Writing The War Chronicles Of A World War II Correspondent:

Writing the War Anne Kiley, Thomas Pellechia, David Kiley, 2015-10-13 As expansive as it is personal this chronicle of World War II is a firsthand account by a journalist and the woman he would marry of the dramatic events that engulfed the world in the middle of the twentieth century The correspondence between Charles Kiley and Billee Gray also tells the poignant tale of two young people in love but forced apart by the circumstances of war Edited by Charles and Billee s daughter son and son in law this never before published compilation of letters is a striking example of the heroic call to duty spirit that characterized the greatest generation Charles was a soldier journalist for the U S Army s Stars and Stripes newspaper and reported on the war from London Normandy Paris Reims Belgium and Germany As the sole reporter allowed direct access to Eisenhower s staff he was the only reporter on the scene when the German high command was negotiating its unconditional surrender on May 7 1945 Among his army newspaper friends and colleagues was Andy Rooney later CBS correspondent and 60 Minutes commentator Billee like many young women of her time witnessed the war years from the home front and filled vital civilian roles defense industry plant worker Red Cross volunteer war bonds salesgirl and civil defense plane spotter and wrote about it all in her letters to Charles Peppered with fascinating details about soldiers and civilians lives and including Stars and Stripes articles and personal photographs of the era Writing the War is both important history and a tribute to two remarkable people as well as their extraordinary generation

Patton's War Kevin M. Hymel, 2023-04-07 Winner of the 2023 Army Historical Foundation Distinguished Writing Award for Biography This second of three volumes of Patton s War picks up where the first one left off examining General George S Patton s leadership of the U S Third Army The book follows Patton s contributions to both the Normandy and Brittany campaigns the closing of the Falaise Pocket in Normandy and racing to the port cities in Brittany It ends with Patton and his corps rescuing the besieged town of Bastogne in the Battle of the Bulge As he did in the preceding volume Hymel relies not only on Patton s diaries and letters but countless veteran interviews surveys and memoirs He also provides a unique insight missed by previous Patton scholars Instead of using Patton s transcribed diaries which were heavily edited and embellished he consults Patton s original handwritten diaries to uncover previously unknown information about the general This second volume of Hymel s groundbreaking work shows Patton at the height of his generalship successfully leading his army without the mistakes and caustic behavior that almost got him sent home earlier even if we also see a Patton still guided at times by racism and antisemitism

Sand and Steel Peter Caddick-Adams, 2019-04-22 Part of a trilogy covering the last year of fighting in the European theater of World War II and in time for the 75th anniversary of D Day Sand and Steel gives us the full story of the Allied invasion of France

China's War Reporters Parks M. Coble, 2015-03-09 When Japan invaded China in 1937 Chinese journalists greeted the news with euphoria convinced their countrymen led by Chiang Kai shek would triumph Parks Coble shows that correspondents underplayed China s defeats for fear of undercutting morale and then saw their writings disappear and themselves denounced after the Communists came to power

Boggs,2022-12-13 When talking pictures first appeared in cinema theaters in the late 1920s films about newspaper journalists quickly became a Hollywood mainstay These were a variety of responses from working reporters editors and photographers The newspaper film was a popular genre in the 1950s and famous films such as All the President s Men 1976 and Spotlight 2015 have depicted the power of the press Journalists have also been portrayed in films that are not specifically about newspapers appearing in noir films like Woman on the Run 1950 Westerns such as Fort Worth 1951 comedies like The Ghost and Mr Chicken 1966 musicals like Wake Up and Live 1937 and historical epics like Lawrence of Arabia 1962 A film historian and former newspaper writer the author investigates how accurately films have portrayed journalists across the decades The book also details what journalists thought of the depictions at the time contributing to brief histories and analyses for each film Featured journalist archetypes include airy reporters screaming editors photographers sportswriters and war journalists Classics misfires Westerns obscure treasures and films the press both adored and detested are all included in this comprehensive here

An Unladylike Profession Chris Dubbs,2020-07-01 When World War I began war reporting was a thoroughly masculine bastion of journalism But that did not stop dozens of women reporters from stepping into the breach defying gender norms and official restrictions to establish roles for themselves and to write new kinds of narratives about women and war Chris Dubbs tells the fascinating stories of Edith Wharton Nellie Bly and more than thirty other American women who worked as war reporters As Dubbs shows stories by these journalists brought in women from the periphery of war and made them active participants fully engaged and equally heroic if bearing different burdens and making different sacrifices Women journalists traveled from belligerent capitals to the front lines to report on the conflict But their experiences also brought them into contact with social transformations political unrest labor conditions campaigns for women s rights and the rise of revolutionary socialism An eye opening look at women s war reporting An Unladylike Profession is a portrait of a sisterhood from the guns of August to the corridors of Versailles Purchase the audio edition

A New History of War Reporting Kevin Williams,2019-12-23 This book takes a fresh look at the history of war reporting to understand how new technology new ways of waging war and new media conditions are changing the role and work of today s war correspondent Focussing on the mechanics of war reporting and the logistical and institutional pressures on correspondents the book further examines the role of war propaganda accreditation and news management in shaping the evolution of the specialism Previously neglected conflicts and correspondents are reclaimed and wars considered as key moments in the history of war reporting such as the Crimean War 1854 56 and the Great War 1914 18 are re evaluated The use of objectivity as the yardstick by which to assess the performance of war correspondents is questioned The emphasis is instead placed on war as a messy business which confronts reporters and photographers with conditions that challenge the norms of professional practice References to the demise of the war correspondent have accompanied the growth of the specialism since the days of William Howard Russell the so called father of war reporting This highlights the fragile nature of this sub genre of journalism and emphasises that continuity as much as change characterises the work of the war correspondent A thematically organised historically rich introduction this book is ideal for students of journalism media and communication
