Bstan-'dzin-rgya-mtsho, Dalai Lama, Thupten Jinpa, 2022-12-13 Deepen your understanding of meaning and truth with the third volume of the Dalai Lama's esteemed series Science and Philosophy in the Indian Buddhist Classics In this third volume the focus turns to exploring the philosophical schools of India The practice of presenting the views of various schools of philosophy dates back to the first millennium in India when proponents of competing traditions would arrange the diverse sets of philosophical positions in a hierarchy culminating in their own school's superior tenets Centuries later relying on the Indian Buddhist treatises Tibet developed its own tradition of works on tenets grub mtha often centered on the four schools of Buddhist philosophy using them to demonstrate the philosophical evolution within their own tradition and within individual practitioners as they progressed through increasingly more subtle expressions of the true reality The present work follows in this venerable tradition but with a modern twist Like its predecessors it presents the views of seven non Buddhist schools those of the Samkhya Vaisesika Nyaya Mimamsa Vedanta Jaina and Lokayata followed by the Buddhist Vaibhasika Sautrantika Cittamatra and Madhyamaka schools arranging them like steps on a ladder to the profound But rather than following in the sharply polemical approach of its ancient predecessors it strives to survey each tradition authentically relying on and citing the texts sacred to each allowing the different traditions to speak for themselves What it asks are the basic components of the world we experience What is the nature of their ultimate reality And how can we come to experience that for ourselves See how the rich spiritual traditions of India approached these key questions where they agreed and how they evolved through dialogue and debate Provided by publisher Bulletin of Tibetology ,1982 The Buddhist

Theory of Self-Cognition Zhihua Yao, 2012-09-10 This highly original work explores the concept of self awareness or self consciousness in Buddhist thought Its central thesis is that the Buddhist theory of self cognition originated in a soteriological discussion of omniscience among the Mahasamghikas and then evolved into a topic of epistemological inquiry among the Yogacarins To illustrate this central theme this book explores a large body of primary sources in Chinese Pali Sanskrit and Tibetan most of which are presented to an English readership for the first time It makes available important resources for the study of the Buddhist philosophy of mind The Participatory Turn Jorge N. Ferrer, Jacob H. Sherman, 2008-10-23 Can we take seriously religious experience spirituality and mysticism without reducing them to either cultural linguistic by products or simply asserting their validity as a dogmatic fact The contributors to this volume argue that we can and they offer a new way the participatory turn which proposes that individuals and communities have an integral and irreducible role in bringing forth ontologically rich religious worlds They explore the ways this approach weaves together and gives voice to a number of robust trends in contemporary religious scholarship including the renewed study of lived spirituality the postmodern emphasis on embodied and gendered subjectivity the admission of alternate epistemic perspectives the irreducibility of religious pluralism and the pragmatist emphasis on transformation all trends that raise serious challenges to the currently prevalent linguistic paradigm The first part of the book situates the participatory turn in the context of contemporary Religious Studies the second part shows how this approach can be applied to various global traditions ancient and contemporary from Western esotericism to Jewish mysticism Christianity Hinduism Sufism and socially engaged Buddhism
