Waste Management And Sustainable Consumption Reflections On Consumer Waste:

Waste Management and Sustainable Consumption Karin M. Ekström, 2014-12-17 The accelerated pace of global consumption over the past decades has meant that governments across the world are now faced with significant challenges in dealing with the dramatically increased volume of waste While research on waste management has previously focused on finding technological solutions to the problem this book uniquely examines the social and cultural views of waste shedding new light on the topic by emphasising the consumer perspective throughout Drawing on a wide variety of disciplines including environmental economic social and cultural theories the book presents philosophical reflections practical examples and potential solutions to the problem of increasing waste It analyses and compares case studies from countries such as Sweden Japan the USA India Nigeria and Qatar bringing out valuable insights for the international community and generating a critical discussion on how we can move towards a more sustainable society This book will be of great interest to post graduate students and researchers in environmental policy waste management social marketing and consumer behaviour as well as policymakers and practitioners in consumer issues and business

A Cultural History of Waste Disposal Benjamin A. Lawson, 2024-12-11 This book offers a historical analysis of landfill sites in New York City Greater Toronto and Greater Tel Aviv and uses them as case studies to emphasize the international and global scale of issues concerning waste disposal and park redevelopments New York Toronto and Tel Aviv are currently redeveloping giant landfills into parks to much fanfare The park redevelopments may be seen as an attempt to erase or assuage the decades of problematic waste disposal policy that led to the creation of such large landfills Booster rhetoric underscores this point such as promoting how the parks will be a green lung for the city This book contextualizes these redevelopments by offering a historical analysis providing a greater understanding of the past current and future potential issues It goes on to analyze the language and media coverage surrounding former waste sites becoming park redevelopments including how cities use art to promote their image and gain cultural relevance By engaging with both the works of waste historians and literature on waste and discard studies the book provides theoretical models for analyzing the role of power in municipal systems as well as human and ecological impacts on waste It concludes with an analysis of the features necessary for landfill parks to be successful This book will be useful for scholars researchers and academics studying waste studies the environment cities and sustainable development as well as for policymakers and environmental eco artists

Marketing Fashion Karin M. Ekström, 2023-06-16 Fashion as a societal phenomenon has fascinated scholars in different disciplines such as history sociology anthropology psychology and marketing often from an interdisciplinary perspective Fashion mirrors societal changes cultural norms and values over time It can be interpreted as mundane everyday practices constructions of identity and status as well as being associated with the art world In this book the focus lies on marketing and the role of marketers when fashion permeates society in deliberate and subtle ways This edited collection critically reflects upon the power of fashion in contemporary society and the role marketing and marketers play in the process of defining creating and preserving fashion but also in divesting fashion that is no longer up to date It expands on existing knowledge to better understand the role marketers play as cultural agents in determining fashion and its markets Contributors to the book are international advanced scholars from a variety of disciplines such as anthropology marketing psychology and sociology who challenge traditional ways of thinking about marketing In a society where problems with overproduction and excessive consumption represent major challenges the critical perspective of the role fashion plays in contemporary society and what influence marketing has for shaping fashion are not merely relevant but necessary This cutting edge interdisciplinary book will appeal to scholars across a broad range of fields including fashion marketing fashion studies and consumer culture research It will also be valuable for students in advanced courses of study in a variety of disciplines besides marketing

Living with Things Nicky Gregson,2007 Living with Things provides an account of consumption in terms of its centrality to our dwelling practices Its focus is on the home particularly on the movement of people and things within and through it in everyday habitation Here dwelling is seen as an activity as doing things with and to the things to hand around us Being at home is achieved through living amongst things as well as amongst people and other non human presences such as pets and gardens Being at home is achieved through what we do with objects the things that are acquired and stored that linger around in our homes sometimes for decades and which we may eventually get rid of These ordinary things make dwelling structures accommodating accommodations they make them homes Based primarily on a former coal mining village in North east England this book explores practices of inhabitation from moving in or being modernised to the daily accommodation of sleep and children It provides a demonstration of what happens to consumption research when it comes home and is positioned not in sites of exchange but within the home and in households Environment & Planning ,2012

Sustainability Marketing Frank-Martin Belz,Ken Peattie,2009-11-10 Sustainability Marketing is primarily about the successful development and marketing of sustainable products and services e g hybrid cars fuel cell cars car sharing organic food products fair trade products passive houses and renewable energies Australian National Bibliography ,1996-12

Pollution Abstracts ,1995 Indexes material from conference proceedings and hard to find documents in addition to journal articles Over 1 000 journals are indexed and literature published from 1981 to the present is covered Topics in pollution and its management are extensively covered from the standpoints of atmosphere emissions mathematical models effects on people and animals and environmental action Major areas of coverage include air pollution marine pollution freshwater pollution sewage and wastewater treatment waste management land pollution toxicology and health noise and radiation

Food Waste David M. Evans,2014-10-23 In recent years food waste has risen to the top of the political and public agenda yet until now there has been no scholarly analysis applied to the topic as a complement and counter balance to campaigning and activist approaches Using ethnographic material to explore global issues Food Waste unearths the processes that lie behind the volume of food currently wasted by households and consumers The author demonstrates how waste arises as a consequence of households negotiating the complex and contradictory demands of everyday life explores the reasons why surplus food ends up in the bin and considers innovative solutions to the problem Drawing inspiration from studies of consumption and material culture alongside social science perspectives on everyday life and the home this lively

yet scholarly book is ideal for students and researchers from a wide range of disciplines along with anyone interested in understanding the food that we waste Zero-Waste Atiq Zaman,Tahmina Ahsan,2019-12-06 This book analyses zero waste ZW as an emerging waste management strategy for the future which considers waste prevention through innovative design and sustainable consumption practices Drawing on a diverse range of case studies from Australia Bangladesh Japan New Zealand Sweden and the USA this book explores why urban waste management systems still remain a major challenge for almost all cities around the world Rejecting waste as an end of life problem Atiq Zaman and Tahmina Ahsan instead consider waste prevention through the ZW model in which resources are utilized and consumed with minimum environmental degradation In addition the authors give extended discussion on why embracing the ZW concept will be beneficial for the circular economy CE Providing a strategic zero waste framework and an evaluation tool to measure waste management performance aimed towards ZW goals this book will be of great relevance to students scholars and policymakers with an interest in waste management sustainable consumption urban planning and sustainable development Waste and Consumption Simonetta Falasca-Zamponi,2011 First Published in 2011 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company The World's Scavengers Martin Medina,2007-05-03 Medina tells us that up to 2% of the urban population in developing countries survives by salvaging materials from waste for recycling which represents up to 64 million scavengers in the world today Despite these numbers we know little about the impact of scavenging on global capitalism development The author examines its historical evolution and its linkages with formal and informal sector productive activities in capitalist and non capitalist societies in case studies from Mexico Brazil Colombia Argentina Egypt the Philippines and India His new book radically alters popular perceptions on scavenging demonstrating that many widely held beliefs are wrong scavenging is not primarily the activity of the poor nor is it a strictly marginal activity the economic impact of scavenging is significant and can increase industrial competitiveness and scavenging can be compatible with a sustainable waste management system Scavenging represents an adaptive response to poverty yet at the same time it can be a resource to cities whose contributions should be recognized and understood Halfway to the Future Tellus Institute,2001 Directory of Published Proceedings ,1997 Asia and Pacific Bibliography ,2002
