The Voyage of the Beagle Charles Darwin, 2015-09-14 The voyage of the Beagle 1831-1836 was one of the most important scientific expeditions in history On board was the young naturalist Charles Darwin His investigations would change science and the world forever There was no sudden discovery on the Galapagos sparked by the finches as popular legend has it Instead he intensively studied the geology animals plants and peoples of the lands visited Along the way he made a number of striking discoveries particularly in South America which eventually led him to realize that living things must evolve over time After his return home he formulated what he called natural selection to explain how living things adapt to a changing world When he published his revolutionary On the Origin of Species in 1859 he began with the famous opening line When on board H M S Beagle as naturalist I was much struck with certain facts As a research vessel HMS Beagle may not have had the internet but she did have an impressive state of the art library of about 400 volumes The library was housed in book cases in the poop cabin at the stern of the ship which was also Darwin's cabin Thus Darwin lived and worked in the Beagle library for five years
