Ubiquitous Computing Complexity And Culture:

Ubiquitous Computing, Complexity and Culture Ulrik Ekman, Jay David Bolter, Lily Diaz, Morten Sondergaard, Maria Engberg, 2015-12-22 The ubiquitous nature of mobile and pervasive computing has begun to reshape and complicate our notions of space time and identity In this collection over thirty internationally recognized contributors reflect on ubiquitous computing's implications for the ways in which we interact with our environments experience time and develop identities individually and socially Interviews with working media artists lend further perspectives on these cultural transformations Drawing on cultural theory new media art studies human computer interaction theory and software studies this cutting edge book critically unpacks the complex ubiquity effects confronting us every day The companion website can be found here <http://ubiquity.dk> Narrative Complexity Marina Grishakova, Maria Poulaki, 2019-08-01 The variety in contemporary philosophical and aesthetic thinking as well as in scientific and experimental research on complexity has not yet been fully adopted by narratology By integrating cutting edge approaches this volume takes a step toward filling this gap and establishing interdisciplinary narrative research on complexity Narrative Complexity provides a framework for a more complex and nuanced study of narrative and explores the experience of narrative complexity in terms of cognitive processing affect and mind and body engagement Bringing together leading international scholars from a range of disciplines this volume combines analytical effort and conceptual insight in order to relate more effectively our theories of narrative representation and complexities of intelligent behavior This collection engages important questions on how narrative complexity functions as an agent of cultural evolution how our understanding of narrative complexity can be extended in light of new research in the social sciences and humanities how interactive media produce new types of narrative complexity and how the role of embodiment as a factor of narrative complexity acquires prominence in cognitive science and media studies The contributors explore narrative complexity transmitted through various semiotic channels embedded in multiple contexts and experienced across different media including film comics music interactive apps audiowalks and ambient literature

The Routledge Companion to Media and Tourism Maria Månsson, Annæ Buchmann, Cecilia Cassinger, Lena Eskilsson, 2020-07-07 The Routledge Companion to Media and Tourism provides a comprehensive overview of the research into the convergence of media and tourism and specifically investigates the concept of mediatized tourism This Companion offers a holistic look at the relationship between media and tourism by drawing from a global range of contributions by scholars from disciplines across the humanities and social sciences The book is divided into five parts covering diverse aspects of mediatization of tourism including place and space representation cultural production and transmedia It features a comprehensive theoretical introduction and an afterword by leading scholars in this emerging field delving into the ways in which different forms of media content and consumption converge and the consequential effects on tourism and tourists The collection is an invaluable resource for students and scholars of tourism studies cultural studies and media and communication as well as those with a particular interest in mediatization convergence culture and contemporary culture

Critique of Digitality Jan Distelmeyer, 2022-10-12 Dealing with digitality is one of the most urgent challenges of the present The increasing importance and spread of computer technology not only challenges societies and individuals this development also puts pressure on the concept of digitality which tries to grasp the totality and peculiarity of the conditions and consequences of electronic digital computing in all its forms However precisely because digitality is commonplace so should be its critique its analysis and assessment How can an analysis do justice to both fundamental characteristics and changing concrete forms infrastructures and practices How do the developments of a digitalization that programmatically encompasses forms of networking embedding and autonomization shape media cultures and societies How do artificial intelligence and algorithmic government relate to each other how does the immateriality of the digital fit with the materiality of computers How does the changing status and scope of this technology mediate itself This book introduces ongoing debates and develops its own approach to the critique of digitality asking about forms of interfaces and processes of governance This book is a translation of the original German 1st edition Kritik der Digitalität by Jan Distelmeyer published by Springer Fachmedien Wiesbaden GmbH part of Springer Nature in 2021 The translation was done with the help of artificial intelligence machine translation by the service DeepL.com A subsequent human revision was done primarily in terms of content so that the book will read stylistically differently from a conventional translation Springer Nature works continuously to further the development of tools for the production of books and on the related technologies to support the authors

Compact Cinematics Pepita Hesselberth, Maria Poulaki, 2017-01-26 Compact Cinematics challenges the dominant understanding of cinema to focus on the various compact short miniature pocket sized forms of cinematics that have existed from even before its standardization in theatrical form and in recent years have multiplied and proliferated taking up an increasingly important part of our everyday multimedia environment Short films or micro narratives cinematic pieces or units re assembled into image archives and looping themes challenge the concepts that have traditionally been used to understand cinematic experience like linear causality sequentiality and closure and call attention to complex and modular forms of cinematic expression and perception Such forms in turn seem to meet the requirements of digital convergence which has pushed the development of more compact and mobile hardware for the display and use of audiovisual content on laptops smartphones and tablets Meanwhile contemporary economies of digital content acquisition filing and sharing equally require the shrinking of cinematic content for it to be recorded played projected distributed and installed with ease and speed In this process cinematic experience is shortened and condensed as well so as to fit the late capitalist attention economy The essays in this volume ask what this changed technical socio economic and political situation entails for the aesthetics and experience of contemporary cinematics and call attention to different concepts theories and tools at our disposal to analyze these changes

timely book explores the transitional experiences of undergraduates in minority groups studying at university and how arts methods and practices can play an important role in facilitating these transitions Based on research from UK universities this volume is the first to draw together the experiences of educators in the humanities and social sciences who integrate sensory methodologies in taught curriculum in relation to arts educators who add extra curricular arts practice It offers an original contextualised analysis of how to enable university structures to adapt to complexity difference and diversity taking the view that arts practice forms meeting points for confident interconnection and spaces of self representation It outlines the novel concept of sensory transition in how arts practices can be used to address issues of inclusion diversity and self representation for minority groups Each chapter offers an in depth analysis of significant issues such as dimensions of race gender and class and the specificities of social and cultural group experiences as they occur in arts practice The book reflects on the decolonisation of university structures and curriculum and demonstrates how universities can support students and build spaces for self representation in academic courses Accessible and investigative this book is essential reading for academics researchers and postgraduate students in the field of higher education inclusion and arts methods It will also be of great interest to higher education staff interested in decolonisation diversity and university futures Shifting Interfaces Hava Aldouby, 2020-05-13 Early 21st century media arts are addressing the anxieties of an age shadowed by ubiquitous surveillance big data profiling and globalised translocations of people Altogether they tap the overwhelming changes in our lived experience of self body and intersubjective relations Shifting Interfaces addresses current exciting exchanges between art science and emerging technologies highlighting a range of concerns that currently prevail in the field of media arts This book provides an up to date perspective on the field with a considerable representation of art based research gaining salience in media art studies The collection attends to art projects interrogating the destabilisation of identity and the breaching of individual privacy the rekindled interest in phenomenology and in the neurocognitive workings of empathy and the routes of interconnectivity beyond the human in the age of the Internet of Things Offering a diversity of perspectives ranging from purely theoretical to art based research and from aesthetics to social and cultural critique this volume will be of great value for readers interested in contemporary art art science technology interfaces visual culture and cultural studies

Philosophy After Nature Rosi Braidotti, Rick Dolphijn, 2017-06-23 The significant changes that have dominated the social and the scientific world over the last thirty years have brought about upheavals and critical re appraisals that have proved quite positive in fostering 21st century thought This interdisciplinary collection of state of the art essays offers innovative and thought provoking insights concerning contemporary philosophical and cultural reflection on the nature culture interaction Starting from the assumption that the binary opposition between the two terms has been replaced by a continuum of the two the volume explores both the terms of this new interaction and its implications Technology occupies a central place in the shift towards a nature cultural continuum but it is not the only factor The consequences of economic globalization notably the global spread of digital mediation also account for this change of perspective Last but not least the climate change issue and a renewed urgency around the state of the environmental crisis also contribute to bring the natural much closer to home Digital mediation has by now become a standard way to live and interact The electronic frontier has altered dramatically the practice of education and research especially in the Humanities and social sciences with direct consequences for the institutional practice and the methodology of these disciplinary fields This book aims to explore the implications of these complex shifts for the practice of critical thinking

Numbered Lives Jacqueline

Wernimont,2019-01-01 A feminist media history of quantification uncovering the stories behind the tools and technologies we use to count measure and weigh our lives and realities Anglo American culture has used media to measure and quantify lives for centuries Historical journal entries map the details of everyday life while death registers put numbers to life s endings Today we count our daily steps with fitness trackers and quantify births and deaths with digitized data How are these present day methods for measuring ourselves similar to those used in the past In this book Jacqueline Wernimont presents a new media history of western quantification uncovering the stories behind the tools and technologies we use to count measure and weigh our lives and realities Numbered Lives is the first book of its kind a feminist media history that maps connections not only between past and present day quantum media but between media tracking and long standing systemic inequalities Wernimont explores the history of the pedometer mortality statistics and the census in England and the United States to illuminate the entanglement of Anglo American quantification with religious imperial and patriarchal paradigms In Anglo American culture Wernimont argues counting life and counting death are sides of the same coin one that has always been used to render statistics of life and death more valuable to corporate and state organizations Numbered Lives enumerates our shared media history helping us understand our digital culture and inheritance
