Transition Strategies Cases From The East German Industry:

Transition Strategies H. Hungenberg, T. Wulf, 2002-07-16 The transition process of the countries of Central and Eastern Europe which started more than a decade ago has been the focus of much attention for both practitioners and scholars Few studies however address management issues involved in the transition process and no study has until now assessed the strategies and tactics which individual companies have pursued over the past decade as part of their adaptation process This book fills this gap and will leave the reader with a better understanding of the adaptation process at single firm level

Long Range Planning Society for Long Range Planning, European Planning Federation, 1968 European Economic Elites Friederike Sattler, Christoph Boyer, 2009 Since the beginning of the 1970s democratic capitalist Western Europe as well as state socialist Eastern Europe faced the double challenge of the third industrial revolution and the second globalization The accelerated political social economic and cultural change did not lead to a crisis of capitalism or of communism instead challenging European industrial society as such In 1989 after a long erosion process state socialism failed at the task of solving the manifold problems of adjustment yet a lasting solution is also not conceivable within the context of a neo liberal new spirit of capitalism The present volume which arose from the interdisciplinary cooperation of historians and social scientists discusses the consequences of this great transformation for the economic elites in both West and East for their qualification profiles and their social composition their options and their room for maneuver their value systems and legitimization strategies their self perception and their public image Economic elites in both systems saw themselves forced to adopt new strategies which very often seem quite different at the surface looking deeper they exhibit clear similarities After 1989 the consolidation of the post socialist economic elites has all in all been completed according to the Western example The emerging convergences which are being supported by the process of European integration contributed to the internationalization of the European economic elites The volume discusses the problem how strong this tendency was and if it has already created truly transnational economic elites more or less separated from the national context The contributions which are embedded into a coherent interpretative framework are penned by internationally renowned experts and junior researchers from a wide array of countries from Britain to Poland and from Norway to Portugal The innovative value of the volume lies in its Europe wide scope and above all in its comparative East West perspective A genuinely European community of researchers tackles a topic which is indisputably current for history as well as for the social sciences The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2007 Forthcoming Books Rose Army, 2002

Geographische Zeitschrift , 2006 The Grand Experiment Andreas Pickel, Helmut Wiesenthal, 1997-04-03 This unique volume offers a wide ranging debate on fundamental issues of economic transformation The two authors present their contrasting views on the singularity and the comparative significance of the East German case the theoretical lessons of shock therapy and holistic policy approaches democratic corporatist and authoritarian governing structures in the reform process and the role of myth and ideology in social change Developing competing as well as complementary positions on problems of transformation the authors advance our understanding of the conditions under which modern societies can be fundamentally restructured by design

Subject Guide to Books in Print ,1996 Books In Print 2004-2005 Ed Bowker Staff,Staff Bowker, Ed,2004 The European Rupture Mary Kaldor,Geneviève Schméder,1997 The European Rupture focuses on the consequences of the end of the Cold War for defence sectors in Europe It offers a theoretical framework supported by country case studies from both Western Europe and formerly centrally planned economies The discussion in the first part of the book analyses the connection between security and the Cold War economy arguing that the defence sector profoundly shaped the technological development and industrial and social policy in both East and West It considers some of the issues that have to be confronted in the transition periods focusing on the new challenges to our perceptions of security changes in technology and problems of defence conversion The final part considers the need for new institutional arrangements and how these have to be constructed in order to re establish a system of international security and economic regulation It proposes that there should be a shift away from national or bloc security policies towards a more internationalist security policy and appropriate measures of economic adjustment especially defence conversion This book will be of special interest to academics and students interested in European studies international affairs international policy and policymakers

Women and Market Societies Barbara Einhorn,Eileen Yeo,1995 Women and Market Societiesexplores the problems and possibilities for women which arise from the transition to a market economy in East Asia the dismantling of state socialism in Eastern Europe and the restructuring of the economies and welfare states of the older capitalist market societies in Western Europe Questioning whether the global trend towards market economics will constrain or enhance women s opportunities this innovative interdisciplinary volume also looks at the consequences for women as workers and beyond that to the social and cultural implications A distinguished group of scholars from China Hong Kong

South Korea and Europe explores the issues which must be addressed before women can create a more empowering politics. Such issues include the continuing tensions between paid work in the market and unpaid work in the family and the extent to which Eastern or Western legislative frameworks providing rights and benefits have eased or exacerbated these tensions. The paradoxical effects of modernising housework, the power and contestability of global media representations of femininity, the experience of building a women's politics around consumption are all themes explored in this book which aims to contribute to an East West dialogue among women.
