The Sociology Of Southeast Asia Transformations In A Developing Region:

The Sociology of Southeast Asia Victor T. King, 2008 One of the main problems faced by teachers and students who have a scholarly interest in Southeast Asia is the lack of general user friendly texts in the social sciences The absence of an introduction to the sociology of Southeast Asia is especially unfortunate This volume attempts to meet these needs This is then the first sole authored introductory sociology text on Southeast Asia that focuses on change and development in the region provides an overview of the important sociological and political economy writings and considers the key concepts and themes in the field since 1945 Some multiauthored works do exist but these either are outdated or focus on specialized topics Aimed primarily at undergraduates up to the final year it will also be a useful reference work for post graduates and researchers who lack such a general work

Sociology of South-East Asia Victor T. King, 2006 Borneo Studies in History, Society and Culture Victor T. King, Zawawi Ibrahim, Noor Hasharina Hassan, 2016-08-12 This edited book is the first major review of what has been achieved in Borneo Studies to date Chapters in this book situate research on Borneo within the general disciplinary fields of the social sciences with the weight of attention devoted to anthropological research and related fields such as development studies gender studies environmental studies social policy studies and cultural studies Some of the chapters in this book are extended versions of presentations at the Borneo Research Council's international conference hosted by Universiti Brunei Darussalam in June 2012 and a Borneo Studies workshop organised in Brunei in 2012 The volume examines some of the major debates and controversies in Borneo Studies including those which have served to connect post war research on Borneo to wider scholarship It also assesses some of the more recent contributions and interests of locally based researchers in universities and other institutions in Borneo itself The major strength of the book is the inclusion of a substantial amount of research undertaken by scholars working and teaching within the Southeast Asian region In particular there is an examination of research materials published in the vernacular notably the outpouring of work published in Indonesian by the Institut Dayakologi in Pontianak In doing so the book also addresses the urgent matters which have not received the attention they deserve specifically subjects themes and issues that have already been covered but require further contemplation elaboration and research and the scope for disciplinary and multidisciplinary collaboration in Borneo Studies The book is a valuable resource and reference work for students and researchers interested in social science scholarship on Borneo and for those with wider interests in Indonesia and Malaysia and in the Southeast Asian region

Area Studies at the Crossroads Katja Mielke, Anna-Katharina Hornidge, 2017-02-28 In this pioneering volume leading scholars from a diversity of backgrounds in the humanities social sciences and different area studies argue for a more differentiated and self reflected role of area based science in global knowledge production Considering that the mobility of people goods and ideas make the world more complex and geographically fixed categories increasingly obsolete the authors call for a reflection of this new dynamism in research teaching and theorizing The book thus moves beyond the constructed divide between area studies and systematic disciplines and instead proposes methodological and conceptual ways for encouraging the integration of marginalized and often overseen epistemologies Essays on the ontological theoretical and pedagogical dimension of area studies highlight how people s everyday practices of mobility challenge scholars students and practitioners of inter and transdisciplinary area studies to transcend the cognitive boundaries that scholarly minds currently operate in Development Patterns and Socioeconomic Transformation in Peri-urban Area Wisnu Pradoto,2012

Migration, Agrarian Transition, and Rural Change in Southeast Asia Philip F. Kelly,2013-10-18 Rural life in Southeast Asia is being transformed by new and intensifying processes of migration and mobility Migration out of rural areas creates new forms of class mobility familial relations production processes and income Migration into rural areas creates a new and sometimes marginalized workforce contestation over resource access and the juxtaposition of culturally different groups At the same time everyday mobility stretches the spatial boundaries of village and family life The bounded space of the village is no longer adequate to understand the dynamics that are driving and resulting from rural social change This collection of original studies explores the cultural economic and environmental dimensions of intensifying migration and mobility in rural Southeast Asia at multiple scales Diverse processes are explored including rural urban flows rural rural movement everyday mobilities and international migrations into regional and global labour markets Drawing on fieldwork in six countries across the region these essays also explore what migration means for our understanding of class citizenship gender and the state in a rapidly changing part of the world This book was based on two parts of a special issue of Critical Asian Studies Cultural Sociology of the Middle East, Asia, and Africa Andrea L. Stanton,Edward Ramsamy,Peter J. Seybolt,Carolyn M.

Elliott,2012-01-05 In our age of globalization and multiculturalism it has never been more important for Americans to understand and appreciate foreign cultures and how people live love and learn in areas of the world unfamiliar to most U S students and the general public The four volumes in our cultural sociology reference encyclopedia take a step forward in this endeavor by presenting concise information on those regions likely to be most foreign to U S students the Middle East Asia and Africa The intent is to convey what daily life is like for people in these selected regions It is hoped entries within these volumes will aid readers in efforts to understand the importance of cultural sociology to appreciate the effects of cultural forces around the world and to learn the history of countries and cultures within these important regions Borneo and Sulawesi Ooi Keat Gin,2019-11-28 This book presents a great deal of new research findings on the history of Borneo the history of Sulawesi and the interrelationship between the two islands Some specific chapters focus on empires and colonizers including the activities of James Brooke in Sulawesi of Chinese mining communities in Borneo and of the quisling issue in immediate post war Sarawak Other chapters consider indigenous peoples and how different regimes have handled them The book is published in honour of Victor T King a leading scholar in the field of Southeast Asian studies and a final chapter discusses his contribution to scholarship in particular his views on how area studies should be approached and the implications of this for future research Decentring and Diversifying Southeast Asian Studies Goh Beng Lan, 2011

This admirable book contains fascinating autobiographical accounts by some of Southeast Asia's most eminent scholars concerning their struggle to find their own voices in interpreting the region to which they belong. The book should be indispensable to anyone interested in thinking about knowledge production and its politics in a postcolonial world. In the views of these scholarly Southeast Asians we are made to see in very personal terms the link between the global crisis in the social sciences and the need to find remedies for it that are neither Eurocentric nor parochially anti-Western. Professor Alexander Woodside, Professor of Chinese and Southeast Asian History, University of British Columbia, Vancouver, Canada. This book marks the shift of the centre of Southeast Asian Studies from the West to Southeast Asia. The insights provided by the authors are not simply explanations of colonial and postcolonial experiences of major Southeast Asian scholars. Rather, the book provides a unique set of intellectual genealogies that show that distinctions between humanities and social sciences are less important than the development of distinctive local and regional traditions and practices of scholarship. Goh Beng Lan's introduction frames the collection through her subtle deconstruction of international discourses on Southeast Asia. This introduction then allows the reader to view the different generations of Southeast Asian scholars in their social, political, and academic contexts. The end result is a combined view of the state of the art of Southeast Asian Studies, a view that is greater than the sum of its national parts. Professor Adrian Vickers, Chair of Southeast Asian Studies, University of Sydney and Director, Australian Centre for Asian Art and Archaeology. The collection represents a coming of age of scholars from Southeast Asia. What we hear is not bluster that comes from a wounded pride or doctrinal certainties but a quiet confidence that acknowledges the multiple currents in which their scholarship has been formed and a willingness to engage the perspective of the other, both within and without. The reflexivity in this volume sets the stage for scholars from the region to develop perspectives and concepts to address the challenges of the new configuration of the Asia being ushered in by ASEAN. Professor Prasenjit Duara, Raffles Professor of Humanities and Director of Research, Humanities and Social Sciences, National University of Singapore.

Historical Developments and Theoretical Approaches in Sociology - Volume I Charles Crothers, 2010-11-30

Historical Developments and Theoretical Approaches in Sociology in two volumes is a component of the Encyclopedia of Social Sciences and Humanities in the global Encyclopedia of Life Support Systems (EOLSS), which is an integrated compendium of twenty Encyclopedias. Sociology is one of several social science disciplines and smaller bodies of knowledge which seek to understand the patterns in social life. There is a broad congruence between the objective configurations of social life and the components of the disciplines studying them; the body of sociological knowledge is socially constructed and the pathways to its gaining of knowledge influenced by a variety of factors. Moreover, since social life is ever changing, sociology often has to scramble to catch up with the changing social world. This work is built up around four broad topics: the first providing important shared contextual material and then followed by three broad levels of social analysis with each of these four parts containing a number of chapters with more specific and in depth information The theme essay provides a general introduction and overview of the theme as a whole In total the work holds 40 contributions written by a selection of many international renowned specialists from 12 countries It was important to obtain a wide range of viewpoints giving the ways in which social issues arise quite differently in a range of countries These two volumes are aimed at the following five major target audiences University and College Students Educators Professional Practitioners Research Personnel and Policy Analysts Managers and Decision Makers NGOs and GOs

Contested Citizenship in East Asia Kyung-Sup Chang, Bryan Turner, 2012-03-22 Theories of citizenship from the West pre eminently those by T H Marshall provide only a limited insight into East Asian political history The Marshallian trajectory juridical political and social rights was not repeated in Asia and the late nineteenth century debate about liberalism and citizenship among intellectuals in Japan and China was eventually stifled by war colonialism and authoritarian governments both nationalist and communist Subsequent attempts to import western style democratic values and citizenship were to a large extent failures Social rights have rarely been systematically incorporated into the political ideology and administrative framework of ruling governments In reality the predominant concern of both the state elite and the ordinary citizens was economic development and a modicum of material well being rather than civil liberties The developmental state and its politics take precedence in the everyday political process of most East Asian societies These essays provide a systematic and comparative account of the tensions between rapid economic growth and citizenship and the ways in which those tensions are played out in civil society
