The Return of Sacred Architecture Herbert Bangs, 2006-11-14 An inspirational call for a return to the tenets of traditional architecture as a remedy for the dehumanizing standards of modern architecture Explains how modern architecture is emblematic of our current estrangement from the spiritual principles that shaped humanity's greatest civilizations Reveals how the ancient laws of sacred proportion and harmony can be restored The ugly buildings that characterize the modern landscape are inferior not only to the great cathedrals of medieval Europe and the temples of ancient Egypt and Greece but even to lesser buildings of the more recent past The great masterworks of our ancestors spoke to humanity's higher nature Architect Herbert Bangs reveals how today's dysfunctional buildings bring out the worst in humanity reinforcing that which is most base within us He shows how through the ancient laws of proportion and number architecture once expressed the harmonious relationship between man and the cosmos In early times the architect worked within a sacred and esoteric tradition of creating structures through which human beings could gain insight into the nature of the divine reality Today that tradition has been abandoned in favor of narrowly defined utilitarian principles of efficiency and economy In The Return of Sacred Architecture Bangs provides the key to freeing architecture from the crude functionality of the twentieth century the architects of the modern human landscape must find the deep felt connection to the cosmos that guided the inner lives of those who built the temples of the past The form of their buildings will then reflect the sacred patterns of geometry and proportion and bring forth greater harmony in the world

Religion and the Order of Nature Seyyed Hossein Nasr, 1996-09-26 The current ecological crisis is a matter of urgent global concern with solutions being sought on many fronts In this book Seyyed Hossein Nasr argues that the devastation of our world has been exacerbated if not actually caused by the reductionist view of nature that has been advanced by modern secular science What is needed he believes is the recovery of the truth to which the great enduring religions all attest namely that nature is sacred Nasr traces the historical process through which Western civilization moved away from the idea of nature as sacred and embraced a world view which sees humans as alienated from nature and nature itself as a machine to be dominated and manipulated by humans His goal is to negate the totalitarian claims of modern science and to re-open the way to the religious view of the order of nature developed over centuries in the cosmologies and sacred sciences of the great traditions Each tradition Nasr shows has a wealth of knowledge and experience concerning the order of nature The resuscitation of this knowledge he argues would allow religions all over the globe to enrich each other and cooperate to heal the wounds inflicted upon the Earth
