Chinese Merger Control Law Tingting Weinreich-Zhao, 2014-11-19 On 1 August 2008 the Chinese Anti Monopoly Law entered into force introducing a comprehensive framework for competition law to the Chinese market One set of the new rules pertains to merger control China's Ministry of Commerce MOFCOM was nominated as the authority responsible for enforcing merger control in China and has been actively doing so ever since Recent years have established China as one of the most important merger filing jurisdictions for cross border mergers alongside the EU and USA This work evaluates the Chinese merger control law regime and MOFCOM's decision making practice after more than five years of application In particular it assesses which policy goals competition policy goals or industrial policy considerations prevail in the written law and its application and provides suggestions for a further improvement of the law with the aim to develop a transparent merger control regime that promotes long term economic growth in China A View From The Foothills Chris Mullin, 2010-10-01 It is said that failed politicians make the best diarists In which case I am in with a chance Chris Mullin Chris Mullin has been a Labour MP for twenty years and despite his refusal to toe the party line on issues like 90 days detention for example he has held several prominent posts To the apoplexy of the whips he was for a time the only person appointed to government who voted against the Iraq War He also chaired the Home Affairs Select Committee and was a member of the Parliamentary Committee giving him direct access to the court of Tony Blair Irreverent wry and candid Mullin's keen sense of the ridiculous allows him to give a far clearer insight into the workings of Government than other more overtly successful politicians He offers humorous and incisive takes on all aspects of political life from the build up to Iraq to the scandalous sums of tax payers money spent on ministerial cars he didn't want to use His critically acclaimed diary will entertain and amuse far beyond the political classes Technical Abstract Bulletin, Between Imitation and Innovation Robert Boyer, Elsie Charron, Ulrich Jurgens, Steven Tolliday, 1998-11-19 Recent years have seen intense debates among management and academics on the rise of lean production and Japanization Some authors have stressed the universal impact of new forms of work organization and best practice while others have questioned the limits of convergence stressed the weight of national contexts or societal effects or highlighted the evolutionary effects of unpredictability in the external environment The international automobile industry has been a focus for much of this debate and this book written by a team of leading international researchers in the field uses this industry to examine in detail the actual practice of the transfer and adaptation of productive models and the trajectories of innovation compromise and failure that can result Case studies cover in detail the Japanese transplant experience in North America and the global experience of hybrid production systems in Europe Latin America and Asia The book contributes to theoretical discussions about the transfer adaptation or convergence of productive models In particular the authors argue that direct transplantation or imitation of these models is rarely feasible or even desirable Systems cannot be transferred without being significantly reshaped Instead the book focuses on the process of hybridization the complex interaction of productive models with national and societal effects Hybridization it is argued is inevitable But this should be seen not simply as a process of compromise and retreat but also as an important dynamic of innovation and learning This book is from the French based international research network GERPISA Groupe d'étude de recherche permanent sur l'industrie et les salaires de l'automobile See related titles below Judicially Crafted Property Rights in Valuable Intangibles Apostolos G.
