From Truth and truth Francis Etheredge, 2016-01-14 We begin philosophising cf Fides et Ratio 3.30 without realising that we are philosophers but in time we discover our own identity as philosophers and at the same time come to critically examine it What therefore is the interrelationship between reason and sense indeed is not sense subtly sensitive through reason Questions then arise out of our life our observations and from what we learn But it is not only about being ready well trained or perfect in our reasoning rather it is about taking up the impulse and the task of seeking the truth On the one hand then we can question everything and end up with nothing but on the other hand there are many points of departure experience maxims and the wisdom which comes through many advisers Prov 15.22 Ideas abound about what might be the case but a philosophical investigation is also about coming into the presence of being Many people have gone before and go with us and will come after us and therefore this book marks a contribution to understanding both the activity of philosophising and the conversation about what is cf Fides et Ratio 44 We discover that to exist is to search through the apparent contradictions in our experience and to find eventually that there are both good foundations and buildings begun and also great unanswered or unsatisfactorily answered questions There is an ongoing work too to establish the mystery of the person implicated in human action Therefore there is both the inveterate call of the subject to be investigated and at the same time the ever present need of the grace of perseverance to pursue it This book is also about the slow discovery of the beautiful but inadequate nature of natural truth The wonder of natural truth is that it exists like the literal sense a kind of foundational reasoning however just as Revelation perfects natural truth so the human person is a living expression of the whole literal and spiritual sense of created being Hence the title of this volume Faithful Reason makes explicit a witness to what is beyond itself

Life, Love, and Sex Joseph H. Casey S.J., 2004-04-12 People are being forced today to take a stand on same sex marriage assisted suicide and capital punishment As they ponder how to vote on these issues a critical question emerges Is this morally right At the same time people have become confused about the morality of sex in general What should they teach their teenagers and how talk with their older sons and daughters about living together Undergirding current sexual practice is the unquestioned acceptance of contraception Should contraception be explicitly examined Besides clarifying each issue I let the reader know what the Church teaches using the Catechism of the Catholic Church and Pope John Paul II's encyclicals And I show how reasonable the Church's position is utilizing the writings of Germain Grisez a distinguished lay moral theologian and philosopher To ensure readers understand Grisez's solutions to these diverse issues I explain in simple terms his ethical approach Non Catholics will find especially significant the human reasoning behind such teachings They and Catholics can dialogue on this level The Pope's early writings on conjugal love may prove impressive People just do not discuss abortion today for positions seem hardened and unbreachable By posing a series of fundamental questions logically interrelated I hope to breach the unbreachable At least it will be clear precisely where participants part company from one another The most sensitive issue I find to be homosexuality I have rewritten the treatment a number of times in an effort to be clear fair and sensitive

A Catechism for Health Care Stephen Napier, John M. Travaline, 2024-06 The Catholic Church's teachings on ethical issues arising in healthcare delivery and biomedical science are distributed across a plethora of different places ranging from papal allocutions encyclicals instructions by the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith and guidance documents authored by various congregations of bishops Furthermore they are distributed throughout time ranging from for example the Didache or teaching of the 12 apostles circa 1st Century to Pope Pius XII's address in 1954 addressing ethical issues in transplantation and onto the 2009 instruction entitled Dignitas personae It is difficult for a wider audience to make sense of these sources on the various issues arising in healthcare delivery and scientific research but the editors of A Catechism for Health Care have collated them in a way that makes them easier to understand The purpose of this book is to present the teachings of the Catholic Church as they pertain to ethical issues arising in the healthcare and biomedical sciences The premise of the project is that the Catholic Church's teaching speaks in an accessible way to a wide range of people concerned about healthcare ethics It is important to present these teachings concisely The book is ordered around numerous questions concerning the most common practices in health care that have ethical dimensions It then provides concise answers to these questions as are found in various magisterial Church documents These answers are refreshingly clear and to the point The New York Times Book Review ,1970 Living the Mystery of Marriage Dr.
