Pathways to Ruin? Erin Gibbs Van Brunschot, Tamara Humphrey, 2022-05-30 Individuals who have committed a number of crimes over their lifetimes have had complex multi faceted life experiences often characterized by extreme disadvantage and victimization Those who are formally designated as high risk by the Canadian criminal justice system often have a record of violent or sexual crimes As a result they are usually subject to additional monitoring in the community after completing a prison sentence Pathways to Ruin disentangles the numerous elements and pathways that lead to high rates of reoffending

by focusing on developmental periods of childhood adolescence and adulthood The book uses a case study approach to consider individuals entire crime pathway by examining the circumstances and factors that contribute to assumptions or official designations of high risk behaviour Erin Gibbs Van Brunschot and Tamara Humphrey overhaul society s popular crime narratives and instead draw on sociological and criminological perspectives to identify historical social and personal contexts that appear to increase the likelihood of reoffending They also consider how negative life experiences may be addressed to circumvent trajectories of serious offending Reducing the social distance that the law abiding public may feel towards marginalized groups Pathways to Ruin details how legal systems could better serve these individuals and acknowledges the many missed opportunities for compassion
