CONVEYING IDEAS A Text Book on Improving Public Speech Dr Ananta Geetey Uppal, Oral Communication Kathryn Sue Young, Howard Paul Travis, 2017-11-10 Every day we communicate in our professional and personal lives to initiate or improve relationships, get what we want, function in teams, and learn new things. The success of these interactions depends on the ability to be effective in conveying messages. The Fourth Edition of this widely used text presents indispensable skills to encode and decode messages, guiding readers to develop their own communication style. Retaining its concise yet comprehensive coverage, the latest edition explores digital age communication techniques and includes sections on communication privacy management theory and affection exchange theory. Oral Communication 4 E presents a wide range of introductory topics in an affordable, straightforward, and fun format. Each chapter opens with clear learning objectives and ends with key terms and discussion questions. Interactive exercises throughout the book engage readers as they are asked to reflect on previous experiences, experiment with tools provided to them in the text, react to hypothetical scenarios, and think critically. Readers will benefit from professional sidebars that illustrate how academic concepts fit into the careers they will soon enter. Teaching First-Year Communication Courses Pat J. Gehrke, 2018-07-26 In this book, eleven teacher scholars of communication provide a robust study of the challenges and opportunities facing those who teach first-year communication courses. The first half of the volume offers paradigmatic analyses, including a survey of the ecology of the first-year course, a plea to integrate our first-year courses into our research agendas, a study of the gap between scholarship and pedagogy within rhetoric, a proposal for seven core competencies to unify the various first-year communication courses, and an argument for a critical communication paradigm. The second half details innovations in classroom practice, such as the teaching techniques of social justice pedagogues, team-based learning as a model for the public speaking course response, and feedback techniques in teaching public speaking at the University of Copenhagen teaching online speech as a new course focused on the unique challenges of digital communication and the role of oral interpretation and performance classes in the first year curriculum Finally this volume concludes with the editor s manifesto for teaching public speaking

Political Argumentation in the United States David Zarefsky,2014-09-15 In the United States political argumentation occurs in institutionalized settings and the broader public forum in efforts to resolve conflict and efforts to foster it in settings with time limits and controversies that extend over centuries From the ratification of the U S Constitution to the presidency of Barack Obama this book contains twenty studies of U S political argumentation grouped under four themes early American political discourse Abraham Lincoln s political argumentation argumentation about foreign policy and public policy argumentation since the 1960s Deploying methods of rhetorical criticism argument analysis and evaluation the studies are rich in contextual grounding and critical perspective They integrate the European emphasis on politics as an argumentative context with the U S tradition of public address studies Two essays have never before been published The others are retrieved from journals and books published between 1979 and 2014 The introductory essay is new for this volume Rhetorical Questions □□□□,2018-02-16

Traditional accounts of rhetorical questions have focused on polarity reversal rhetorical questions conveying assertions opposite in polarity to the propositional content However non polarity reversed and rhetorically ambiguous interrogatives are also common In this book Risa Goto seeks a theoretical approach that can explain this pragmatic ambiguity with respect to rhetoricity The relevance theoretic view of interrogative and ironical utterances assumes no clear cut borderline between information seeking and rhetorical use of interrogative utterances The cognitive model of irony suggests that recognition of ironicalness necessarily leads to a rhetorical reading Goto combines these two theoretical frameworks into an entirely new cognitive pragmatic model of interrogatives discussing the causal interrelation between rhetoricity and ironicalness and showing that ironical aspects in interrogative utterances can lead to rhetorical readings Public Speaking Made Easy

Judith A. Rolls,2003 With Public Speaking Made Easy Judith Rolls has written a book that combines the theoretical with the practical Students not only learn the how to elements of public speaking but they also learn strategies to make themselves effective public speakers addressing questions such as Why develop public speaking skills Why learn about your audience before the speech Why is language style so important Public Speaking Made Easy uses many examples and actual student quotations that make the subject come alive It is presented in a clear succinct down to earth manner cutting to the quick to help ease student apprehensiveness about the topic And since it s packaged with InfoTrac College Edition students can access 20 years worth of full text articles more than 10 million from nearly 4 000 scholarly and popular sources including Canadian Speeches

Encyclopedia of Communication and Information Jorge Reina Schement,2002 Explores the full spectrum of communication from careers to information technologies in an interdisciplinary fashion Emphasis is on both historical and current issues topics and people Speaking the Truth in Love Daniel R. Berger,2007-01-01 Approaching public communication from a liberal arts point of view Speaking the Truth in Love provides a distinctly Christian perspective of rhetoric Written and oral rhetoric are interwoven throughout the text Two foundational ideas control the majority of the text The first is from Plato s Phaedrus as stated by Paul in Ephesians 4 15 speaking the truth in love The second is from the Apostle Peter in 1 Peter 4 11 if anyone speaks he should do it as one speaking the very words of God The spiritual responsibility of communicating truth in accordance with the nature of God especially the virtue of love is an awesome privilege and opportunity Sound content spoken or written eloquently with charisma will enable words to have a maximum impact The text is designed to be a culminating learning experience for undergraduate communication programs or as an introductory text for graduate programs involving public communication Beginning with a philosophy of language meaning and interaction argument is built against secular deconstructive thought where everyone has a different truth based on language Alongside philosophy we explore ethics and theology from an evangelical perspective Following this a brief history outlines rhetorical thought from pre testament classics to today Based upon these ideas we take a closer look at communication theory as it relates to public communication Finally the text addresses the practice of both written and oral communication

Queering Public Address Charles E. Morris, 2007 Ten noted rhetorical critics disrupt the silence regarding nonnormative sexualities in the study of American historical discourse and upend the heteronormativity that governs much of rhetorical history Enacting both political and radical visions these scholars articulate the promises of gay lesbian bisexual and transgender public address The contributors consider figures such as Abraham Lincoln Eleanor Roosevelt Harvey Milk Marlon Riggs and Lorraine Hansberry and issues as diverse as collective identity nineteenth century semiotics of gender and sexuality the sexual politics of the Harlem Renaissance psychiatric productions of the queer and violence induced traumatic styles
