What Is History E H Carr:

What is History? E. H. Carr, 2018-06-07 Not only one of our most distinguished historians but also one of the most valuable contributors to historical theory Spectator In formulating an answer to the question of What is History Carr argues that the facts of history are simply those which historians have chosen to focus on All historical facts come to us as a result of interpretive choices by historians influenced by the standards of their age Now for the first time in Penguin Modern Classics with an introduction by Richard J Evans author of the Third Reich trilogy What Is History? Edward Hallett Carr, 1967-10-12

Who is to say how things really were In formulating a modern answer to the question What is History Professor Carr shows that the facts of history are simply those which historians have selected for scrutiny Millions have crossed the Rubicon but the historians tell us that only Caesar's crossing was significant All historical facts come to us as a result of interpretative choices by historians influenced by the standards of their age Yet if absolute objectivity is impossible the role of the historian need in no way suffer nor does history lose its fascination With lucidity Carr casts a light on the proper function of the historian and the vital importance of history in modern society This is an admirably stimulating and intrepid book a bold excursion into a region of central importance where most contemporary philosophers and historians unaccountably either fear or disdain to tread Isaiah Berlin New Statesman What is History? Edward Hallett Carr, 1986

E.H.Carr: A Critical Appraisal M. Cox, 2016-04-30 E H Carr 1892 1982 was born into security but lived a life of controversy Attacked for appeasing both Hitler and Stalin he was not only one of the most productive writers of the Twentieth century but one of its most provocative as well In this book the first ever to deal critically but fairly with Carr's contribution to international relations Soviet Studies and the study of history sixteen internationally respected authors grapple with his complex intellectual legacy For those seriously interested in understanding the life and times of this most English of establishment radicals this is the place to begin E. H. Carr and International Relations Charles Jones, 1998-10 E H Carr is widely remembered as an influential theorist of international relations The scourge of inter war idealists he became the best known Briton in a generation of predominantly American political realists But Carr's realism differed greatly from that of his contemporaries a vigorous advocate of social and economic planning and friend of the Soviet Union he stood closer to Lenin than to Morgenthau In this book Charles Jones makes sense of Carr's distinctive form of realism by examining his rhetoric and the reciprocal relationship between theory and policy making in his writings Close attention is paid to the period from 1936 when Carr left the Foreign Office through his subsequent career as a one man foreign ministry at Aberystwyth the Ministry of Information and above all The Times culminating in the final frustration of his schemes for continued British world power in 1947 The Vices of Integrity Jonathan Haslam, 2000-11-17 In Edward Hallett Carr's definitive biography Jonathan Haslam paints a compelling portrait of a man torn between a vicarious identification with the romance of revolution and the ruthless realism of his own intellectual formation What is History

Now? D. Cannadine,2002-07-05 E H Carr s What is History was originally published by Macmillan in 1961 Since then it has sold hundreds of thousands of copies throughout the world In this book ten internationally renowned scholars writing from a range of historical vantage points answer Carr s question for a new generation of historians What does it mean to study history at the start of the Twenty first century This volume stands alongside Carr s classic paying tribute to his seminal enquiry while moving the debate into new territory to ensure its freshness and relevance for a new century of historical study

Fifty Key Thinkers on History Marnie Hughes-Warrington,2014-09-04 Fifty Key Thinkers on History is an essential guide to the most influential historians theorists and philosophers of history The entries offer comprehensive coverage of the long history of historiography ranging from ancient China Greece and Rome through the Middle Ages to the contemporary world This third edition has been updated throughout and features new entries on Machiavelli Ranajit Guha William McNeil and Niall Ferguson Other thinkers who are introduced include Herodotus Bede Ibn Khaldun E H Carr Fernand Braudel Eric Hobsbawm Michel Foucault Edward Gibbon Each clear and concise essay offers a brief biographical introduction a summary and discussion of each thinker s approach to history and how others have engaged with it a list of their major works and a list of resources for further study

A Manual of Historical Research Methodology Sreedharan,2007 A book providing practical help to students at the graduate and postgraduate levels What is given in the book is precise clear and solid The book s coverage and comprehensiveness its scientific analytical and critical treatment its near perfect organization and arrangement its clarity and easy methods of reference will make it a useful compendium for students and teachers A teacher and lover of history the author has brought out philosophical scientific and ideological and linguistic perspectives to bear on the subject Whether a student or teacher or a general reader the manual can be expected to develop a healthy interest in history The author has brought to bear philosophical scientific ideological and linguistic perspectives to bear on the subject

Encountering Christ in the Suffering Humanity (Mt 25:31-46) Cynthia Pinto,2011 What is History? E. Carr,R. Evans,2017-11-09 Since its first publication in 1961 E H Carr s What is History has established itself as the classic introduction to the subject Ranging across topics such as historical objectivity society and the individual the nature of causation and the possibility of progress Carr delivered an incisive text that still has the power to provoke debate today For this fortieth anniversary reissue Richard J Evans has written an extensive new introduction that discusses the origins and the impact of the book and assesses its relevance in the age of twenty first century postmodernism and epistemological anxiety

The Hidden History of Realism S. Molloy,2006-02-04 Challenging the received notions of International Relations theory about a central tradition Realism Molloy demonstrates how a belief in a mode of theorization has distorted Realism forcing the theory of power politics in IR into a paradigmatic strait jacket that is simply inadequate and inappropriate to the task of encompassing its diversity Report of the Marlborough College Natural History Society (founded April 9th, 1864).

Research ,2009 Problems associated with African history. Orality as a source James Pinnock,2018-02-27 Essay from the year 2010 in the subject History Africa grade 80 0% language English abstract History according to E H Carr cannot be written unless the historian can achieve some kind of contact with those about whom he is writing Throughout the pursuit of history we search for a link between the past and the present and that almost definitively arrives in the form of written sources However how should we approach history when written sources elude us and all we have to rely on for the most part are oral sources and tradition A nature that certainly defines the so called acephalous societies of pre colonial Africa and to a lesser extent contemporary Africa Orality is not seen in modern scholarship admittedly dominated by Western and Europeanized thought as a viable or reliable source for constructing history Yet does this orality consign Africa to the peripheries of history to the wastelands of historical thought and theory Is Africa as Hugh Trevor Roper once claimed unhistoric This essay will examine whether oral sources are a sufficient foundation for the history of a continent and whether their innate weaknesses and flaws as a source indeed render them as previously believed inadequate for such a venture Of paramount importance in this essay is to assess whether a history of Africa can survive within the ideas of what History is and should be ideas ultimately Western indeed European in their conception Or can we separate Africa from Europe both in terms of colonial impact and historical theory and create a purely Africanist history Hence by the end of this essay I hope to have displayed that oral sources have value within themselves as a source for history and that the constraints of European history need not necessarily apply to Africa Perhaps then Africa can be resurrected from the graveyard of academic publishing History of the Town of Andover, New Hampshire: Narrative John Robie Eastman,1910 History of the Town of Andover New Hampshire, 1751-1906 John Robie Eastman,1910 Official Journal ,1910 East and West Jan Malicki,Leszek Zasztowt,2009 Cornell University, a History Waterman Thomas Hewett,1905
