When you draw in hand the material from the front to the rear of the machine, turn the switch handle (marked with 2) to any number from 1 to 5 on the switch length in number that is on the handle. The longer the number, the longer the material is made. When the end of the material is drawn in, make the machine draw in, so from the rear of the machine to the front, the material is drawn in. This allows removal of the material in all the width excepting the material in the front of the machine. The machine will continue to draw in material until the material is drawn in. This prevents the material from being too long. The machine will not stop until the material is drawn in.
