How to Pick a Mate, The Guide to a Happy Marriage Clifford Rose Adams, 2022-04-06 Excerpt As far as we know this is the first time anyone has written a book attempting to put mate selection on a sensible basis despite the fact that sooner or later almost everybody selects one A good many people resent the idea of an outsider telling them how they should pick a mate They think it smacks of meddling Marriage is something sacred and personal It should not be done according to rules We heartily sympathize Unfortunately however marriages are not made in Heaven Usually people marry by hunch or impulse or because their parents think it is a good match or because they get themselves so deeply involved romantically that marrying seems the only proper thing to do Too frequently such methods merely mess up a couple of people's lives More than a third of all the millions of marriages undertaken in the last ten years are in trouble Many are already dissolved Many more soon will be A great deal of research and counseling has now been done in the field of marriage and the findings validated At Penn State for example hundreds of couples who were tested before marriage at the Marriage Counseling Service are checked periodically after marriage to find how they are making out Of all the marriages which the service predicted would be successful not one has yet ended in divorce or separation Most of the people who went ahead despite the clinic s cautions are already in serious trouble or have been divorced As a result of many such investigations reliable information is available on the kinds of people who make the best mates and on the causes of marriage success and failure In this book we have tried to include those findings which should be most helpful and interesting to all people involved in love or marriage but particularly to people who sooner or later will be taking unto themselves a mate It is not our intention to lay down a set of rules for people to follow But we hope that after reading this book you will be more enlightened in your hunches than you might be otherwise and be a much happier and more desirable mate yourself

THE BEST AGE AT WHICH TO MARRY In order to determine the best age at which to marry we must be guided by certain fixed standards We must find out from statistics the average age of the parents of the best babies We must determine and analyse the qualifications of what constitutes the best babies according to the eugenic ideal We should give heed to the fixity of temperamental characteristics in order to determine their adaptability to conditions that prevail at certain ages We should select an age in advance of the period at which science has determined individuals to have outlived any hereditary tendencies We have abundant proof that the best babies are born of parents between the twenty third and the twenty sixth years We know also that the age which responds with the fullest degree of plasticity to temperamental characteristics is in the early twenties We know likewise that inherited tendencies may be said to have been outlived at or about the twenty second year The ideal marrying age therefore is for both male and female approximately the twenty third year The physical mental and moral development of both men and women at this period evidence a high degree of adaptability and are responsive to the institution of marriage Their hereditary traits if any previously existed assume a dormant form at this age They have cultivated the temperamental qualities which they will retain with few modifications throughout life On the other hand their dispositions are responsive to reason and are capable of readjustment Their temperamental characteristics are plastic and under favorable conditions it is possible for both to evidence a degree of sympathy and toleration that bespeaks future harmony and success No marriage can result in mutual happiness and success if one of the participants is temperamentally incapable of changing his or her convictions
