

PRACTICE EOC NARRATIVE ESSAY

Extended/Constructed Response: 4 points

Imagine you are a journalist assigned to write a feature on Jay Gatsby after his death. As you interview people who knew him—his guests, neighbors, employees, and even Nick Carraway—you piece together fragments of Gatsby's life. But the more you learn, the more you realize how elusive the truth about him is.

For this narrative, write a first-person piece as a journalist, capturing your impressions of the people you meet and the conflicting stories they tell. How does your perspective on Gatsby evolve as you uncover more about his rise to wealth, his mysterious past, and his tragic end? Use a tone that blends curiosity and skepticism, and explore how the legend of Gatsby contrasts with the man himself.

Written Narrative Intervention The Great Gatsby:

The Great Gatsby meets Alain Badiou Ursula Vooght, 2023-12-21 The subject of this book is a consideration of the usefulness of the concept of fidelity put forward by the philosopher Alain Badiou in the discussion of film adaptation Fidelity or faithfulness is primarily a consideration that emerges in relation to so called canonical texts in adaptation Fitzgerald's The Great Gatsby occupies a position of global recognisability and within the United States cultural mythology that has triggered strong reactions to the four Hollywood adaptations The various adaptations allow for the differing approaches to the adaptation of this novel to be meaningfully explored The film adaptations paratextual elements will be discussed in order to show how these acted as limiting lenses The strategies of the films for handling elements of Fitzgerald's prose and themes will be compared across the adaptations This will culminate in an assertion of the worth of a larger application of a Badiouian fidelity within the field

The Black Pacific Narrative Etsuko Taketani, 2014-11-04 The Black Pacific Narrative Geographic Imaginings of Race and Empire between the World Wars chronicles the profound shift in geographic imaginings that occurred in African American culture as the United States evolved into a bioceanic global power The author examines the narrative of the black Pacific _the literary and cultural production of African American narratives in the face of America's efforts to internationalize the Pacific and to institute a

Pacific Community reflecting a vision of a hemispheric regional order initiated and led by the United States The black Pacific was imagined in counterpoint to this regional order in the making which would ultimately be challenged by the Pacific War The principal subjects of study include such literary and cultural figures as James Weldon Johnson George S Schuyler artists of the black Federal Theatre Project Langston Hughes W E B Du Bois and Walter White all of whom afford significant points of entry to a critical understanding of the stakes of the black Pacific narrative Adopting an approach that mixes the archival and the interpretive the author seeks to recover the black Pacific produced by African American narratives narratives that were significant enough in their time to warrant surveillance and suspicion and hence are significant enough in our time to warrant scholarly attention and reappraisal A compelling study that will appeal to a broad international audience of students and scholars of American studies African American studies American literature and imperialism and colonialism Making History New Seamus O'Malley, 2014-10-24 Guided by Ezra Pound's dictum Make it new a generation of writers set out to create fiction and poetry that was unlike anything that came before it However as Seamus O Malley shows historical narrative was a key site for modernist experimentation Taking three of literary modernism's major figures Joseph Conrad Ford Madox Ford and Rebecca West Making History New demonstrates how the movement's literature not only engaged with history but also transformed traditional approaches to its telling in unique ways Informed by Paul Ricoeur's belief that narrative is necessary to comprehend historical processes the study closely examines four major modernist historical novels Conrad's Nostromo interrogates the very term history as it relates the political tumult of a fictitious Latin American country while Ford's The Good Soldier mirrors the cyclical nature of historiography with a protagonist who returns repeatedly to intense periods of his own past to better comprehend them Two epochal World War I novels The Return of the Soldier and Parade's End depict shell shocked veterans that illustrate the paradox of an accurate historical rendering achieved through the process of amnesia These novels in O Malley's view lead to the high point of what he terms modernist historiography Rebecca West's innovative 1941 travelogue Black Lamb and Grey Falcon and its preoccupation with history's impossibility The monograph concludes with a brief consideration of how historians since World War II have adopted some of the approaches to narrative inaugurated by literary modernists while wrestling with how to relate unthinkable atrocities such as genocide Ultimately Making History New foregrounds narrative's essential role as a bridge between fiction and history as it explores the process by which collective human experience becomes historical narrative *The Bodley Head Scott Fitzgerald: The great Gatsby. Limon,1994-07-07 In Writing After War John Limon develops a theory of the relationship of war in general to literature in general in order to make sense of American literary history in particular Applying the work of war theorists Carl von Clausewitz and Elaine Scarry John Limon argues that The Iliad inaugurates Western literature on the failure of war to be duel like to have a beautiful form War s failure is literature s justification American literary history is demarcated by wars as if literary epochs like the history of literature itself required bloodshed to commence But in chapters on periods of literary history from realism generally taken to be a product of the Civil War through modernism usually assumed to be a prediction or result of the Great War up to postmodernism which followed World War II and spanned Vietnam Limon argues that despite the looming presence of war in American history the techniques that define these periods are essentially ways of not writing war From James and Twain through Fitzgerald Faulkner and even Hemingway to Pynchon our national literary history is not hopelessly masculinist Limon argues Instead it arrives naturally at Bobbie Ann Mason and Maxine Hong Kingston Kingston brings the discussion full circle The Woman Warrior like The Iliad appears to condemn the fall from duel to war that is literature s endless opening A Class of Its Own Laura Hapke,Lisa A. Kirby,2009-01-14

A Class of Its Own positions important and rediscovered American social protest authors within both a scholarly and student centered context The volume draws on the expertise and pedagogy of established and younger scholars who move gracefully from theories of what makes a text working class to how studies of class empower college teachers and courses Among the authors discussed in the volume s essays and prominent in the book s syllabi section are Zora Neale Hurston Stephen Crane Agnes Smedley and Ana Castillo Resources in Education ,1993-04 A/AS Level English Language and Literature for AQA Student Book

Avery,Sascha Morrell,2025-12-02 This book revisits women s literature in 1922 long hailed as the miracle year of literary modernism a landmark year of avant garde innovations in publications that included James Joyce s Ulysses T S Eliot s The Waste Land and Ezra Pound s The Cantos Yet if 1922 has been considered a modernist annus mirabilis it was many things besides In 1922 or thereabouts according to Willa Cather the literary world broke in two sequestering traditional writers from those considered modern Many women writers produced work that year across a spectrum of genres forms and politics that would not be accepted into Hugh Kenner's modernist canon. Nor however did they readily fit into Cather's categories in some cases rupturing and in other cases affirming a consensus of modernism as a masculinist culturally imperialist interwar enterprise. Considering 1922's historical significance the essays in this collection seek greater inclusion of women in our memory of this year including writers from a range of global and regional contexts and cultural backgrounds. Extending other attempts to examine the gender politics of modernism, modernity over the past thirty years, the project draws connections between the significance of 1922 as it has been understood in the new modernist studies and feminist literary criticism that utilizes single year approaches to revisit and reflect on women's history and the gender politics of modernism. Literary

Hones examines concepts such as narrative space, literary and academic collaboration, and the geographies of creation, production, and reception. Everything is an Afterthought Kevin Avery, 2011-11-21 What happened to Paul Nelson? In the 60s he pioneered rock but when Dylan went electric in 1965 Nelson went with him. During a five year detour at Mercury Records in the early 1970s Nelson signed the New York Dolls to their first recording contract then settled back down to writing criticism at Rolling Stone as the last in a great tradition of record review editors that included Jon Landau, Dave Marsh, and Greil Marcus. Famously championing the early careers of artists like Bruce Springsteen, Jackson Browne, Rod Stewart, Neil Young, and Warren Zevon, Nelson not only wrote about them but often befriended them. Never one to be pigeonholed, he was also one of punk rock's first stateside mainstream proponents, embracing the Sex Pistols and the Ramones. But in 1982 he walked away from it all. Rolling Stone, his friends, and rock roll. By the time he died in his New York City apartment in 2006 at the age of seventy, a week passing before anybody discovered his body, almost everything he'd written had been relegated to back issues of old music magazines. How could a man whose writing had been so highly regarded have fallen so quickly from our collective memory? With Paul Nelson's posthumous blessing, Kevin Avery spent four years researching and writing Everything Is an Afterthought: The Life and Writing of Paul Nelson. This unique anthology biography compiles Nelson's best works, some of it previously unpublished, while also providing a vivid account of his private and public lives. Avery interviewed almost 100 of Paul Nelson's friends, family, and colleagues, including several of the artists about whom he'd written. The Complete

Written Narrative Intervention The Great Gatsby: Bestsellers in 2023 The year 2023 has witnessed a noteworthy surge in literary brilliance, with numerous captivating novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of bestselling books, exploring the captivating narratives that have charmed audiences this year. Written Narrative Intervention The Great Gatsby : Colleen Hoover "It Ends with Us" This touching tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover skillfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can prevail. Written Narrative Intervention The Great Gatsby : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This intriguing historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids absorbing storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Written Narrative Intervention The Great Gatsby : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This mesmerizing coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens weaves a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These popular novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of captivating stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a exceptional and suspenseful novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
