

A young girl with dark skin and curly hair is shown from the chest up, balancing a large, shallow wooden bowl on her head. The bowl is filled with a blue and white patterned cloth. The background is a soft, out-of-focus landscape with greenery and a body of water. The lighting is warm, suggesting late afternoon or early morning.

The Unfinished Revolution Karen Salt, 2019 In The Unfinished Revolution Salt examines post revolutionary and contemporary sovereignty in Haiti noting the many international responses to the arrival of a nation born from blood fire and revolution Using blackness as a lens Salt charts the impact of Haiti's sovereignty and its blackness in the Atlantic world

There Is No More Haiti Greg Beckett, 2020-11-10 This is not just another book about crisis in Haiti This book is about what it feels like to live and die with a crisis that never seems to end It is about the experience of living amid the ruins of ecological devastation economic collapse political upheaval violence and humanitarian disaster It is about how catastrophic events and political and economic forces shape the most intimate aspects of everyday life In this gripping account anthropologist Greg Beckett offers a stunning ethnographic portrait of ordinary people struggling to survive in Port au Prince in the twenty first century Drawing on over a decade of research There Is No More Haiti builds on stories of death and rebirth to powerfully reframe the narrative of a country in crisis It is essential reading for anyone interested in Haiti today

Istwa across the Water Toni Pressley-Sanon, 2022-01-03 Gathering oral stories and visual art from Haiti and two of its motherlands in Africa Istwa across the Water recovers the submerged histories of the island through methods drawn from its deep spiritual and cultural traditions

Teaching Haiti Cécile Accilien, Valérie K. Orlando, 2021-08-10 This volume provides guidance on teaching about Haiti's history and culture from a multidisciplinary perspective offering ways of reshaping old narratives through women's and gender studies poetry theater art religion language politics history and popular culture

Exiles, Travellers and Vagabonds, 2016-10-20 Travel writing migrant writing exile writing expatriate writing and even the fictional travelling protagonists that emerge in literary works from around the globe have historically tended to depict mobility as a masculine phenomenon The presence of such genres in women's writing however poses a rich and unique body of work This volume examines the texts of Francophone women who have experienced or reflected upon the experience of transnational movement Due to the particularity of their relationship to home and the consequent impact of this on their experience of displacement the study of women's mobility opens up new questions in our understanding of the movement from place to place and in our broader understanding of colonial and postcolonial worlds Addressing the proximities and overlaps that exist between the experiences of women exiles migrants expatriates and travellers the collected essays in this book seek to challenge the usefulness relevance or validity of such terms for conceptualising today's complex patterns of transnational mobility and the gendered identities produced therein
