Eisenman,1998-03-01 A passionate quest for the historical James refigures Christian origins can be enjoyed as a thrilling essay in historical detection The Guardian James was a vegetarian wore only linen clothing bathed daily at dawn in cold water and was a life long Nazirite In this profound and provocative work of scholarly detection eminent biblical scholar Robert Eisenman introduces a startling theory about the identity of James the brother of Jesus who was almost entirely marginalized in the New Testament Drawing on long overlooked early Church texts and the Dead Sea Scrolls Eisenman reveals in this groundbreaking exploration that James not Peter was the real successor to the movement we now call Christianity In an argument with enormous implications Eisenman identifies Paul as deeply compromised by Roman contacts James is presented as not simply the leader of Christianity of his day but the popular Jewish leader of his time whose death triggered the Uprising against Rome a fact that creative rewriting of early Church documents has obscured Eisenman reveals that characters such as Judas Iscariot and the Apostle James did not exist as such In delineating the deliberate falsifications in New Testament documents Eisenman shows how as James was written out anti-Semitism was written in By rescuing James from the oblivion into which he was cast the final conclusion of James the Brother of Jesus is in the words of The Jerusalem Post apocalyptic who and whatever James was so was Jesus New York Magazine ,1982-06-07 New York magazine was

Schwarz,2011-01-01 Who is the God in whom Christians believe Is he just a figment of the human mind as critics of religion claimed in the nineteenth century and as crusading atheists assert again today Since the beginnings of rational thought the brightest minds among humanity have attempted to assert that God does indeed exist But even the so called proofs for God s existence always started with the assumption that there is someone to prove As soon as we move beyond that which is within space and time mere proofs or disproofs no longer suffice Both believers and unbelievers live to a certain degree by faith Yet religion is inextricably connected with human history When we journey through the landscape of religion and witness its gradual unfolding we soon realize that not all religions are equal Though they may be witnesses of the same God the way they talk about God is so different that this not only leads to very different concepts of God but also to different approaches to life on this earth At the end of this long journey we finally arrive at the Judeo Christian tradition which witnesses to the God in whom Christians believe This book seeks to show how this belief matured and what difference this belief still makes today New York Magazine ,1982-06-14 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York
