The Way Of Highest Clarity Nature Vision And Revelation In Medieval China:

The Way of Highest Clarity James Miller, 2008 A study of a widespread esoteric tradition in medieval China called the Way of highest Clarity Shangqing dao with translations of three of its important texts and essays on its doctrines regarding nature vision and revelation

Religion and Ecological Sustainability in China James Miller, Dan Smyer Yu, Peter van der Veer, 2014-04-29 This book sheds light on the social imagination of nature and environment in contemporary China It demonstrates how the urgent debate on how to create an ecologically sustainable future for the world's most populous country is shaped by its complex engagement with religious traditions competing visions of modernity and globalization and by engagement with minority nationalities who live in areas of outstanding natural beauty on China's physical and social margins The book develops a comprehensive understanding of contemporary China that goes beyond the tradition/modernity dichotomy and illuminates the diversity of narratives and worldviews that inform contemporary Chinese understandings of and engagements with nature and environment

Religion and Poetry in Medieval China Gil Raz, Anna Shields, 2025-10-01 This volume of interdisciplinary essays examines the intersection of religion and literature in medieval China focusing on the impact of Buddhism and Daoism on a wide range of elite and popular literary texts and religious practices in the 3rd-11th centuries CE Drawing on the work of the interdisciplinary scholar Stephen Bokenkamp the essays weave together the many cross-currents of religious intellectual and literary traditions in medieval China to provide vivid pictures of medieval Chinese religion and culture as it was lived and practiced The contributors to the volume are all highly regarded experts in the fields of Chinese poetry Daoism Buddhism popular religion and literature Their research papers cut across imagined disciplinary boundaries to show that the culture of medieval China can only be understood by close reading of texts from multiple genres traditions and approaches

Environmental Philosophy in Asian Traditions of Thought J. Baird Callicott, James McRae, 2014-03-11 Environmental Philosophy in Asian Traditions of Thought provides a welcome sequel to the foundational volume in Asian environmental ethics Nature in Asian Traditions of Thought That volume edited by J Baird Callicott and Roger T Ames and published in 1989 inaugurated comparative environmental ethics adding Asian thought on the natural world to the developing field of environmental philosophy This new book edited by Callicott and James McRae includes some of the best articles in environmental philosophy from the perspective of Asian thought written more recently some of which appear in print for the first time Leading scholars draw from the Indian Chinese and Japanese traditions of thought to provide a normative ethical framework that can address the environmental challenges being faced in the twenty-first century Hindu Buddhist Confucian and Daoist approaches are considered along with those of Zen Japanese Confucianism and the contemporary philosophy of the Kyoto School An investigation of environmental philosophy in these Asian traditions not only challenges Western assumptions but also provides an understanding of Asian philosophy religion and culture that informs contemporary environmental law and policy

The Wiley-Blackwell Companion to Chinese Religions Randall L.

Nadeau,2012-05-07 Comprising the most up to date interdisciplinary research on the study of Chinese religious beliefs and cultural practices this volume explores the rich and complex religious and philosophical traditions that have developed and flourished in one of the world s oldest civilizations Covers the main Chinese traditions of Confucianism Taoism and Buddhism as well as Christianity and Islam Features a unique organizational structure with groups of readings focused on historical traditions based and topical elements of Chinese religion Explores a number of contemporary religious topics including gender nature asceticism material culture and gods and spirits Brings together a team of authors who are experts in their sub fields providing readers with the latest research in a rapidly growing discipline The Dreaming Mind and the End of the Ming World Lynn A. Struve,2019-03-31

From the mid sixteenth through the end of the seventeenth century Chinese intellectuals attended more to dreams and dreaming and in a wider array of genres than in any other period of Chinese history Taking the approach of cultural history this ambitious yet accessible work aims both to describe the most salient aspects of this dream arc and to explain its trajectory in time through the writings arts and practices of well known thinkers religionists litterateurs memoirists painters doctors and political figures of late Ming and early Qing times The volume s encompassing thesis asserts that certain associations of dreaming grounded in the neurophysiology of the human brain at sleep such as subjectivity irrationality the unbidden lack of control emotionality spontaneity the imaginal and memory when especially heightened by historical and cultural developments are likely to pique interest in dreaming and generate florescences of dream expression among intellectuals The work thus makes a contribution to the history of how people have understood human consciousness in various times and cultures The Dreaming Mind and the End of the Ming World is the most substantial work in any language on the historicity of Chinese dream culture Within Chinese studies it will appeal to those with backgrounds in literature religion philosophy political history and the visual arts It will also be welcomed by readers interested in comparative dream cultures the history of consciousness and neurohistory Dreaming and

Self-Cultivation in China, 300 BCE-800 CE Robert Ford Campany,2024-09-09 Practitioners of any of the paths of self cultivation available in ancient and medieval China engaged daily in practices meant to bring their bodies and minds under firm control They took on regimens to discipline their comportment speech breathing diet senses desires sexuality even their dreams Yet compared with waking life dreams are incongruous unpredictable in a word strange How then did these regimes of self fashioning grapple with dreaming a lawless yet ubiquitous domain of individual experience In Dreaming and Self Cultivation in China 300 BCE 800 CE Robert Ford Campany examines how dreaming was addressed in texts produced and circulated by practitioners of Daoist Buddhist Confucian and other self cultivational disciplines Working through a wide range of scriptures essays treatises biographies commentaries fictive dialogues diary records interpretive keys and ritual instructions Campany uncovers a set of discrete paradigms by which dreams were viewed and responded to by practitioners He shows how these paradigms underlay texts of diverse religious and ideological persuasions that are usually treated in mutual isolation The result is a provocative meditation on the relationship between individuals nocturnal experiences and one culture s persistent attempts to discipline interpret and incorporate them into waking practice The Daoist Tradition

Louis Komjathy,2013-08-22 An introduction to Daoism as a living and lived religion covering key themes and topics as well as its history China's Green Religion James Miller,2017-05-16 How can Daoism China s indigenous religion give us the aesthetic ethical political and spiritual tools to address the root causes of our ecological crisis and construct a sustainable future In China s Green Religion James Miller shows how Daoism orients individuals toward a holistic understanding of religion and nature Explicitly connecting human flourishing to the thriving of nature Daoism fosters a green subjectivity and agency that transforms what it means to live a flourishing life on earth Through a groundbreaking reconstruction of Daoist philosophy and religion Miller argues for four key green insights a vision of nature as a subjective power that informs human life an anthropological idea of the porous body based on a sense of qi flowing through landscapes and human beings a tradition of knowing founded on the experience of transformative power in specific landscapes and topographies and an aesthetic and moral sensibility based on an affective sensitivity to how the world pervades the body and the body pervades the world Environmentalists struggle to raise consciousness for their cause Miller argues because their activism relies on a quasi Christian concept of saving the earth Instead environmentalists should integrate nature and culture more seamlessly cultivating through a contemporary intellectual vocabulary a compelling vision of how the earth materially and spiritually supports human flourishing A Fourth-Century Daoist Family Stephen R. Bokenkamp,2020-12-15 This volume is the first in a series of full length English translations from one of the foremost classics in Daoist religious literature the Zhen gao or Declarations of the Perfected The Declarations is a collection of poems accounts of the dead instructions and meditation methods received by the Daoist Yang Xi 330 ca 386 BCE from celestial beings and shared by him with his patrons and students These fragments of revealed material were collected and annotated by the eminent scholar and Daoist Tao Hongjing 456 536 allowing us access to these distant worlds and unfamiliar strategies of self perfection Bokenkamp s full translation highlights the literary nature of Daoist revelation and the place of the Declarations in the development of Chinese letters It further details interactions with the Chinese throne and the aristocracy and demonstrates ways that Buddhist borrowings helped shape Daoism much earlier than has been assumed This first volume also contains heretofore unrecognized reconfigurations of Buddhist myth and practice that Yang Xi introduced to his Daoist audience Routledge Handbook of Religion and Ecology Willis J. Jenkins,Mary Evelyn Tucker,John Grim,2016-07-22 The moral values and interpretive systems of religions are crucially involved in how people imagine the challenges of sustainability and how societies mobilize to enhance ecosystem resilience and human well being The Routledge Handbook of Religion and Ecology provides the most comprehensive and authoritative overview of the field It encourages both appreciative and critical angles regarding religious traditions communities attitude and practices It presents contrasting ways of thinking about religion and about ecology and about ways of connecting the two terms Written by a team of leading international experts the Handbook discusses dynamics of change within religious traditions as well as their roles in responding to global challenges such as climate change water conservation food and population It explores the interpretations of indigenous traditions regarding modern environmental problems drawing on such concepts as lifeway and indigenous knowledge This volume uniquely intersects the field of religion and ecology with new directions within the humanities and the sciences This interdisciplinary volume is an essential reference for scholars and students across the social sciences and humanities and for all those looking to understand the significance of religion in environmental studies and policy

Perceiving the Divine through the Human Body T. Cattoi, J. McDaniel, 2011-11-07 Cattoi and McDaniel present a selection of articles on the role of the body and the spiritual senses our transfigured channels of sensory perceptions in the context of spiritual practice The volume investigates this theme across a variety of different religious traditions within Christianity Hinduism Buddhism and Daoism

Daoism: A Guide for the Perplexed Louis Komjathy, 2014-03-13 Daoism is a global religious and cultural phenomenon characterized by multiculturalism and ethnic diversity Daoism A Guide for the Perplexed offers a clear and thorough survey of this ancient and modern religious tradition The book includes an overview of Daoist history including key individuals and movements translations of primary Daoist texts and discussions of key dimensions of Daoist religiosity covering primary concerns and defining characteristics of the religion Specifically designed to meet the needs of students and general readers seeking a thorough understanding of the religion this book is the ideal guide to studying and understanding Daoism as a lived and living religious community

God and Gaia Michael S Northcott, 2022-12-22 God and Gaia explores the overlap between traditional religious cosmologies and the scientific Gaia theory of James Lovelock It argues that a Gaian approach to the ecological crisis involves rebalancing human and more than human influences on Earth by reviving the ecological agency of local and indigenous human communities and of nonhuman beings Present day human ecological influences on Earth have been growing at pace since the Scientific and Industrial Revolutions when modern humans adopted a machine cosmology in which humans are the sole intelligent agency The resultant imbalance between human and Earthly agencies is degrading the species diversity of ecosystems causing local climate changes and threatens to destabilise the Earth as a System Across eight chapters this ambitious text engages with traditional cosmologies from the Indian Vedas and classical Greece to Medieval Christianity with case material from Southeast Asia Southern Africa and Great Britain It discusses concepts such as deep time and ancestral time the ethics of genetic engineering of foods and viruses and holistic ecological management Northcott argues that an ontological turn that honours the differential agency of indigenous humans and other kind and that draws on sacred traditions will make it is possible to repair the destabilising impacts of contemporary human activities on the Earth System and its constituent ecosystems This book will be of considerable interest to students and scholars of the environmental humanities history and cultural and religious studies
