Incorporating Engaged Research in Social Development Wassie Kebede, Alice K. Butterfield, 2021-04-26 In a wide ranging presentation derived from teaching experiences and research projects seasoned professors Wassie Kebede and Alice Buttereld examine engaged research that links social work human services and social development with the intent of instigating action for social change Drs Kebede and Buttereld begin by introducing others to an overview of engaged research and models of social change and then examine development issues in Ethiopia in view of engaged research After offering their context of engaged research as a prototype for extrapolating development policies that can be studied compared and contrasted with those in other countries Kebede and Buttereld present the results from the engaged research of former PhD students now faculty at various universities in Ethiopia The book provides a glimpse into the professors own experiences and an emphasis on the importance of involving faculty and students in engaged research through coursework Incorporating Engaged Research in Social Development is a comprehensive study that offers academic insight and research results in order to promote social development and change Readers are encouraged to use this book for teaching and implementing engaged research in higher education Guidelines for teaching undergraduate and graduate courses are included Global Perspectives on Adult Education Ali A. Abdi, Dip Kapoor, 2009-01-08 This collection brings together adult education theorists and practitioners from Africa Asia Latin America and the Caribbean and diaspora from these regions in an attempt to foreground issues concepts theories and practices of adult education in Southern locations Key contributions include contemporary theoretical implications of the works of Nyerere Freire Confucious Mao Buddhism and African indigenous conceptions along with current discussion pertaining to globalization citizenship and adult education and learning in subaltern social movements Case studies from all regions address context specific grounding of these theoretical and conceptual discussions while addressingi higher education community movement and NGO civil society spaces of engagement Journal of Gay, Lesbian, and Bisexual Identity ,1998 Working the Planning Table Ronald M.

Cervero, Arthur L. Wilson, 2006 In Working the Planning Table Ronald M Cervero and Arthur L Wilson offer a theory that accounts for planners lived experience and provides a guide for developing effective educational programs for adults The book presents three planning case studies that illustrate how power interests ethical commitment and negotiation are central to planners everyday work These stories offer guidance on how to respond to the realities of practice and clearly point out that the technical work of planning is always political Working the Planning Table reveals how people work to negotiate educational and political outcomes for multiple stakeholders Cervero and Wilson introduced their groundbreaking framework in their 1994 book Planning Responsibly for Adult Education Their theory provided a new understanding of the everyday realities faced in planning educational programs for adults Since that time they have further developed this effective approach to educational planning Working the Planning Table reflects their most recent research and offers a practical user friendly guide for planners of adult education programs Working the Planning Table is an essential resource for all educational planners In addressing the perennial topics of planning Cervero and Wilson show how assessing needs developing objectives designing instruction and administering and evaluating programs always require planners ethical commitment and astute political negotiation of interests in social and organizational contexts Boys, Literacies, and Schooling Leonie Rowan, 2002 Current debates about boys and schooling in many Western nations are increasingly characterised by a sense of crisis as government reports academic research and the day to day experiences of teachers combine to indicate that boys are consistently underperforming in literacy boys are continuing to opt out of English and humanities boys represent the majority of behaviour problems and counselling referrals boys receive a disproportionate amount of special education support This book responds to the complexity of the current debates associated with boys gender reform literacy and schooling by offering a clear map of the current context highlighting the strengths and weaknesses of the various competing solutions put forward and outlining a range of practical classroom interventions designed for dealing with the boys literacy crisis The authors consider the ways in which particular views of masculinity gender reform literacy technology and popular culture can either open up or close down new conceptualisations of what it means to be a boy and what it means to be literate Philosophy of Education William Hare, John Peter Portelli, 1996

Communities in Action Dr. Larry Stillman, Graeme Johanson, Rebecca French, 2009 ICTs have become a very powerful community resource viewed by many authors in this volume as two way mechanisms facilitating the perpetuation of and reflecting esteemed community values The contents of this volume make it clear that ICTs have a huge capacity for incorporation into different forms of community action including social change community learning community connection and community development Through studying the papers in this volume readers can learn about multiple forms of ICTs and action and how action is understood and improve their grasp of the complexities of social technical relations The chapters in this volume began life as papers at the Conference on TM Community Informatics prospects for communities and action TM in 2007 the fourth successful community informatics conference held at the Monash University Centre Prato Italy This book creates a platform for exchanging experiences case studies and possible solutions to address the difficulties in deploying ICT in many contexts and will be of interest to all researchers and practioners who engage with ICT particularly those in the community and developmental informatics field Laboring to Learn Lorna Rivera,2008-08-28 The American adult education system has become an alternative for school dropouts with some state welfare policies requiring teen mothers and women without high school diplomas to participate in adult education programs to receive aid Very little has been published about women s experiences in these mandatory programs and whether the programs reproduce the conditions that forced women to drop out in the first place Lorna Rivera bridges the gap with this important study the product of ten years active ethnographic research with formerly homeless women who participated in adult literacy education classes before and after welfare reform Analyzing the web of ideological contradictions regarding work first welfare reform policies Rivera argues that poverty is produced and reproduced when women with low literacy skills are pushed into welfare to work programs and denied education Science & Public Policy ,2007 Wisconsin Women's Law Journal ,2004 Race and Higher Education Frank Tuitt,Annie Howell,2003 The contributors to Race and Higher Education guide educators toward an understanding of how changes in the student population call for new approaches to classroom instruction and address the need for new pedagogical practices in increasingly diverse college classrooms Over the last few decades U S colleges and universities have witnessed increasing diversity in their student bodies Yet faculty members operating on the notion that one pedagogy fits all students continue to employ traditional modes of instruction This adherence to outdated pedagogies has created potentially harmful learning environments for all students and particularly for students of color Race and Higher Education addresses this persistent problem guiding educators toward a better understanding of how changes in the student population have resulted in the need for new approaches to classroom instruction By including voices from inside classrooms along with analyses from scholarly researchers this volume provides college and university teachers administrators students and scholars with a critical instrument for improving higher education Tourism Recreation Research ,2003 Fear, Authority, and the Struggle to Care Audrey Joy Appelsies,2006 Empowerment and Women's Health Jane Stein,1997-04 A comprehensive analysis of the links between women s empowerment and health this work looks at what determines success in the fight for better conditions the redistribution of power and control of resources Linking international development policies with women s situations the theories of women s health with the lives of individuals the author reveals the complex connections associations and interactions in the web of factors relevant to health This study should be of value to anyone interested in health care issues and states the case for an international feminist agenda attentive to local cultural idioms Anthropology & Education Quarterly ,2001 Reaching Beyond the Schools Nicholas Vito Longo,2005 Collaborative Storytelling in Secondary Teacher Education Patricia M.
