One of the most stressful aspects of the college application process is the essay. Most students worry about what an admissions officer looks for in a writing sample. But that's the wrong way to approach this vital component, says former Ivy League college admissions officer Harry Bauld. At Brown and Columbia he saw what prospective students often did wrong and now tells you how to do it right. In this fully revised and updated edition of the classic guide to writing the best essay of your life, Bauld has written an insider's guide to writing an essay that will stand out from the pack. He advises you on how to find your authentic voice, gives you tools and ideas that will spark your imagination, and shows you how to approach themes with originality and panache to make even the most tired topics fresh. He'll tell you straight out what admissions officers aren't looking for, another platitudinous variation on one of the following themes if you see your initial idea reflected in this list, think again: The trip I had to adjust to a whole new way of life, My favorite things, puppy dogs, freedom, and chocolate chip cookies, The pageant contestant I think, World Peace is the most important issue facing us today, The jock, Through wrestling I have learned to set goals and to work with people, The autobiography, Hello my name is, Tales of my success. But finally, when I crossed the finish line, Pet death. As I watched Buttons's life ebb away, I came to value. Getting into the college of your dreams is tough. The competition is fierce. For more than twenty-five years, On Writing the College Application Essay has helped thousands of students improve their chances. Now let it work for you. The Complete Guide to Writing Effective

College Applications & Essays Kathy Hahn, 2016-11-30 Applying to college can be one of the most stressful times in a student's life. Not only are you faced with the task of finding the perfect school for you, but you also have to find scholarships to be able to go to the school you want.
