Trick Is To Keep Breathing Scottish Literature:

The Trick is to Keep Breathing Janice Galloway, 1995 This inventive first novel explores the widespread problem of female depression A 27 year old drama teacher named Joy Stone is losing her grip on the world The problems of everyday living accumulate and begin to torture the narrator who blames her problems not on her work or on the accidental death of her illicit lover but on herself She reads horoscopes plucks hairs holds conversations inside and outside herself A terrible memory tries to unfold but is resisted Family and friends take on monstrous or pitiful guises food threatens to become a major character Clutching at the wrong things the trick is to find those that let life go on As things seen things bought and things said become obsessions so the author conjures up the homely or horrifying world of litter in which the reader like the heroine lives

Prizing Scottish Literature Stevie Marsden, 2021-02-15 This cultural history of the Saltire Society Literary Awards demonstrates the significance the awards have had within Scottish literary and cultural life It is one piece of the wider cultural award puzzle and illustrates how far from being parochial or niche lesser known awards whose histories may be yet untold play their own role in the circulation of cultural value through the consecration of literary value The study of the Society's Book of the Year and First Book of the Year Awards not only highlights how important connections between literary awards and national culture and identity are within prize culture and how literary awards and their founding institutions can be products of the socio political and cultural milieu in which they form but this study also illustrates how existing literary award scholarship has only begun to scratch the surface of the complexities of the phenomenon This book promotes a new approach to considering literary prizes proposing that the concept of the literary awards hierarchy can contribute to emerging and developing discourses pertaining to literary and indeed cultural prizes more broadly

Edinburgh Companion to Contemporary Scottish Literature Berthold Schoene,2007-04-11 The Edinburgh Companion to Contemporary Scottish Literature examines the ways in which the cultural and political role of Scottish writing has changed since the country's successful referendum on national self rule in 1997 In doing so it makes a convincing case for a distinctive post devolution Scottish criticism Introducing over forty original essays under four main headings Contexts Genres Authors and Topics the volume covers the entire spectrum of current interests and topical concerns in the field of Scottish studies and heralds a new era in Scottish writing literary criticism and cultural theory It records and critically outlines prominent literary trends and developments the specific political circumstances and aesthetic agendas that propel them as well as literature's capacity for envisioning new and alternative futures Issues under discussion include class sexuality and gender nationhood and globalisation the New Europe and cosmopolitan citizenship postcoloniality The Routledge History of Literature in English Ronald Carter,John McRae,2001 This is a guide to the main developments in the history of British and Irish literature charting some of the main features of literary language development and highlighting key language topics Subaltern Ethics in Contemporary Scottish and Irish Literature S. Lehner, 2011-05-27 This book develops an innovative Irish Scottish postcolonial approach by galvanizing Emmanuel Levinas ethics with the socio cultural category of the subaltern It sheds new light on contemporary Scottish and Irish fiction exploring how these writings interact with the recent restructuring of the three state formations in Ireland and Scotland Representing Scotland in Literature, Popular Culture and Iconography A. Riach, 2004-12-10 This fascinating new study is about cultural change and continuities At the core of the book are discrete literary studies of Scotland and Shakespeare Walter Scott R L Stevenson Arthur Conan Doyle the modern Scottish Renaissance of the 1920s and more recent cultural and literary phenomena The central theme of literature and popular representation recontextualises literary analysis in a broader multi faceted picture involving all the arts and the changing sense of what the popular might be in a modern nation New technologies alter forms of cultural production and the book charts a way through these forms from oral poetry and song to the novel and includes studies of paintings classical music socialist drama TV film and comic books The international context for mass media cultural production is examined as the story of the intrinsic curiosity of the imagination and the intensely local aspect of Scotland s cultural self representation unfolds Home in British Working-Class Fiction Nicola Wilson, 2016-03-09 Home in British Working Class Fiction offers a fresh take on British working class writing that turns away from a masculinist work based understanding of class in favour of home gender domestic labour and the family kitchen As Nicola Wilson shows the history of the British working classes has often been written from the outside with observers looking into the world of the inhabitants Here Wilson engages with the long cultural history of this gaze and asks how home is represented in the writing of authors who come from a working class background Her book explores the depiction of home as a key emotional and material site in working class writing from the Edwardian period through to the early 1990s Wilson presents new readings of classic texts including The Ragged Trousered Philanthropists Love on the Dole and Saturday Night and Sunday Morning analyzing them alongside works by authors including James Hanley Walter Brierley Lewis Grassie Gibbon Buchi Emecheta Pat Barker James Kelman and the rediscovered ex mill girl novelist Ethel Carnie Holdsworth Wilson s broad understanding of working class writing allows her to incorporate figures typically ignored in this context as she demonstrates the importance of home s role in the making and expression of class feeling and identity The 1980s: A Decade of Contemporary British Fiction Philip Tew, Emily Horton, Leigh Wilson, 2014-02-27 How did social cultural and political events in Britain during the 1980s shape contemporary British fiction Setting the fiction squarely within the context of Conservative politics and questions about culture and national identity this volume reveals how the decade associated with Thatcherism frames the work of Kazuo Ishiguro Martin Amis and Graham Swift of Scottish novelists and new diasporic writers How and why 1980s fiction is a response to particular psychological social and economic pressures is explored in detail Drawing on the rise of individualism and the birth of neo liberalism contributors reflect on the tense relations between 1980s politics and realism and between elegy and satire Noting the creation of a heritage industry during the decade the rise of the historical novel is also considered against broader cultural changes Viewed from the perspective of more recent theorisations of crisis following both 9 11 and the 21st century financial crash this study makes sense of why and how writers of the 1980s constructed fictions in response to this decade's own set of fundamental crises
