Transforming Education Through The Arts:

Transforming Education through the Arts Brian Caldwell,Tanya Vaughan,2011-11-17 This timely book takes up the challenge of maintaining programs in the arts in the face of unrelenting pressure from two directions the increasing focus on literacy and numeracy in schools teamed with the cut backs in public funding that often affect the arts most severely Drawing on the wealth of evidence already available on the impact of the

Challenge National Arts Education Consortium (U.S.),2001*

Transforming the Curriculum through the Arts NA Gibson,Ewing,Nora Ganim Barnes,Chris Taylor,2011-08-16 Transforming the Curriculum through the Arts offers something to every teacher who is concerned about the lack of creativity and imagination in today s curriculum There is much evidence to suggest that the Arts can make a unique contribution to the lives of young people their learning and their ability to be creative and imaginative thinkers Transforming the Curriculum through the Arts supports this idea by presenting the Arts as being central to children s development and as such provides a much needed framework for arts enriched learning and teaching strategies across the primary and middle years curriculum divBased on current national and international research this book presents a well grounded rationale for embedding the Arts into the curriculum Key learning areas are addressed in meaningful relevant interesting and creative ways Innovative exemplars many written and implemented by practising teachers are clearly demonstrated

Transforming Ideas for Teaching and Learning the Arts Charles L. Gary,1997 This booklet is designed to give teachers some of the latest ideas about how arts principles and concepts can best be understood taught and used in the classroom to improve instruction in the arts and other disciplines Considering the stance of the U S Department of Education the National Assessment of Educational Progress NAEP the Goals 2000 Arts Education Partnership and the Coalition for Education in the Arts and the increasing support from research about the value of the arts the 1990 s seems a time of real opportunity While there are still issues being discussed the state of the art in arts education may soon properly reflect the importance of this aspect of education to civilization The booklet s major ideas organized into one page sections include the following

- 1 make certain all students have daily arts experiences
- 2 the arts offer the opportunity to practice decision making
- 3 students need to know the elements of the various arts and need to develop the vocabularies with which to discuss them
- 4 experiences in the arts provide opportunities for students to learn as much about themselves as they do about the subject matter
- 5 provide students with opportunities to develop a craft while exploring originality and analytical thinking
- 6 lead students to new ways of solving problems through unique challenges in the arts both mental and physical
- 7 employ modern technology to encourage imaginative use of artistic material
- 8 arts specialists are educators who are also skilled in at least one arts discipline
- 9 enriching the experiences of all children as they study literature history geography foreign languages math or science is a gift arts specialists offer the school and
- 10 a major asset of the arts in education is to make schools a more engaging learning environment
