBC's White City 2 Development Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Committee of Public Accounts,2006-02-14 The BBC s White City 2 property development in West London comprises three new buildings which were built next to an existing BBC building known as White City 1 White City 2 was financed by Land Securities Trillium under a 30 year partnership deal with the BBC which also covered property services at 48 other BBC locations The cost of construction for White City 2 was 210 million along with 60.9 million for furniture and technical fit out of the buildings The development was completed on time but the Committee of Public Accounts found several aspects of the project constituting risks to value for money The cost of the development also exceeded the amount originally approved by the BBC Governors along with significant variations to the scheme as the project progressed The Committee set out a number of conclusions and recommendations that the whole life costs of projects should be assessed and made available to the BBC Governors the BBC should better integrate design and construction so reducing the risk of design changes after contracts have begun the license fee money should not be used to subsidise the BBC's commercial subsidiaries and that rent charged for the sublet of buildings should meet the BBC's costs that the BBC should not hold on to property which it does not need or which it cannot use cost effectively the BBC in future should follow public sector good practice in particular in estimating whole life costs of projects monitoring returns to the private sector obtaining refinancing benefits and integrating design and construction

Counter-terrorism policy and human rights Great Britain: Parliament: Joint Committee on Human Rights, 2007-12-14 This report examines the Government's intention as part of its counter terrorism measures to increase the pre charge detention limit from 28 to 42 days The Committee believes that there is a clear national consensus that the case for further change has not been made by the Government In the Committee's view a truly consensual approach should lead the Government to accept that it has failed to build the necessary national consensus for this very significant interference with the right to liberty and withdraw the proposal to proceed with it as detailed by the Home Office calls into question the Government's commitment to a consensual approach and raises questions of compatibility with human rights The Committee does not accept that the Government has made the case for extending pre charge detention beyond the current limit of 28 days for the following reasons i it can find no clear evidence of likely need in the near future ii alternatives to extension do enough in combination to protect the public and are much more proportionate iii the proposed parliamentary mechanism would create a serious risk of prejudice to the fair trial of suspects iv the existing judicial safeguards for extensions even up to 28 days are inadequate

Corporation Tax Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Committee of Public Accounts, 2006-06-29 Companies resident or conducting business in the UK are liable to pay corporation tax on their profits and since 1999 corporation tax is a self assessed tax Companies are required to submit tax returns each year along with any tax due and these tax returns are then checked for non compliance In 2004 05 HM Revenue and Customs collected about 33 billion in corporation tax and it expects receipts to increase to 42 billion in 2005 06 Following on from a National Audit Office report HC 678 session 2005 06 ISBN 0102936641 published in January 2006 the Committee's report examines the management of Corporation Tax and sets out a number of conclusions and recommendations Given an estimated 40 per cent error rate in tax returns the Department should improve its targeting of enquiries into tax returns for non compliance and its use of risk assessment techniques in order to increase the tax yield Plans to restructure the local area office network should help reduce local variations in performance and improve efficiency in enquiry work All companies will be required to file their tax returns electronically by 2010 and this system should realise a number of benefits including greater convenience for companies and a reduction in Department's costs and errors in keying in data
