The Wave Algernon Blackwood, 2013-05-15 Since childhood days he had been haunted by a Wave It appeared with the very dawn of thought and was his earliest recollection of any vividness It was also his first experience of nightmare a wave of an odd dun colour almost tawny that rose behind him advanced curled over in the act of toppling and then stood still It threatened but it did not fall It paused hovering in a position contrary to nature it waited Something prevented it was not meant to fall the right moment had not yet arrived If only it would fall It swept across the skyline in a huge long curve far overhead hanging dreadfully suspended Beneath his feet he felt the roots of it withdrawing he shuffled furiously and made violent efforts but the suction undermined him where he stood The ground yielded and dropped away He only sank in deeper His entire weight became that of a feather against the gigantic tension of the mass that any moment it seemed must lift him in its rising curve bend break and twist him then fling him crashing forward to his smothering fate Yet the moment never came The Wave hung balanced between him and the sky poised in mid air It did not fall And the torture of that infinite pause contained the essence of the nightmare The Wave invariably came up behind him stealthily from what seemed interminable distance He never met it It overtook him from the rear The horizon hid it till it rose There were stages in its history moreover and in the effect it produced upon his early mind Usually he woke up the moment he realised it was there For it invariably announced its presence He heard no sound but knew that it was coming there was a feeling in the atmosphere not unlike the heavy brooding that precedes a thunderstorm only so different from anything he had yet known in life that his heart sank into his boots He looked up There above his head was the huge curved monster hanging in mid air The mood had justified itself He called it the wavy feeling He was never wrong about it

The Wave Algernon Blackwood, 1916

Blackwood, John Dryden, Rudolph Baumbach, William Wordsworth, 2020-09-18 Experience has especially of late years amply refuted the barbarous error which attributes to Nature a niggardliness towards the minds of that sex to which she has been most prodigal of personal gifts the highest walks of science and literature in this country have been graced by female authors and perhaps the purity and refinement which pervade our works of imagination compared with those of former days may not unjustly be traced to the larger share which feminine pens now have in the production of these works It would appear to countenance the heretical notion just condemned to assume that a robust organization is essential to the proper development and exercise of the powers of the understanding but it is certain that in several instances individuals who have exhibited the most striking examples of female pre eminence have not reached the full maturity of their intellectual growth but have been lost to the world in a premature grave to the names of Felicia Hemans and Laetitia E Landon besides others is now added that of Emma Roberts who although in respect of poetical genius she cannot be placed upon a level with the two writers just named yet in the vigour of her faculties and in the variety of her talents is worthy of being associated with them as another evidence against the asserted mental inequality of the sexes Miss Roberts belonged to a Welsh family of great respectability Her grandfather who was a gentleman of good property and served the office of High Sheriff for Denbighshire North Wales possessed the fine estate of Kenmell Park in that county which was disposed of after his death to Colonel Hughes the present Lord Dinorben whose seat it continues to be He had three sons all of whom entered a military life which seems to have had peculiar attractions to this gallant family The eldest the late General Thomas Roberts raised a regiment which became the 111th and it is said he frequently officiated as Gold Stick in Waiting to George the Third A son of General Roberts was aide de camp to Sir Arthur Wellesley in Portugal was taken prisoner by the French and detained during the war he afterwards rose to the rank of lieutenant colonel The second son Colonel David Roberts of the 51st regiment distinguished himself in the Peninsular war having on the 7th January 1809 during Sir John Moore s retreat near the heights of Lugo headed a party which repulsed the French Light Brigade on which occasion his cloak was riddled with bullets two of which passed through his right hand which was amputated He was then a major but afterwards commanded the regiment in Lord Dalhousie s brigade and subsequently in Flanders and was so seriously and repeatedly wounded that his pensions for wounds amounted to 500 a year Colonel Roberts was an author and wrote amongst other things the comic military sketch called Johnny Newcome The youngest son William the father of Miss Roberts in the course of his travels on the continent in early life formed some intimacies at the Court of St Petersburg to which he was introduced by the British Ambassador and eventually entered the Russian service he was made aide de camp to General Lloyd his countryman and served with great distinction in several campaigns against the Turks He afterwards entered the British army but had not attained a higher rank than that of captain with the paymastership of his regiment when he died leaving a widow a son who died a lieutenant in the army and two daughters Emma the youngest daughter of Captain Roberts was born about the year 1794 After the death of her father she resided with her mother a lady of some literary pretensions at Bath Though possessed of a very attractive person though of a lively disposition and peculiarly fitted to shine in the gayest circles of social life her thirst for letters was unquenchable and the extent of her reading proves that her early years must have been years of application

The Mercy of Allah Hilaire Belloc, 2019-11-21 In The Mercy of Allah Hilaire Belloc delves into the complex interplay of faith, culture, and politics within the Islamic world. This profound text blends historical narrative with penetrating analysis offering insights into the theological underpinnings of Islam and its socio-political ramifications during the early 20th century. Writing with a distinctive literary style that combines eloquence with clarity, Belloc situates his exploration within a broader discourse on religious tolerance and understanding making it a vital contribution to interfaith dialogue amidst the tumultuous backdrop of the time. Hilaire Belloc, a prominent Anglo-French writer, historian, and politician, had a lifelong engagement with both English and European religious thought. His deep Catholic faith and his experiences growing up in a multicultural environment shaped his perspectives on Islam, prompting him to investigate its doctrines and influence on Western civilization. Belloc's scholarly credentials and personal convictions drive his inquiry revealing his dedication to fostering a nuanced understanding of Islamic principles. This book is highly recommended for readers interested in religious studies, history, and cultural criticism. Belloc's keen observations and empathetic approach not only broaden our understanding of Islam but also challenge readers to reflect on their own beliefs and biases. The Mercy of Allah stands as a thought-provoking text for anyone seeking to engage with the complexities of faith in a modern context.

The Wings of Horus Algernon Blackwood, 2020-12-08 Algernon Blackwood's The Wings of Horus is a masterful piece of supernatural fiction that delves into the mysterious world of ancient Egyptian mythology. The book follows the journey of a young archaeologist who uncovers a long-lost tomb that holds dark secrets and an ancient curse. Through Blackwood's vivid descriptions and haunting atmosphere, readers are transported to a realm where the line between the living and the dead is blurred and the power of ancient gods and spirits reign supreme. Blackwood's literary style is characterized by its rich symbolism and eerie ambiance drawing inspiration from both gothic literature and mystical traditions. The Wings of Horus is a unique blend of horror and mysticism that keeps readers on the edge of their seats until the very end. Algernon Blackwood, a prolific writer of supernatural fiction, was known for his deep interest in the occult and the unexplained.
