

A misty forest scene with sunlight filtering through the trees. The sun is low in the sky, creating a warm, golden glow that illuminates the mist and the silhouettes of the trees. The forest floor is covered in a dense layer of green ferns and other vegetation. The overall atmosphere is serene and natural.

Washington in the Pacific Northwest Michael K. Green, 2008 The Pacific Northwest Carlos A. Schwantes, 1989

Carlos Arnaldo Schwantes has revised and expanded the entire work which is still the most comprehensive and balanced history of the region. This edition contains significant additional material on early mining in the Pacific Northwest, sea routes to Oregon in the early discovery and contact period, the environment of the region, the impact of the Klondike gold rush, and politics since 1945. Recent environmental controversies such as endangered salmon runs and the spotted owl dispute have been addressed, as has the effect of the Cold War on the region's economy. The author has also expanded discussion of the roles of women and minorities and updated statistical information. Carlos Arnaldo Schwantes is a professor in the Department of History and director of the Institute for Pacific Northwest Study at the University of Idaho. He is the author of a number of books including Hard Traveling: A Portrait of Work Life in the New Northwest (Nebraska, 1995).

Myths and Legends of the Pacific Northwest Katharine Berry Judson, 1997-01-01. These collected myths and tales of the Indians of the Pacific Northwest—the Klamath, Nez Perce, Tillamook, Modoc, Shastan, Chinook, Flathead, Clatsop, and other tribes—were first published in 1910. Here are their stories concerning the creation of the universe, the theft of fire and daylight, the death and rebirth of salmon, and especially the formation of such geographical features as The Dalles, the Columbia River, the Yukon River, and Mounts Shasta, Hood, Rainier, Baker, and Adams. Katharine Berry Judson began with native oral tradition in retelling these stories. They represent, as Jay Miller says, a distillation of tribal memory and a personification of environmental wisdom. Some legends, Duration of Life, Old Grizzly, and Old Antelope, and Robe of Kemush are almost literal translations recorded by government ethnologists. Animating the beautifully wrought tales are entities like
