Theology As History And Hermeneutics:

Theology as History and Hermeneutics Laurence W. Wood, 2005 This book offers in style and content an exciting new perspective on contemporary theology and its future in post modern times I welcome this new perspective The style is agreeable unpolemical and engages in dialogue with the best of Barth and Bultmann Ricoeur and Pannenberg Cobb and Moltmann showing what they have to offer to the larger theological community and transferring it like a ferry boat into the post modern age The purpose is to offer an evangelical theology which is at the same time genuinely evangelical and relevant for post modern ways of thinking Wood writes with admirable clarity Jürgen Moltmann University of Tübingen History and Hermeneutics Carl E. Braaten, 2016-10-31 This volume interprets the last decade of theological research and reflection on the relation of Christian faith to history The theological development of this period is depicted as a struggle to go beyond Barth and Bultmann in stressing the centrality of history for revelation and faith Dr Braaten deals with new hermeneutical approaches to achieve a theological synthesis of revelation and history He describes the theology of Wolfhart Pannenberg which calls for a more radical interpretation of revelation along historical lines as a pivotal point in the present situation He goes on to outline current thinking on revelation the historical critical method the historical Jesus resurrection salvation redemption and eschatology History and Hermeneutics Murray Rae, 2005-01-01 Examines the relation between historiography and hermeneutics on three hundred years of western thought The author offers a theological account of what history is centred on the categories of creation and divine promise and proposes that it is within this theological conception of history that the Bible may be understood on its own terms Pillars in the History of Biblical Interpretation, Volume 2 Stanley E. Porter, Sean A. Adams, 2016-11-03 This two volume set is part of a growing body of literature concerned with the history of biblical interpretation The ample introduction first situates key players in the story of the development of the major strands of biblical interpretation since the Enlightenment identifying how different theoretical and methodological approaches are related to each other and describing the academic environment in which they emerged and developed Volume 1 contains fourteen essays on twenty two interpreters who were principally active before 1980 and volume 2 has nineteen essays on twenty seven of those who were active primarily after this date Each chapter provides a brief biography of one or more scholars as well as a detailed description of their major contributions to the field This is followed by an often new application of the scholar's theory By focusing on the individual scholars and their work the book recognizes that interpretive approaches arise out of certain circumstances and that scholars are influenced by and have influences upon both other interpreters and the times in which they live This set is ideal for any class on the history of biblical interpretation and for those who want a greater understanding of how the current field of biblical studies developed Language, Hermeneutic, and History James M. Robinson, 2008-01-01 James M Robinson together with John B Cobb published a series of three volumes entitled New Frontiers in Theology The Later Heidegger and Theology 1963 The New Hermeneutic 1964 and

Theology as History 1967 Here they introduced the new directions that Continental theology was taking after the break caused by the Nazi period and World War II In each volume it was Robinson s assignment to write an extensive introduction of the new direction The German Discussion of the Later Heidegger Hermeneutic since Barth and Revelation as Word and as History Then others contributed essays These three seminar introductions are here brought together in a single volume which thus is the basic tool for getting into the Continental theology of the second half of the twentieth century "Behind the Text" Craig G. Bartholomew, 2003 The fourth in a series of books that result from annual conferences of the top evangelical hermeneutical scholars in the world The topic for this book probes contemporary theories on the philosophy and theology of history and analyzes how those views intersect with the concept of the Bible as history History and Hermeneutics Murray Rae, 2005-01-01 Examines the relation between historiography and hermeneutics on three hundred years of western thought The author offers a theological account of what history is centred on the categories of creation and divine promise and proposes that it is within this theological conception of history that the Bible may be understood on its own terms Christology, Hermeneutics, and Hebrews Jon C. Laansma, Daniel J. Treier, 2012-03-01 This book discusses the history of the interpretation of the Letter to the Hebrews across the last two millennia Beginning with the Patristic period essays go on to examine the responses of Thomas Aquinas Martin Luther John Calvin as well as more recent figures such as Karl Barth and contemporary global interpreters The premise behind the work is to move study of Hebrews away from the perennial arguments about its authorship and provenance and to instead engage with it from a theological perspective focusing upon the text s reception history Consequently the issue of the Christological message in Hebrews is at the forefront and is considered both in terms of the interpreter s context and historical setting At the end of the book the investigations are summarised and responded to by leading scholars Harold Attridge Donald A Hagner and Kathryn Greene McCreight providing a fitting conclusion to a radical academic project History of Biblical Interpretation, Volume 3 Henning Graf Reventlow, 2009 Volume 3 of History of Biblical Interpretation deals with an era Renaissance Reformation and humanism characterized by major changes such as the rediscovery of the writings of antiquity and the newly invented art of printing These developments created the context for one of the most important periods in the history of biblical interpretation one that combined both philological insights made possible by the now accessible ancient texts with new theological impulses and movements As representative of this period this volume examines the lives and teaching of Johann Reuchlin Erasmus Martin Luther Philipp Melanchthon John Calvin Thomas M ntzer Hugo Grotius and a host of other influential exegetes New Directions in Theology Today: History and hermeneutics, by C. E. Braaten William Hordern, 1966
