Wallensteen: A Pioneer in Making Peace Researchable Peter Wallensteen, 2021-05-28 This book provides a broad overview of what peace research is all about by an author who has been involved in the field for more than half a century Among other things it gives a unique review of how peace research emerged in Sweden as the author was a key actor in the most crucial events during this formative period The book also portrays how the discipline has grown from an initial focus on alternatives to war to the comprehensive study of the many dimensions of a lasting and positive peace The author's own work covers causes of war sanctions conflict resolution conflict data mediation and quality peace They demonstrate the range of topics that have to be understood for a peace with quality This is exemplified by some of the author's writings specifically selected for this volume plus a few ones original to it Some accounts of the author's involvements in actual peace processes in the 1990s are also included This publication offers a substantial contribution to understanding the evolution of peace research as a field and is an important reading for scholars policy makers journalists students and any aspiring peace researcher as well as for the public at large Peter Wallensteen is a global pioneer of peace research due to his involvement in the creation of the Department of Peace and Conflict Research at Uppsala University a major center in the field He served as Head of Department from 1972 to 1999 Peter Wallensteen set up and directed the well known Uppsala Conflict Data Program UCDP the global resource for the study of armed conflicts and peace negotiations 1978 2015 Peter Wallensteen was the first holder of the Dag Hammarskjöld Chair in Peace and Conflict Research at Uppsala University 1985 2012 He was also the first holder of the position as the Richard G Starmann Sr Research Professor of Peace Studies at the Kroc Institute for

International Peace Studies University of Notre Dame USA 2006 2018 Legitimacy in Peacebuilding Franzisca Zanker, 2017-09-13 The book offers a critical analysis of legitimacy in peacebuilding with a focus on peace negotiations and civil society participation in particular The aim of this book is to unpack the meaning of legitimacy for the population in peacebuilding processes and the relationship this has with civil society involvement There is a growing consensus for addressing local concerns in peacebuilding with the aim of ensuring local ownership Moreover scholars have noted a relationship between civil society inclusion in peace negotiations and legitimacy Yet the very idea of legitimacy remains a black box Using data from original empirical fieldwork including over 100 semi structured interviews and 12 focus group discussions the book focuses on two case studies of negotiations that respectively ended a long civil war in Liberia in 2003 and ended the post election violence in Kenya in 2008 It argues that civil society involvement is conceptually insufficient to show a multidimensional understanding of legitimacy Instead the book shows a complex picture of legitimate peace negotiations based on outcome and participation based characteristics with the involvement of both guarantors of legitimacy and a more general civic agency which includes the general population Through forms of participative communication the passive audience become active stakeholders in the construction of legitimacy This has repercussions for how we think about civil society and peacebuilding more generally This book will be of much interest to students of peacebuilding conflict resolution security studies and IR in general The SAGE Handbook of Survey Methodology Christof Wolf, Dominique Joye, Tom W Smith, Yang-chih Fu, 2016-07-11 Survey Methodology is becoming a more structured field of research deserving of more and more academic attention The SAGE Handbook of Survey Methodology explores both the increasingly scientific endeavour of surveys and their growing complexity as different data collection modes and information sources are combined The handbook takes a global approach with a team of international experts looking at local and national specificities as well as problems of cross national comparative survey research The chapters are organized into seven major sections each of which represents a stage in the survey life cycle Surveys and Societies Planning a Survey Measurement Sampling Data Collection Preparing Data for Use Assessing and Improving Data Quality The SAGE Handbook of Survey Methodology is a landmark and essential tool for any scholar within the social sciences A Research Agenda for Peace and Tourism Anna Farmaki, 2024-01-18 This highly prescient Research Agenda critically examines the delicate intersection of peace and tourism and proposes further research in order to explore how tourism may contribute to peace or conversely hinder the peacebuilding efforts of destinations in conflict Chapters discuss tourism as a peace builder the acceptance of dark tourism a gender approach to peace through tourism and corporate social responsibility as a contributor to peace in conflict ridden situations Experiences in Researching Conflict and Violence Rivas, Althea-Maria, Browne, Brendan Ciarán, 2019-08-07 This international edited collection brings together personal accounts from researchers working in and on conflict and explores the roles of emotion violence uncertainty identity and positionality within the process of doing research as well as the complexity of methodological choices It highlights the researchers own subjectivity and presents a nuanced view of conflict research that goes beyond the messiness inherent in the process of research in and on violence It addresses the uncomfortable spaces of conflict research the potential for violence of research itself and the need for deeper reflection on these issues This powerful book opens up spaces for new conversations about the realities of conflict research These critical self reflections and honest accounts provide important insights for any scholar or practitioner working in similar environments

Fighting Over Peace Andrew G. Reiter, 2016-09-19 This book presents post peace agreement violence as a serious yet predictable and manageable political phenomenon Negotiating an end to a civil war is extremely difficult and many signed peace agreements subsequently unravel ushering in renewed conflict In response important international actors have become increasingly involved in conflict mediation peacekeeping and post conflict reconstruction around the globe Policymakers and scholars alike have identified spoilers violent actors who often rise up and attempt to challenge or derail the peace process as one of the greatest threats to peace Using a mixed method approach combining quantitative and qualitative analyses of a newly created global dataset of spoiling Reiter demonstrates that this type of violence occurs in predictable circumstances and only represents a threat to peace under specific conditions The book also shows that spoiling often serves to bring agreement flaws and implementation failures to light and in turn forces actors to recommit to an accord thereby strengthening peace in the long term

Finding Peace in Iraq: Joint Field Research on New Approaches to Peacebuilding in the Kurdistan Region Thomas Hill, Talia Hagerty, 2013 Scholars at the University of Duhok in the Kurdistan Region of Iraq have spent the past decade exploring peace and conflict studies and have established the field's only degree granting program in Iraq In 2012 2013 students and professors from the University of Duhok and New York University met to design and conduct peace research in the KRI Finding Peace in Iraq is one result of their work These collaborative studies offer valuable knowledge related to peacebuilding in different dimensions economics resource management minority and gender inclusion education and religion This research represents an important step in reframing relationships between a generation of Americans and Iraqis who have known nothing but isolation and separation from each other

Contesting Peace in the Postwar City Ivan Gusic, 2019-12-03 Contesting Peace in the Postwar City is key reading for urban and peace and conflict scholars In this impressive and meticulously researched book Gusic reflects on the ways in which divisions are routinised in the everyday landscape of divided cities and skilfully investigates how change and continuity are governed in postwar urban spaces The book provides rich empirical material from the cities of Mostar Mitrovica and Belfast drawing on nuanced fieldwork insights Stefanie Kappler Durham University UK Ivan Gusic sets out a powerful theoretically critical and empirically rich account of the trajectories of cities after war The strength of the work is that it brings an understanding of the urban condition into relation with ethno national conflict and the survival of violence Gusic unsettles dominant narratives in peace studies by offering a grounded evaluation of three cities coming out of violence and points to the importance of place in peacebuilding processes Brendan Murtagh Queen s University Belfast UK Detailed case studies of Belfast Mitrovica and Mostar show how cities are often engines of what Ivan Gusic calls war in peace This on trend study combines the latest research from critical urban studies with peace and conflict studies to produce a very accessible and internationally relevant book It is highly recommended Roger Mac Ginty Durham University UK This book explores why the postwar city reinforces rather than transcends its continuities of war in peace It theorises war to peace transitions as conflicts over how to socio politically order society and then analyses different urban conflicts over peace s in postwar Belfast Northern Ireland Mitrovica Kosovo and Mostar Bosnia Herzegovina Focusing on themes such as educational segregation clientelism fear paramilitaries and infrastructure it shows how conflict lines from war are perpetuated in and by the postwar city Yet it also discovers instances where antagonisms are bridged by utilising the postwar city s transcending potential While written in the nexus between peace research and urban studies this book also speaks to political geography international relations anthropology and planning

Conflict, Peace, Security and Development Helen Hintjens, Dubravka Zarkov, 2014-08-13 Whilst classical approaches linked development with peace security has become central to understandings of both war and peacetime This book uniquely reflects on how to deal with the convergence of war and peace in the context of global economic and geo political development It addresses methodological challenges in contemporary approaches to conflict violence security peace and development Two dominant contemporary approaches are selected for debate on methodologies and ethical choices rational choice and identity based theorizing The chapters are arranged as dialogues around contending approaches to better understand how the inter locking fields of violent conflict peace development and security can be researched and understood The book considers how theoretical and methodological approaches relate to different ethical and political choices including around engagement and intervention in the four interwoven fields Theoretical methodological and ethical issues emerge from the critical reviews of academic discourses and case study based chapters from across the world including Sri Lanka Ghana Colombia and Rwanda This book is an invaluable resource for postgraduate students and researchers in Development Studies Conflict Studies Peace Studies and Security Studies

Handbook provides analyses of the negotiation process from four distinct perspectives negotiators cognition and emotion social processes and social inferences communication processes and complex negotiations covering trade peace environment and crisis negotiations Providing an introduction to key topics in negotiation written by leading researchers in the field the book will prove insightful for undergraduate students It also incorporates an excellent summary of past research as well as highlights new directions negotiation research might take which will be valuable for postgraduate students and academics wishing to expand their knowledge on the subject

Ceasefire Agreements and Peace Processes Malin

Akebo,2016-11-10 This book analyses and compares ceasefire agreements as part of peace processes in intrastate armed conflicts Research repeatedly underscores the importance of ceasefire agreements in peace processes but suggests that they can influence such processes in fundamentally different ways However despite contradictory expectations remarkably few studies have so far been devoted to systematic and in depth analysis of ceasefire agreements in contemporary intrastate armed conflicts This book contributes to filling this gap by using a process oriented conflict dynamics approach to analyse and explain how ceasefire agreements are being influenced by and in turn influences the broader dynamics of peace processes Empirically the book focuses on the armed conflicts in Aceh Indonesia and Sri Lanka Based on document studies and 57 interviews with key actors it presents comparative insights and in depth knowledge about ceasefire agreements in different contextual settings The book problematizes the common assumption in the literature that ceasefire agreements create momentum in peace processes and pave the way to peace and it provides a more nuanced analysis and understanding based on two empirical cases analysed within a comparative framework In contrast to conventional wisdom it demonstrates how ceasefires on the contrary also can have negative implications on peace processes This book will be of much interest to students of conflict resolution peace studies intra state conflict security studies and IR in general

Peacebuilding in the United Nations Fernando Cavalcante,2019-05-06 This book traces the trajectory and different meanings of the concept of peacebuilding in the United Nations since the early 1990s It analyses how that concept gained life in a particular context and the implications of this process for the Organisation s support to societies affected by armed conflict in general and for peace operations in particular Departing from tenets about the influence of ideas in world politics and engaging with the critique of the liberal peace scholarship the book provides a theoretically informed narrative of how peacebuilding acquired different meanings while remaining largely motivated justified legitimated and informed by a proactive and top down agenda of promoting liberal democratic institutions norms and values as a remedy to the challenges faced by societies affected by armed conflict The book will appeal to scholars policymakers and practitioners in peacebuilding and post conflict development

Routledge Handbook of Civil Wars Edward Newman,Karl DeRouen, Jr.,2014-02-18 This comprehensive new Handbook explores the significance and nature of armed intrastate conflict and civil war in the modern world Civil wars and intrastate conflict represent the principal form of organised violence since the end of World War II and certainly in the contemporary era These conflicts have a huge impact and drive major political change within the societies in which they occur as well as on an international scale The global importance of recent intrastate and regional conflicts in Afghanistan Pakistan Iraq Somalia Nepal Cote d'Ivoire Syria and Libya amongst others has served to refocus academic and policy interest upon civil war Drawing together contributions from key thinkers in the field who discuss the sources causes duration nature and recurrence of civil wars as well as their political meaning and international impact the Handbook is organised into five key parts Part I Understanding and Explaining Civil Wars Theoretical and Methodological Debates Part II The Causes of Civil Wars Part III The Nature and Impact of Civil Wars Part IV International Dimensions Part V Termination and Resolution of Civil Wars Covering a wide range of topics including micro level issues as well as broader debates Routledge Handbook of Civil Wars will set a benchmark for future research in the field This volume will be of much interest to students of civil wars and intrastate conflict ethnic conflict political violence peace and conflict studies security studies and IR in general

Building Peace, Creating Conflict? Hanne Fjelde, Kristine Höglund, 2012-01-03 One of the most significant challenges facing the international community today is how to stabilize and rebuild societies emerging from civil wars and this book which includes both theoretical discussions and empirical applications considers the various factors of peacebuilding As it addresses several pertinent academic debates relating to international interventions and local ownership international and local conceptions of gender equality and the legal aspects of peace implementation this account demonstrates how some postwar countries have made significant strides towards peace and democracy while others have experienced a return to war A policy relevant topic Building Peace Creating Conflict will appeal to students and scholars of international relations and peace studies as well as to practitioners involved in peacebuilding efforts in war affected countries Peacebuilding and Ex-Combatants Johanna Söderström, 2014-12-17 The book examines how ex combatants in post war and peacebuilding settings engage in politics as seen in the case of Liberia The political mobilization of former combatants after war is often perceived as a threat ultimately undermining the security and stability of the state This book questions this simplified view and argues that understanding the political voice of former combatants is imperative Their post war role is not black and white they are not just bad or good citizens but rather engage in multiple political roles spoilers victims disengaged beneficiaries as well as motivated and active citizens By looking at the political attitudes and values of former combatants and their understanding of how politics functions the book sheds new light on the political reintegration of ex combatants It argues that political reintegration needs to be given serious attention at the micro level but also needs to be scrutinized in two ways first through the level of political involvement which reflects the extent and width of the ex combatants voice Second in order to make sense of political reintegration we also need to uncover what values and norms inform their political involvement The content of their political voice is captured through a comparison with democratic ideals Based on interviews with over 100 Liberian ex combatants the book highlights that their relationship with politics overall should be characterized as an expression of a politics of affection This book will be of much interest to students of peacebuilding African politics democratization political sociology conflict resolution and IR Security Studies in general
