Did Dōgen Go to China? Steven Heine, 2006-05-25 Dogen 1200 1253 the founder of the S t Zen sect in Japan is especially known for introducing to Japanese Buddhism many of the texts and practices that he discovered in China Heine reconstructs the context of Dogen's travels to and reflections on China by means of a critical look at traditional sources both by and about Dogen in light of recent Japanese scholarship While many studies emphasize the unique features of Dogen's Japanese influences this book calls attention to the way Chinese and Japanese elements were fused in Dogen's religious vision It reveals many new materials and insights into Dogen's main writings including the multiple editions of the Shōbōgenzō and how and when this seminal text was created by Dōgen and was edited and interpreted by his disciples This book is the culmination of the author's thirty years of research on Dōgen and provides the reader with a comprehensive approach to the master's life works and an understanding of the overall career trajectory of one of the most important figures in the history of Buddhism and Asian religious thought The Fracture of Meaning David Pollack, 2017-03-14 From the beginning of its recorded history until the opening to the West in the last century Japan was caught between a love for and a rejection of Chinese civilization David Pollack argues that the dialectical relationship between the two countries figured more importantly in the Japanese sense of identity and signification than any particular borrowed Chinese cultural materials Originally published in 1986 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Six Circles, One Dewdrop Arthur H. Thornhill, 2017-03-14 Noh drama has long fascinated Westerners by its poetic excellence and its dramatic power To the student of medieval Japanese culture however noh writings especially dramaturgical treatises are also of immense value as monuments of culture To uncover the larger patterns of cultural discourse in these theoretical works Arthur Thornhill presents the first major study in English of the dramaturgical treatises of Komparu Zenchiku 1405-1468 son in law and pupil of the illustrious Zeami and a pivotal figure in the history of Japanese noh drama The book begins with annotated translations of two of Zenchiku's most important treatises which delineate a system of seven symbolic categories called six circles and one dewdrop Especially significant are two commentaries appended to the first treatise and composed by the Buddhist prelate Shigyoku 1383-1463 and Ichijō Kaneyoshi 1402-1481 the renowned court official and scholar of native literature and the Chinese classics Together Zenchiku's symbolic system and the two commentaries reveal a microcosm of the intellectual and cultural dialogue among the dominant creeds of the Muromachi period Buddhism Confucianism and Shinto Originally published in 1993 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 The Religious Traditions of Japan 500-1600 Richard Bowring, 2005-09-15 The first English language overview of the interaction of Buddhism and Shintō in Japanese culture Bokutotsusō Ildegarda Scheidegger, 2005 Mus Sōseki 1275-1351 one of the most important Zen patriarchs of the early fourteenth century in Japan devoted his life to spreading Buddhist wisdom in his writings As a member of the Gozan movement he belonged to the literary elite and had a profound knowledge of Chinese and Japanese poetry. He left behind numerous calligraphies among them those now housed in the temples Engakuji and Zuizenji in Kamakura and in Tenryūji and Saihōji in Kyoto. Mus signed many of his calligraphies with his pseudonym Bokutotsus which means the wooden stutterer. Most of Mus's calligraphies are composed in cursive script and deal with themes of particular interest to him such as nature and religious education. This book examines how these themes relate to the different stages of Mus's life. It also analyses his attitude toward calligraphy and the influence of other calligraphers on his artistic development. For this purpose pivotal calligraphies that reveal Mus's stylistic development, his aesthetics and underlying message as well as the trajectory of his life have been chosen for closer examination. The research for this book was conducted at the temples that were at the center of Mus's activities. The first work to discuss Mus's calligraphy in a Western language, this book offers insights into his texts together with illustrations of Mus's brushwork.
