Theology And The Boundary Discourse Of Human Rights:

Theology and the Boundary Discourse of Human Rights Ethna Regan, 2010-04-14 What are human rights Can theology acknowledge human rights discourse Is theological engagement with human rights justified What place should this discourse occupy within ethics Ethna Regan seeks to answer these questions about human rights Christian theology and philosophical ethics The main purpose of this book is to justify and explore theological engagement with human rights Regan illustrates how that engagement is both ecumenical and diverse citing the emerging engagement with human rights discourse by evangelical theologians in response to the War on Terror The book examines where the themes and concerns of key modern theologians Karl Rahner J B Metz Jon Sobrino and Ignacio Ellacur converge with the themes and concerns of those committed to the advancement of human rights Regan also critically engages with the disdain for rights discourse that is found in the postliberal critiques of John Milbank and Stanley Hauerwas This interdisciplinary volume will be of interest to students and scholars in the fields of systematic theology theological ethics human rights religion and politics and political theory Catholic Cosmopolitanism and Human Rights Leonard Francis Taylor, 2020-03-05 Provides a more complete account of the human rights project that factors in the contribution of cosmopolitan Catholicism Dalit Theology, Boundary Crossings and Liberation in India Jobymon Skaria, 2022-11-03 Jobymon Skaria an Indian St Thomas Christian Scholar offers a critique of Indian Christian theology and suggests that constructive dialogues between Biblical and dissenting Dalit voices such as Chokhamela Karmamela Ravidas Kabir Nandanar and Narayana Guru could set right the imbalance within Dalit theology and could establish dialogical partnerships between Dalit Theologians non Dalit Christians and Syrian Christians Drawing on Biblical and socio historical resources this book examines a radical yet overlooked aspect of Dalit cultural and religious history which would empower the Dalits in their everyday existences Post-Christian Interreligious Liberation Theology Hussam S. Timani, Loye Sekihata Ashton, 2019-11-29 This book explores the ideals of liberation theology from the perspectives of major religious traditions including Islam Christianity Judaism Buddhism and the neo Vedanta and Advaita Hindu traditions The goal of this volume is not to explain the Christian liberation theology tradition and then assess whether the non Christian liberation theologies meet the Christian standards Rather authors use comparative interreligious methodologies to offer new insights on liberation theology and begin a dialogue on how to build interreligious liberation theologies The goal is to make liberation theology more inclusive of religious diversity beyond traditional Christian categories Christianity and Human Rights Reconsidered Sarah Shortall, Daniel Steinmetz-Jenkins, 2020-09-24 This is the first global examination of the historical relationship between Christianity and human rights in the twentieth century Leading historians anthropologists political theorists legal scholars and scholars of religion develop fresh approaches to issues such as human dignity personalism religious freedom the role of ecumenical and transatlantic networks and the relationship between Christian and liberal rights theories In doing so they move well beyond the temporal and geographical limits of the existing scholarship exploring the connection between Christianity and human rights not only in Europe and the United States but also in Africa Latin America and China They offer alternative chronologies and bring to light overlooked aspects of this history including the role of race gender decolonization and interreligious dialogue Above all these essays foreground the complicated relationship between global rights discourses whether Christian liberal or otherwise and the local contexts in which they are developed and implemented Habermas and Theology Maureen Junker-Kenny, 2011-04-28

Gender Violence & Human Rights Aletta Biersack, Margaret Jolly, Martha Macintyre, 2016-12-14 The postcolonial states of Fiji Papua New Guinea and Vanuatu operate today in a global arena in which human rights are widely accepted As ratifiers of UN treaties such as the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women and the Convention on the Rights of the Child these Pacific Island countries have committed to promoting women s and girls rights including the right to a life free of violence Yet local national and regional gender values are not always consistent with the principles of gender equality and women s rights that undergird these globalising conventions This volume critically interrogates the relation between gender violence and human rights as these three countries and their communities and citizens engage with appropriate modify and at times resist human rights principles and their implications for gender violence Grounded in extensive anthropological historical and legal research the volume should prove a crucial resource for the many scholars policymakers and activists who are concerned about the urgent and ubiquitous problem of gender violence in the western Pacific This is an important and timely collection that is central to the major and contentious issues in the contemporary Pacific of gender violence and human rights It builds upon existing literature but the contributors to this volume interrogate the connection between these two areas deeply and more critically This book should and must reach a broad audience Jacqui Leckie Associate Professor Anthropology and Archaeology University of Otago The volume addresses the tensions between human and cultural individual and collective rights as played out in the domain of gender Gender is a perfect lens for exploring these tensions because cultural rights are often claimed in defence of gender oppression and because women often have imposed upon them the burden of representing cultural traditions in attire comportment restraint or putatively cultural conservatism And Melanesia is a perfect place to consider these gendered issues because of the long history of ethnocentric representations of the region because of the extent to which these are played out between states and local cultures and because of the efforts of the vibrant women s movements in the region to develop locally workable responses to the problems of gender violence in these communities Christine Dureau Senior Lecturer Anthropology University of Auckland

Human Rights in Thick and Thin Societies Seth D. Kaplan, 2018-08-16 Introduces the idea of a flexible approach to the human rights movement that returns to basics in an increasingly diverse and multipolar world

Human dignity and fundamental rights in South Africa and Ireland Anne Hughes, 2014-04-11 Post apartheid South Africa has yielded enlightened judicial decisions in contrast to the limited interpretation of human rights in Ireland The value of human dignity with its central position in international law underpins both countries Constitutions but has left a more striking mark in South Africa There it has impacted significantly on punishment for crimes family life children s rights defamation sexual violence investigations substantive equality and socio economic rights Practical guidance can be gleaned from South Africa to revitalise Irish jurisprudence While its focus is on South Africa and Ireland this book draws on the experience of many countries and regions
