Transitions Environments Translations Feminisms In International Politics:

Transitions, Environments, Translations Cora Kaplan, Joan Wallach Scott, Debra Keates, 1997 First Published in 1997 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Transitions Environments Translations Joan W. Scott, 2013 The essays in Transitions Environments Translations explore the varied meanings of feminism in different political cultural and historical contexts They respond to the claim that feminism is Western in origin and universalist in theory and to the assumption that feminist goals are self evident and the same in all contexts Rather than assume that there is a blueprint by which to measure the strength or success of feminism in different parts of the world these essays consider feminism to be a site of local national and international conflict They ask What is at stake

Gender and Civil Society Jude Howell, Diane Mulligan, 2004-09-30 The international scope of the case studies means that the book will appeal to the international market Civil society and gender studies are both widely studied and previous titles in these areas have sold well There are no competing titles that consider both civil society and women s political activities The Politics of Gender after Socialism Susan Gal, Gail Kligman, 2012-01-06 With the collapse of communism a new world seemed to open for the peoples of East Central Europe The possibilities this world presented and the costs it exacted have been experienced differently by men and women Susan Gal and Gail Kligman explore these differences through a probing analysis of the role of gender in reshaping politics and social relations since 1989 The authors raise two crucial questions How are gender relations and ideas about gender shaping political and economic change in the region And what forms of gender inequality are emerging as a result The book provides a rich understanding of gender relations and their significance in social and institutional transformations Gal and Kligman offer a systematic comparison of East Central European gender relations with those of western welfare states and with the presocialist bourgeois past Throughout this essay the authors attend to historical comparisons as well as cross regional interactions and contrasts Their work contributes importantly to the study of postsocialism and to the broader feminist literature that critically examines how states and political economic processes are gendered and how states and markets regulate gender relations

Cultural Turns Doris Bachmann-Medick, 2016-01-15 The contemporary fields of the study of culture the humanities and the social sciences are unfolding in a dynamic constellation of cultural turns This book provides a comprehensive overview of these theoretically and methodologically groundbreaking reorientations It discusses the value of the new focuses and their analytical categories for the work of a wide range of disciplines In addition to chapters on the interpretive performative reflexive postcolonial translational spatial and iconic turns it discusses emerging directions of research Drawing on a wealth of international research this book maps central topics and approaches in the study of culture and thus provides systematic impetus for changed disciplinary and transdisciplinary research in the humanities and beyond e g in the fields of sociology economics and the study of religion This work is the English translation by Adam Blauhut of an influential German book that has now been completely revised It is a stimulating example of a cross cultural translation between different theoretical cultures and also the first critical synthesis of cultural turns in the English speaking world

Theorizing NGOs Victoria Bernal, Inderpal Grewal, 2014-03-20 Theorizing NGOs examines how the rise of nongovernmental organizations NGOs has transformed the conditions of women's lives and of feminist organizing Victoria Bernal and Inderpal Grewal suggest that we can understand the proliferation of NGOs through a focus on the NGO as a unified form despite the enormous variation and diversity contained within that form Theorizing NGOs brings together cutting edge feminist research on NGOs from various perspectives and disciplines Contributors locate NGOs within local and transnational configurations of power interrogate the relationships of nongovernmental organizations to states and to privatization and map the complex ambiguous and ultimately unstable synergies between feminisms and NGOs While some of the contributors draw on personal experience with NGOs others employ regional or national perspectives Spanning a broad range of issues with which NGOs are engaged from microcredit and domestic violence to democratization this groundbreaking collection shows that NGOs are themselves fields of gendered struggles over power resources and status Contributors Sonia E Alvarez Victoria Bernal LeeRay M Costa Inderpal Grewal Laura Gr nberg Elissa Helms Julie Hemment Saida Hod ic Lamia Karim Sabine Lang Lauren Leve Kathleen O Reilly Aradhana Sharma Staging International Feminisms Elaine Aston, Sue-Ellen Case, 2007-10-17 This new volume in the Studies in International Performance series looks at feminism's engagement with and relationship to global change The contributors attempt to develop a global scholarly dialogue by using examples from a range of countries Israel Japan Korea Germany Spain Sweden Italy as well as more familiar perspectives from the US and UK The book aims to show a variety of performance practices which are considered to be feminist from a large number of representative countries and locales Feminist Locations Marianne DeKoven, 2001 The contributors to this volume look to the future of feminist theory and practice specifically in terms of their complex relationship with the global and local configurations of postmodernity It focuses on political issues and on questions of the body Politics by Example Timothy K. Choy, 2003 Metropolitan Desires, Utopian Practices Scott Morgensen, 2001 Reproductive and Sexual Rights Rosalind P. Petchesky, United Nations Research Institute for Social Development, 2000 Multidisciplinary Perspectives on Lao Studies Karen L. Adams, Thomas J. Hudak, 2010 Farming on the Boundary Jessica Rule Goldberger, 2005 Postcolonizing the Commonwealth Rowland Smith, 2000-06-06 Women and resistance in Iran cowboy songs fetal alcohol syndrome the conquest of Everest women settlers in Natal What do these topics have in common The study of what used to be called Commonwealth literature or the new literatures has by now come to be known as postcolonial study This collection of essays investigates the status of postcolonial studies today The contributors come from three generations the pioneers who introduced study of the new literatures into university English departments the next generation who refined and developed many of the theoretical positions embodied in postcolonial study and the next much younger generation who use the established practices of the discipline to investigate the application of this theory in a wide range of cultural contexts Although the authors write from such different starting points a surprisingly similar set of images phrases and topics of concern emerge in their essays They return constantly to issues of difference and similarity the re examination of categories that often appear to be too rigidly defined in current postcolonial practices and to concepts of sharing experience ideas of home and even the use of land

Postcolonizing the Commonwealth Studies in Literature and Culture offers an intriguing analysis of the state of postcolonial criticism today and of the application of postcolonial methods to a variety of texts and historical events It is an invaluable contribution to the current debate in both literary and cultural studies
