Ordinary Notes Christina Sharpe, 2023-04-04 WINNER OF THE 2023 HILARY WESTON WRITERS TRUST PRIZE FOR NONFICTION FINALIST FOR THE NATIONAL BOOK AWARD A dazzlingly inventive deeply moving intellectually bracing exploration of pain and beauty private memory and public monument art and complexity in contemporary Black life I wanted to write about silences and terror and acts that hover over generations over centuries I began by writing about my mother and grandmother from Note 18 in Ordinary Notes A singular achievement Ordinary Notes explores with immense care profound questions about loss and the shapes of Black life that emerge in the wake In a series of 248 brief and urgent notes that gather meaning as we read them Christina Sharpe skillfully weaves artifacts from the past public ones alongside others that are poignantly personal with present day realities and possible futures intricately constructing an immersive portrait of everyday Black existence Through the striking images and words in these pages themes and tones echo sometimes about life art language beauty memory sometimes about history photography and literature but always attending with exquisite care to the ordinary extraordinary dimensions of Black life At the heart of Ordinary Notes is the indelible presence of the author's mother Ida Wright Sharpe I learned to see in my mother's house writes Sharpe I learned how not to see in my mother's house My mother gifted me a love of beauty a love of words Using these and other gifts and ways of seeing Sharpe steadily summons a chorus of voices and experiences to become present on the page She articulates and follows an aesthetic of beauty as a method collects entries from a community of thinkers towards a Dictionary of Untranslatable Blackness and rigorously examines sites of memory and memorial And in the process she forges a new literary form as multivalent as the ways of Black being it traces

We Resist Cynthia Levine-Rasky, Lisa Kowalchuk, 2020-05-21 The 2016 US presidential election exposed rising xenophobic and nationalist sentiment within the United States and other democratic countries As populist movements grow democratic freedoms erode We Resist demonstrates that the things we often take for granted safety family employment health a promising future are under attack and we must fight to preserve these resources before it's too late We are currently witnessing the dismantlement of social programs growing disinterest in international cooperation and the devaluation of evidence based knowledge This disturbing shift in politics is leading to increased national security measures violations to basic human rights and widening social and economic inequalities The rise of far right populism brings with it intolerance of ethnic sexual and all other minority groups and a rejection of democratic society We Resist gathers the compelling perspectives of scholars and activists who are deeply embedded within political and community struggles who participate in policy decisions and who are engaged in research that advances those struggles An essential and timely book We Resist confronts the problems we face as a human community and impels a cross sectoral movement to defend our rights and revitalize the common good

Congressional-Executive Commission on China Annual Report 2015 , The Promise of Sociology Rob Beamish, 2016-01-01 The second edition of this award winning introduction to sociology has been substantially revised throughout including improved connections between the discussion of millennials and Mills's concept of the sociological imagination

The Routledge Handbook of Literature and Space Robert Tally Jr., 2017-01-06 The spatial turn in literary studies is transforming the way we think of the field The Routledge Handbook of Literature and Space maps the key areas of spatiality within literary studies offering a comprehensive overview but also pointing towards new and exciting directions of study The interdisciplinary and global approach provides a thorough introduction and includes thirty two essays on topics such as Spatial theory and practice Critical methodologies Work sites Cities and the geography of urban experience Maps territories readings The contributors to this volume demonstrate how a variety of romantic realist modernist and postmodernist narratives represent the changing social spaces of their world and of our own world system today

Angel Song: Medieval English Music in History Lisa Colton, 2016-12-08 Although medieval English music has been relatively neglected in comparison with repertoire from France and Italy there are few classical musicians today who have not listened to the thirteenth century song Sumer is icumen in or read of the achievements and fame of fifteenth century composer John Dunstaple Similarly the identification of a distinctively English musical style sometimes understood as the contenance angloise has been made on numerous occasions by writers exploring the extent to which English ideas influenced polyphonic composition abroad Angel Song Medieval English Music in History examines the ways in which the standard narratives of English musical history have been crafted from the Middle Ages to the present Colton challenges the way in which the concept of a canon of English music has been built around a handful of pieces composers and practices each of which offers opportunities for a reappraisal of English musical and devotional cultures between 1250 and 1460

Sold Down the Yangtze Gus Van Harten, 2015-08-13 When legal experts finally saw the terms of the investment deal Canada had signed with China they could hardly believe what their eyes saw. The deal was unprecedented. Canada had never given so much away to a trading partner. But Ottawa did not allow a full public review and ultimately ratified the deal in 2014 with no changes. And the government moved forward with other trade deals that contain many of the same flaws. In this book investment treaty expert Gus Van Harten offers the first ever independent take on the details of the China Canada investment deal and what it means for Canadians. Many of the deal's provisions are so extreme that readers may find it almost impossible to believe that the Canadian government agreed to them. He explains how this agreement and others like it give multinational corporations and rich investors superpowers over governments. Secretive courts staffed by private lawyers not judges are able to order governments to pay these investors billions for policies and decisions they object to. In simple language and easy to follow analysis Van Harten offers a window into this secretive and obscure world. He documents the many ways Canadians lose out in the China Canada deal and how taxpayers may find themselves footing the bill for billions of dollars to Chinese investors who object to the actions of democratically elected municipal provincial and federal governments. This deal in place for a minimum 15 years includes terms that may well turn up in other trade and investment agreements. Gus Van Harten offers practical steps for a better more informed public debate on this vital topic.

The Routledge Companion to the Cultural Industries Kate Oakley, Justin O'Connor, 2015-05-22 The Routledge Companion to the Cultural Industries is a collection of contemporary scholarship on the cultural industries and seeks to reassert the importance of cultural production and consumption against the purely economic imperatives of the creative industries. Across 43 chapters drawn from a wide range of geographic and disciplinary perspectives this comprehensive volume offers a critical and empirically informed examination of the contemporary cultural industries. A range of cultural industries are explored from videogames to art galleries all the time focussing on the culture that is being produced and its wider symbolic and socio cultural meaning. Individual chapters consider their industrial structure the policy that governs them their geography the labour that produces them and the meaning they offer to consumers and participants. The collection also explores the historical dimension of cultural industry debates providing context for new readers as well as critical orientation for those more familiar with the subject. Questions of industry structure labour place international development consumption and regulation are all explored in terms of their historical trajectory and potential future direction. By assessing the current challenges facing the cultural industries this collection of contemporary scholarship provides students and researchers with an essential guide to key ideas issues concepts and debates in the field.

Who Saved the Parthenon? William St Clair, 2022-05-26 In this magisterial book William St Clair unfolds the history of the Parthenon throughout the modern era to the present day with special emphasis on the period before during and after the Greek War of Independence of 1821 32 Focusing particularly on the question of who saved the Parthenon from destruction during this conflict with the help of documents that shed a new light on this enduring question he explores the contributions made by the Philhellenes Ancient Athenians Ottomans and the Great Powers Marshalling a vast amount of primary evidence much of it previously unexamined and published here for the first time St Clair rigorously explores the multiple ways in which the Parthenon has served both as a cultural icon onto which meanings are projected and as a symbol of particular national religious and racial identities as well as how it illuminates larger questions about the uses of built heritage This book has a companion volume with the classical Parthenon as its main focus which offers new ways of recovering the monument and its meanings in ancient times St Clair builds on the success of his classic text The Reading Nation in the Romantic Period to present this rich and authoritative account of the Parthenon's presentation and reception throughout history With weighty implications for the present life of the Parthenon it is itself a monumental contribution to accounts of the Greek Revolution to classical studies and to intellectual history
