Tropic Of Cancer :

Tropic of Cancer Henry Miller, 1961 Tropic of Cancer Henry Miller, 1977 Tropic of Cancer Henry Miller, 2013-02-19 A stream of consciousness story of a poverty stricken young American living in Paris Citizen Critics Rosa A. Eberly, 2000 The condition of our public discussions about literary and cultural works has much to say about the condition of our democracy and the author argues for more public discourse in classrooms newspapers magazines etc to reclaim a public voice on national artistic matters In this revealing study of the links among literature rhetoric and democracy Rosa A Eberly explores the public debate generated by amateur and professional readers about four controversial literary works two that were censored in the United States and two that created conflict because they were not censored In Citizen Critics Eberly compares the outrage sparked by the publication of James Joyce's Ulysses and Henry Miller's Tropic of Cancer with the relative quiescence that greeted the much more violent and sexually explicit content of Bret Easton Ellis's American Psycho and Andrea Dworkin's Mercy Through a close reading of letters to the editor reviews media coverage and court cases Eberly shows how literary critics and legal experts defused censorship debates by shifting the focus from content to aesthetics and from social values to publicity By asserting their authority to pass judgments thus denying the authority of citizen critics these professionals effectively removed the discussion from literary public spheres A passionate advocate for treating reading as a public and rhetorical enterprise rather than solely as a private one Eberly suggests the potential impact a work of literature may have on the social polity if it is brought into public forums for debate rather than removed to the exclusive rooms of literary criticism Eberly urges educators to use their classrooms as protopublic spaces in which students can learn to make the transition from private reader to public citizen The Making of a Counter-culture Icon Maria R. Bloshteyn, 2007-01-01 At first glance the works of Fedor Dostoevsky 1821-1881 do not appear to have much in common with those of the controversial American writer Henry Miller 1891-1980 However the influence of Dostoevsky on Miller was in fact enormous and shaped the latter's view of the world of literature and of his own writing The Making of a Counter Culture Icon examines the obsession that Miller and his contemporaries the so called Villa Seurat circle had with Dostoevsky and the impact that this obsession had on their own work Renowned for his psychological treatment of characters Dostoevsky became a model for Miller Lawrence Durrell and Anaïs Nin interested as they were in developing a new kind of writing that would move beyond staid literary conventions Maria Bloshteyn argues that as Dostoevsky was concerned with representing the individual's perception of the self and the world he became an archetype for Miller and the other members of the Villa Seurat circle writers who were interested in precise psychological characterizations as well as intriguing narratives Tracing the cross cultural appropriation and misinterpretation of Dostoevsky's methods and philosophies by Miller Durrell and Nin The Making of a Counter Culture Icon gives invaluable insight into the early careers of the Villa Seurat writers and testifies to Dostoevsky's influence on twentieth century literature Tropic of Cancer Henry Miller, Anaïs Nin, Karl
