Practical and Political Approaches to Recontextualizing Social Work Boulet, Jacques,Hawkins, Linette,2021-02-19 Currently there is an enduring and changing meaning of social work in a world where new crises are being confronted and new opportunities are arriving in the evolving context of social work and the related disciplines There is a question on how to manage the transformation of social work both productively and creatively during this global shift Practitioners and educators can experience a tragic disorientation when confronted by the diversity and depth of these crises endured and can face doubts about their role in social work throughout all these changes and difficult situations. Alternatives to this disorientation, a comfort with uncertainty and a capability to take risks need to urgently be developed on a professional and personal level for success in the evolving field. Through historical lens and a review of policies and value based approaches the recontextualization of social work can be explored. Practical and Political Approaches to Recontextualizing Social Work explores practical and political ways in which social work practice has been reconstructed. Chapters identify this recontextualization of social work and how it is changing, adapting and transforming the profession along with providing the potential implications for the profession. This book grants insight on the reconstruction of social work on the personal and interpersonal level, case work and also on those intending to impact social work on the local/global environment level in all dimensions: politically, economically, socially and ecologically. In addition, the book includes a shift from the present short term and micro personal view to a future and much broader and encompassing perspective and practice vision. This book is essential for social workers, practitioners, policymakers, government officials, researchers, academicians and students who want to learn more about the recontextualizing of modern social work in a shifting global environment.

Social Work in a Globalised World Mona Livholts, Lia Bryant, 2017-04-07 This engaging and timely volume contributes new knowledge to the rapidly emerging field of globalisation and social work. The volume brings together cutting edge interdisciplinary scholarship from countries such as Australia, Finland, Japan, South Africa, the Philippines and Sweden. It proposes globalisation as a useful concept for re-framing conditions, methodologies and practices for social work in a world perspective. Part I of the volume, The Globalisation of Social Issues, deals with major environmental, social and cultural issues, migration and human rights, environmental problems and gendered violence. Part II, Methodological Re-Shaping and Spatial Transgression in Globalised Social Work, develops an epistemology of situated knowledge and methodologies inspired by art, creative writing and cultural geography, focusing on physical, material and emotional spatial dimensions of relevance to social work. Part III, Responses from Social Work as a Globalised Profession, examines how social work has responded to specific social problems, crises and vulnerabilities in a globalised world.

The Routledge Handbook of Language and Superdiversity Angela Creese, Adrian Blackledge, 2018-02-21 The Routledge Handbook of Language and Superdiversity provides an accessible and authoritative overview of this growing area: the linguistic analysis of interaction in superdiverse cities. Developed as a descriptive term to account for the increasingly stratified processes and effects of migration in Western Europe, superdiversity has the potential to contribute to an enhanced understanding of mobility, complexity and change with theoretical, practical, global and methodological reach. With seven sections edited by leading names, the handbook includes 35 state-of-the-art chapters from international authorities. The handbook adopts a truly interdisciplinary approach covering Cultural heritage, Sport, Law, Education, Business and entrepreneurship. The result is a truly comprehensive account of how people live work and communicate in superdiverse spaces This volume is key reading for all those engaged in the study and research of Language and Superdiversity within Applied Linguistics Linguistic Anthropology and related areas relationships with their children spouses grandchildren community members and home as well as host societies Aging Sun argues is a global issue and must be reconsidered in a cross border environment

Migrant Citizenship from Below K. Shinozaki, 2015-05-06 Migrant Citizenship from Below explores the dynamic local and transnational lives of Filipina and Filipino migrant domestic workers living in Sch nberg Germany Shinozaki examines their irregular migrant citizenship status from above which is produced by complex interactions between Germany s welfare care and migration regimes and the Philippines gendered politics of overseas employment Despite the predominant representation of these workers as invisible these spatially immobile migrants maintain sustained transnational engagements through parenting and religious practices Shinozaki studies the reverse gendered process of international reproductive labor migration in which women traveled first and were later joined by men Despite their structural vulnerability participant observations and biographical interviews with the migrants demonstrate that they enact and negotiate migrant citizenship in the workplace transnational households religious practices and through accessing health provisions

Social Work Practice with Men at Risk Rich Furman, 2010-04-22 Treating men as a culturally distinct group Rich Furman integrates key conceptions of masculinity into culturally sensitive social work practice with men Focusing on veterans displaced workers substance abusers mental health consumers and other groups that might be unlikely to seek help Furman deftly explores the psychosocial development of men along with the globalization of men s lives alternative conceptions of masculinity and special dynamics within male relationships Furman bolsters his conclusions with case studies and evidence based interventions His cutting edge research merges four key social work theories and explores how they inform practice with mental health issues compulsive disorders addiction and violence By promoting gender equity and culturally competent practice with men Furman bridges the gap between clinical and macro practice Social Work Practice with Men at Risk is a crucial text for educators and practitioners hoping to pursue effective far reaching interventions

Decolonizing “Multicultural” Counseling through Social Justice Rachael D. Goodman, Paul C. Gorski, 2014-11-03 Multicultural counseling and psychology evolved as a response to the Eurocentrism prevalent in the Western healing professions and has been used to challenge the Eurocentric patriarchal and heteronormative constructs commonly embedded in counseling and psychology Ironically some of the practices and paradigms commonly associated with multiculturalism reinforce the very hegemonic practices and paradigms that multicultural counseling and psychology approaches were created to correct In Decolonizing Multicultural Counseling through Social Justice counseling and psychology scholars and practitioners examine this paradox through a social justice lens by questioning and challenging the infrastructure of dominance in society as well as by challenging ourselves as practitioners scholars and activists to rethink our commitments The authors analyze the ways well meaning clinicians might marginalize clients and contribute to structural inequities despite multicultural or cross cultural training and offer new frameworks and skills to replace the essentializing and stereotyping practices that are widespread in the field By addressing the power imbalances embedded in key areas of multicultural theory and practice contributors present innovative methods for revising research paradigms professional education and hands on practice to reflect a commitment to equity and social justice Together the chapters in this book model transformative practice in the clinic the schools the community and the discipline Among the topics covered Rethinking racial identity development models Queering multicultural competence in counseling Developing a liberatory approach to trauma counseling Decolonizing psychological practice in the context of poverty Utilizing indigenous paradigms in counseling research Addressing racism through intersectionality A mind opening text for multicultural counseling and psychology courses as well as other foundational courses in counseling and psychology education Decolonizing Multicultural Counseling through Social Justice challenges us to let go of simplistic approaches however well intended and to embrace a more transformative approach to counseling and psychology practice and scholarship
