Cole,2018-03-13     No Such Thing as Society Andy McSmith,2010-09-16 The 1980s was the revolutionary decade of the twentieth century To look back in 1990 at the Britain of ten years earlier was to look into another country The changes were not superficial like the revolution in fashion and music that enlivened the 1960s nor were they quite as unsettling and joyless as the troubles of the 1970s And yet they were irreversible By the end of the decade society as a whole was wealthier money was easier to borrow there was less social upheaval less uncertainty about the future Perhaps the greatest transformation of the decade was that by 1990 the British lived in a new ideological universe where the defining conflict of the twentieth century between capitalism and socialism was over Thatcherism took the politics out of politics and created vast differences between rich and poor but no expectation that the existence of such gross inequalities was a problem that society or government could solve because as Mrs Thatcher said There is no such thing as society people must look to themselves first From the Falklands war and the miners strike to Bobby Sands and the Guildford Four from Diana and the New Romantics to Live Aid and the big bang from the Rubik s cube to the ZX Spectrum McSmith s brilliant narrative account uncovers the truth behind the decade that changed Britain forever     Live! Robert Elms,2023-10-19 ABC as perfect as anything I ve ever witnessed up until that point in my tiny little life Three minutes of divine delirium In 1972 when Robert Elms was thirteen years old he saw the Jackson 5 play live at the Empire Pool At some point during the performance he found himself in a state of otherworldly perfect synchronicity with everything happening around him This single event would set him off on an endless pursuit for that same height of pleasure Since then Robert has lived his life through live music from pub rock to jazz funk punk to country and everything in between Each gig is memorable in its own way and his snapshots of musicians past and present are both evocative and startlingly concise Tom Waits showboating with an umbrella Grace Jones voguing with a mannequin Amy shimmying shamelessly like a little girl at a wedding Gil Scott Heron rapping with a conga drum While in our changed times Robert notes that we have found new ways of listening of being part of something special by uniting fans with their favourite performers online there is not nor can there ever be anything quite like the live experience Live Why We Go Out is a memoir and a musing on why experiencing live music really matters     True Style G. London in Cinema Charlotte Brunsdon, 2019-07-25 Charlotte Brunsdon's illuminating study explores the variety of cinematic Londons that appear in films made since 1945 Brunsdon traces the familiar ways that film makers establish that a film is set in London by use of recognisable landmarks and the city's shorthand iconography of red buses and black taxis as well as the ways in which these icons are avoided She looks at London weather fog and rain and everyday locations like the pub and the housing estate while also examining the recurring patterns of representation associated with films set in the East and West Ends of London from Spring in Park Lane 1948 to Mona Lisa 1986 and from Night and the City 1950 to From Hell 2001 Brunsdon provides a detailed analysis of a selection of films exploring their contribution to the cinematic geography of London and showing the ways in which feature films have responded to and created changing views of the city She traces London's transformation from imperial capital to global city through the different ways in which the local is imagined in films ranging from Ealing comedies to Pressure 1974 as well as through the shifting imagery of the River Thames and the Docks She addresses the role of cinematic genres such as horror and film noir in the constitution of the cinematic city as well as the recurrence of figures such as the cockney the gangster and the housewife Challenging the view that London is not a particularly cinematic city Brunsdon demonstrates that many London set films offer their own meditation on the complex relationships between the cinema and the city Images of England Through Popular Music K. Gildart,2013-10-16

Hall,Suzanne M. Hall,2012 How can we learn from a multicultural society if we don t know how to recognise it The contemporary city is more than ever a space for the intense convergence of diverse individuals who shift in and out of its urban terrains The city street is perhaps the most prosaic of the city s public parts allowing us a view of the very ordinary practices of life and livelihoods By attending to the expressions of conviviality and contestation City Street and Citizen offers an alternative notion of multiculturalism away from the ideological frame of nation and away from the moral imperative of community This book offers to the reader an account of the lived realities of allegiance participation and belonging from the base of a multi ethnic street in south London City Street and Citizen focuses on the question of whether local life is significant for how individuals develop skills to live with urban change and cultural and ethnic diversity To animate this question Hall has turned to a city street and its dimensions of regularity and propinquity to explore interactions in the small shop spaces along the Walworth Road The city street constitutes exchange and as such it provides us with a useful space to consider the broader social and political significance of contact in the day to day life of multicultural cities Grounded in an ethnographic approach this book will be of interest to academics and students in the fields of sociology global urbanisation migration and ethnicity as well as being relevant to politicians policy makers urban designers and architects involved in cultural diversity public space and street based economies Quadrophenia and Mod(ern) Culture Pamela

Thurschwell,2017-11-07 This collection explores the centrality of The Who's classic album and Franc Roddam's cult classic film of adolescent life Quadrophenia to the recent cultural history of Britain to British subcultural studies and to a continuing fascination with Mod style and culture The interdisciplinary chapters collected here set the album and film amongst critical contexts including gender and sexuality studies class analysis and the film and album's urban geographies seeing Quadrophenia as a transatlantic phenomenon and as a perennial adolescent story Contributors view Quadrophenia through a variety of lenses including the Who's history and reception the 1970s English political and social landscape the adolescent novel of development the bildungsroman the perception of the film through the eyes of Mods and Mod revivalists 1970s socialist politics punk glam sharp suits scooters and the Brighton train arguing for the continuing richness of Quadrophenia's depiction of the adolescent dilemma The volume includes new interviews with Franc Roddam director of Quadrophenia and the photographer Ethan Russell who took the photos for the album's famous photo booklet The Persuasion Industries

Steven McKeivitt,2018-08-09 At the end of the twentieth century Britain was a consumer society Commerce intoxicating and addictive had almost entirely colonized modern life People were immersed in and ultimately defined by promotional culture The things they consumed had overtaken class religion geography or occupation as the primary form of self identity and self expression For much of the twentieth century all forms of brand communication from political campaigning to product advertising were based on the theory of rational appeals to rational consumers There was only one problem with this theory it was wrong The Persuasion Industries The Making of Modern Britain examines developments in marketing advertising public relations and branding It explores the role they played in the emergence of the consumer society New ideas from fields of behavioural psychology and economics together with internal developments such as planning positioning and corporate branding allowed persuasion to become the driving force within many commercial enterprises Together these changes led to the emergence of an alternative emotional model of brand communication A simple idea that proved so compelling it changed the world we live in Black Popular Music in Britain Since 1945 Jon Stratton,Nabeel Zuberi,2016-04-15 Black Popular Music in Britain Since 1945 provides the first broad scholarly discussion of this music since 1990 The book critically examines key moments in the history of black British popular music from 1940s jazz to 1970s soul and reggae 1990s Jungle and the sounds of Dubstep and Grime that have echoed through the 2000s While the book offers a history it also discusses the ways black musics in Britain have intersected with the politics of race and class multiculturalism gender and sexuality and debates about media and technology Contributors examine the impact of the local the ways that black music in Birmingham Bristol Liverpool Manchester and London evolved differently and how black popular music in Britain has always developed in complex interaction with the dominant British popular music tradition This tradition has its own histories located in folk music music hall and a constant engagement since the nineteenth century with American popular music itself a dynamic mixing of African American Latin American and other musics The ideas that run through various chapters form connecting narratives that challenge dominant understandings of black popular music in Britain and will be essential reading for those interested in Popular Music Studies Black British Studies and Cultural Studies      Focus On: 100 Most Popular English Songwriters Wikipedia contributors,      Fashion Capital: Style Economies, Sites and Cultures Jess Berry, 2020-05-06 Originating from the 2nd Global Fashion Conference hosted by Inter Disciplinary Net in Oxford UK 2010
