Transforming East Asia The Evolution Of Regional Economic Integration:

Transforming East Asia Naoko Munakata, 2007-08-29 A Brookings Institution Press and the Research Institute of Economy Trade and Industry Japan publication East Asian economic integration is on the rise In the past decade all of the region's powers have begun negotiating free trade agreements with their neighbors They are also exploring broader regional options such as the creation of an East Asian summit or free trade area These developments have not always been welcomed by observers in other parts of the world Some fear that they mark a turn away from integration into the global economy and herald the emergence of a closed inward looking bloc In this timely and important book Naoko Munakata offers an alternative perspective based on her experience as an economic official and trade negotiator over the past 20 years East Asian integration she argues is not driven by defensiveness or anti Western sentiment Instead it reflects pragmatic calculations of economic interest as well as a desire for mutual trust and a sense of community Munakata makes her case by analyzing developments in the region since the mid 1980s highlighting such important factors as the evolution of Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation APEC the impact of the 1997-98 Asian financial crisis and the rise of China She also outlines possible future scenarios for the region and offers policy prescriptions for building on regionalism's achievements to date Over the coming decades the rise of China its relationship with Japan and the institutional arrangements that bind those countries to the United States and the countries of East and Southeast Asia will become critical factors in the global balance of power Transforming East Asia is essential reading for anyone seeking to understand the roots of this transformation

Regional Economic Integration in East Asia Magdalena Suska, 2024-11-08 This interdisciplinary book analyses the regional economic integration and its institutionalisation that has been pursued in East Asia since the late 1990s and its far reaching impact for the entire region and beyond It presents the specificity and evolution of East Asia's economic integration as well as its outcomes in the form of an impressive number of FTAs concluded by East Asian countries The book also addresses the region's institutionalised regionalism of the 21st century embodied by the recent establishment of two mega regional institutions for trade and investment facilitation Comprehensive and Progressive Agreement for Trans Pacific Partnership CPTPP and Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership RCEP analysing their economic potential and impact on East Asian economies as well as on regions including Europe Additionally the book offers a comprehensive analysis of integration theories providing political and economic theories of integration and related conceptual discussions which may help understand the uniqueness of the East Asian model of integration The book will be useful for students and researchers in economics international relations and political science as well as government administrations and private businesses developing long term strategic plans towards the region of East Asia East Asian Economic Integration Ross P. Buckley, Richard Weixing Hu, Douglas W. Arner, 2011-01-01 This book offers a fascinating exploration of the contradictions of East Asian economic integration a topic of enormous contemporary significance to observers of world political and economic affairs The collection provides an unusually rigorous and systematic treatment of this important topic drawing on contributions from an impressive array of experts It will provide a valuable resource for students scholars and other observers seeking deeper understanding of the contemporary dynamics and challenges of East Asian integration Kate MacDonald University of Melbourne Australia East Asia is a crucial part of the global economy This book analyses three key elements of East Asian economic integration trade investment and international finance The authors are leading experts in their fields Their book represents an important addition to the literature on a subject of fundamental importance both regionally and globally Bradly J Condon ITAM Mexico City This book analyses recent developments and likely future paths for trade and financial integration in East Asia It suggests a more coherent balanced way forward for regional economic integration and analyses implications for institution building in East Asia East Asia has achieved a high degree of intra regional trade investment and GDP correlation through an expanding web of free trade agreements and production networks However financially most regional economies are linked more closely to North America and Europe than to each other As trade integration has accelerated financial and monetary integration has not kept pace East Asian Economic Integration analyses potential reasons and remedies for this phenomenon through a multidisciplinary framework of law politics and economics This comprehensive book will appeal to researchers and students in political science international relations trade law international finance law and regional studies generally It will also be of great interest to regional China's Multilateral Co-operation in Asia and the Pacific Chien-peng Chung, 2010-06-24 The leaders and bureaucrats of China have actively attended initiated promoted or made skilful use of regional multilateral political economic and security institutions to accelerate regional cooperation and integration with neighboring states convince Asian states that China's rise will not threaten the regional order and their national interests and exploit its role and diplomacy in the Asia Pacific as a launch pad for greater influence in world affairs This book examines why and to what extent China wishes to promote accelerate delay or overcome constraints to the institutionalization of these regional organizations It explores the meaning scope and repercussion in the drive that a rising China has for institutionalizing multilateral cooperative processes in the Asia Pacific region the extent to which its actions are motivated by concerns of politics economics or security and the obstacles it faces for so doing These arrangements have varying effect on the diplomatic postures economic development and strategic orientation of countries in Asia and the Western Pacific and hence the stability and prosperity of the entire region

China's Multilateral Cooperation in Asia and the Pacific will be of interest to those studying the politics and international relations of China and the Asia Pacific region Regionalism in East Asia Richard Pomfret, 2011 The use of the wind as an energy source is increasing and growing worldwide Wind energy is an important non fossil option to supplement fossil coal natural gas and oil and nuclear fuels for the generation of electricity Many parts of the world particularly the coastlines of Western Europe North Africa North and South America India Eastern Russia China the Philippines Australia and New Zealand experience a high annual incidence of wind energy The United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland together with the Republic of Ireland form a particularly windy location being favoured with strong westerly winds The technology of the design and installation of wind turbines and wind farms are in fact well established Operational practice though is still being developed as engineers learn by experience This book is written for electrical engineers concerned with the use of wind power for generating electricity It incorporates some meteorological features of international wind supply plus a survey of the past and present wind turbines with technical assessment of the choice of turbine sites Detailed coverage is given to the different types of electrical generator machines used and the electronic control devices employed in modern turbine systems Importantly this book devotes full chapters to the integration of wind farms into established electrical grid supply systems and the environmental and economic aspects of wind generation Engineers will be drawn to the practical approach in this book featuring worked numerical examples complete with answers at the end of some chapters

Regional Cooperation and Resilience in East Asia Sebastian Bobowski, 2024-05-01 This book argues that a resilient region should act reactively and proactively in the face of shocks and disruptions and asserts that the institutionalization of regional cooperation may be the answer to development challenges in times of uncertainty and instability It considers regional transregional and subregional cooperation initiatives for building regional resilience and critically examines a broad spectrum of issues such as international security and trade economic development value chains in production and social welfare Adopting the concept of resilience allows for a holistic dynamic and systematic approach to the studies on the regional process of institutionalization responsiveness and adaptability to challenging circumstances The economic and social indicators of the countries in the region are examined alongside an analysis of the regional institutional architecture The reader is acquainted with the essence of resilience concerning each category of challenges and the mechanisms of its achievement and strengthening through regional integration The interdisciplinary character of the book makes it suitable for usage not only by economists but also by lawyers As such the book will be helpful to scholars and students of international economics international security and policymakers The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license This project has been funded by Wroclaw University of Economics and Business WUEB Poland and SGH Warsaw School of Economics Poland International Relations of Asia David Shambaugh, Michael Yahuda, 2008-09-05 A second edition of this

Multilateral Asian Security Architecture See Seng Tan, 2015-07-16 This book provides a comparative assessment of the material and ideational contributions of five countries to the regional architecture of post Cold War Asia In contrast to the usual emphasis placed on the role and centrality of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN in Asia's multilateral architecture and its component institutions this book argues that the four non ASEAN countries of interest here 3 4 Australia Japan China and the United States 3 4 and Indonesia have played and continue to play an influential part in determining the shape and substance of Asian multilateralism from its pre inception to the present The work does not contend that existing scholarship overstates ASEAN's significance to the successes and failures of Asia's multilateral enterprise Rather it claims that the impact of non ASEAN stakeholders in innovating multilateral architecture in Asia has been understated Whether ASEAN has fared well or poorly as a custodian of Asia's regional architecture the fact remains that the countries considered here notwithstanding their present discontent over the state of that architecture are key to understanding the evolution of Asian multilateralism This book will be of much interest to students of Asian politics international organisations security studies and IR more generally

Transition, Regional Development and Globalization Ken Morita, Yun Chen, 2010 Pt I Analysis of transition 1 An analysis of determinants of regional disparities in China 2 A comparative analysis between postwar Japanese economic reforms and polish economic reforms in the 1990s 3 Key industries and development of industrial policies in Shanghai since the 1990s pt II International relations 4 Japanese foreign direct investments in central European transition economies 5 Development strategies and income disparities in China comparisons with central Europe 6 Consequences and trends of Japanese FDI in China and central Europe pt III Regional development and globalization 7 The economic development and regional disparity of the Yangtze River Delta 8 A political economy of East Asian authoritarian development system 9 Regional integration and path dependence on the relations among Europe the USA and East Asia Japan's ASEAN Policy Sueo Sudo, 2016-05-13 The central puzzle in the study of Japanese foreign policy has been why Japan has continued to play a passive role in international affairs despite its impressive economic and political power Challenging this central puzzle the core argument of this study is to present an alternative path for the study of Japanese foreign policy In fact in recent years Japanese foreign policy has become less dependent on the United States more strategic towards Asia and more energetic towards international and regional institutions One of the main features is multilateralism in Japanese foreign policy as shown by Japan's active participation in the regional institutions In pursuing multilateralism Japan cooperated closely with the only durable regional body in Southeast Asia to wit the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN Given the fact that East Asian regionalism has been driven by ASEAN it is of utmost urgency to investigate the emerging partnership between Japan and ASEAN The central thesis of this study is thus to put Japan's ASEAN policy into a proper perspective by asserting that Japan's new policy initiatives towards ASEAN are not reactive nor are they exceptions in a broader framework of merely reactive foreign policy

Globalization Meshack M. Sagini, 2014-11-21 Globalization The Paradox of Organizational Behavior is an excellent resource for undergraduate and graduate students professors policy makers and the intelligentsia worldwide Sagini explores the text's major themes using historical materialistic and imperialistic factors The globalization movement is shaped by economic political technological and cultural forces that transform human collectivities Instability and related concomitant issues such as disease energy security and terrorism challenge the reconstructive role of internal and external factors in foreign policy decision making The implications of the global forces on the divided world of gated communities urban and village ghettos national borders and cultural decay could be far reaching if leaders fail to redesign and implement effective governance models
