business area this book intends to follow modern trends in international management with a greater focus on internationalisation of firm's earnings and costs. The total economic result of international business transactions in the firm takes account of all cross border inflow and outflow of cash. Modern firms participate in industrial value chains that tend to cross national borders intensively. The firm's value chain activity exercised in a certain country serves as an appropriate unit of analysis in multinational firms decision making. The combination of such analytical units as firm industry with its value chain country and modes of foreign and cross border operations is at the heart of the book's structure. Based on decades of delivering award winning executive education seminars and projects in numerous countries the authors address key questions in order to perpetuate an organisation's as well as an individual's success in international activities. Numerous case studies from a variety of firms industries and countries help illustrate options and choices.

from this administrator is that they do not ignore human needs and emotions while providing the management of educational institutions. For this reason, these managers should be leaders rather than executives who only work in a formal framework of organization management. Moreover, principals and teachers should also be leaders in all educational processes. Emotions are the main catalyst of positive organizational culture. Leaders can create an effective organizational culture with the main source of positive emotions between employers. Positive emotions also motivate employees for organizational purposes. If a leader wishes to create and maintain an effective organizational culture, it is essential to support positive behavior and emotional climate in their institutes and schools. Leaders, school managers, and teachers therefore need to develop emotion management abilities. Educational organizations need to shape their organizational culture, climate, and psychology to support their leaders in efficiently managing their employees' emotions. Up to now, this topic has been usually addressed as the main catalyst and a sub dimension of emotional intelligence. Moreover, current evidence classifies social and empathy skills as other sub dimensions of emotional intelligence. For this reason, this collection of peer reviewed articles will draw attention to the contemporary term emotional management and contribute to educational fields by means of exploring the relationship between emotions and leadership.
