The Will To Believe And Other Essays In Popular Philosophy Illustrated:

The Will to Believe William James, 1956-01-01 Intellect will belief chance and free will are among the topics touched upon in two works by the American psychologist The Will to Believe; and Other Essays in Popular Philosophy William James, 2013-09 This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher Not indexed Not illustrated 1911 edition Excerpt of a feather's weight a long phrase may have its sense reversed by the addition of the three letters n o t This life is worth living we can say since it is what we make it from the moral point of view and we are determined to make it from that point of view so far as we have anything to do with it a success Now in this description of faiths that verify themselves I have assumed that our faith in an invisible order is what inspires those efforts and that patience which make this visible order good for moral men Our faith in the seen world's goodness goodness now meaning fitness for successful moral and religious life has verified itself by leaning on our faith in the unseen world But will our faith in the unseen world similarly verify itself Who knows Once more it is a case of maybe and once more tmaybes are the essence of the situation I confess that I do not see why the very existence of an invisible world may not in part depend on the personal response which any one of us may make to the religious appeal God himself in short may draw vital strength and increase of very being from our fidelity For my own part I do not know what the sweat and blood and tragedy of this life mean if they mean anything short of this If this life be not a real fight in which something is eternally gained for the universe by success it is no better than a game of private theatricals from which one may withdraw at will But j it feels like a real fight as if there were something really wild in the universe which we with all our idealities and faithfulnesses are needed to redeem and first of all to redeem our own hearts from atheisms and fears For such a half wild half saved universe our nature is adapted The deepest thing Illustrated Catalogue of Books, Standard and Holiday McClurg, Firm, Booksellers, Chicago, 1898 Essays in Illustration of the Action of Astral Gravitation in Natural Phenomena William Leighton Jordan, 1900 The Century Illustrated Monthly Magazine Josiah Gilbert Holland, Richard Watson Gilder, 1902 The Seat of Authority in Religion James Martineau, 1898 final volume of the landmark award winning series The Europeans in Australia that gives an account of settlement by Britain It tells of the various ways in which that experience shaped imagination and belief among the settler people from the eighteenth century to the end of World War I Volume Three Nation tells the story of Australian Federation and the war with a focus as ever on ordinary habits of thought and feeling In this period for the first time the settler people began to grasp the vastness of the continent and to think of it as their own There was a massive funding of education and the intellectual reach of men and women was suddenly expanded to an extent that seemed dazzling to many at the time Women began to shape public imagination as they had not done before At the same time the worship of mere ideas had its victims most obviously the Aboriginal people and the war itself proved what vast tragedies it could unleash The culmination of an extraordinary career
