What Is Literary Fiction:

Literary Fiction Tourism Nicola E. MacLeod, 2024-03-22 This timely and insightful book critically reviews the synergistic relationship between books literary culture and the practices of tourism The volume sets literary fiction tourism within its historical theoretical and managerial context and explores the current provision of literary tourism sites and experiences It focuses on literary fiction and the interplay between imaginative worlds literary reputation and tourism The volume explores a variety of literary tourism forms in a global context such as biographical sites imaginative sites literary trails and book towns identifying the challenges associated with interpreting and managing them for visitors Current international case studies allow readers to understand this most ancient of touristic activity within its contemporary context This book offers new insight into the diversity of the literary tourism landscape the range of experiences and visitors and the variety of interpretive responses that may be appropriate The relationship between literary fiction and other forms of media such as film and digital culture are also explored International in scope this volume will be of interest to students of tourism heritage studies cultural studies and media studies as well those interested in literary tourism more specifically

Novel Ideas Paul Williams, 2019-12-24 This concise yet comprehensive study explores innovative practice in the novel and from the perspective of creative writing the astonishing resilience of the novel form It offers a practical guide to the many possibilities available to the writer of the novel with each chapter offering exercises to encourage innovation and to expand the creative writer's narrative skills Beginning with early iterations of the novel in the 17th century this book follows the evolution of innovation in the novel through Realism Modernism Postmodernism and into today's dizzying array of digital and interactive possibilities While guiding the reader through the possibilities available in both genre and literary fiction this book encourages both aspiring and established writers to produce novels with imagination playfulness and gravitas Dynamic and interactive this text is distinctive in offering a grounding in the literary history of the novel while also equipping readers to write in the form themselves It is an essential resource for any student of creative writing or anyone with an interest in writing their own novel

The Oxford History of the Novel in English Cyrus R. K. Patell, Deborah Lindsay Williams, 2024-03-05 The Oxford History of the Novel in English is a twelve volume series presenting a comprehensive global and up to date history of English language prose fiction written by a large international team of scholars The series is concerned with novels as a whole not just the literary novel and each volume includes chapters on the processes of production distribution and reception and on popular fiction and the fictional sub genres as well as outlining the work of major novelists movements and tendencies This book offers an account of US fiction during a period demarcated by two traumatic moments the eve of the entry of the United States into the Second World War and the onset of the Covid 19 pandemic The aftermath of the Second World War was arguably the high point of US nationalism but in the years that followed US writers would increasingly explore the possibility that US democracy was a failure both at home and abroad For so many of the writers whose work this volume explores the idea of nation became suspect as did the idea of national literature as the foundation for US writing Looking at post 1940s writing the literary historian might well chart a movement within literary cultures away from nationalism and toward what we would call cosmopolitanism a perspective that fosters conversations between the occupants of different cultural spaces and that regards difference as an opportunity to be embraced rather than a problem to be solved During this period the novel has had significant competition for the US public's attention from other forms of narrative and media film television comic books videogames and the internet and the various forms of social media that it spawned If however the novel becomes a residual form during this period it is by no means archaic The novel has been reinvigorated over the past eighty years by its encounters with both emergent forms such as film television comic books and digital media and the emergent voices typically associated with multiculturalism in the United States

The Poetics of Genre in the Contemporary Novel Tim

Lanzendörfer, 2015-11-19 The Poetics of Genre in the Contemporary Novel investigates the role of genre in the contemporary novel taking its departure from the observation that numerous contemporary novelists make use of popular genre influences in what are still widely considered to be literary novels it sketches the uses of the work and the value of genre It suggests the value of a critical look at texts genre use for an analysis of the contemporary moment From this it develops a broader perspective suggesting the value of genre criticism and taking into view traditional genres such as the bildungsroman and the metafictional novel as well as the kinds of amalgamated forms which have recently come to prominence In essays discussing a wide range of authors from Steven Hall to Bret Easton Ellis to Colson Whitehead the contributors to the volume develop their own readings of genre's work and valence in the contemporary novel

Angel Walks Through the Stage and Other Essays Jon Fosse, 2015-09-25 Winner of the Nobel Prize in Literature for 2023 Jon Fosse said farewell to theory early in his career choosing poetry fiction and drama as his mediums of choice Here however in a selection from his two books of essays we see just how incisive a critic and memoirist he can be Not only including a generous portion of Fosse's writing on literature and theater including the irresistible Thomas Bernhard and His Grandfather this collection also includes such personal essays such as My Dear New Norwegian Old Houses and He Who Didn't Want to Become a Teacher

Exploring Creativity Brian Moeran, Bo T. Christensen, 2013-03-21 Explores creativity and accompanying evaluative practices in a series of richly textured ethnographic case studies of creative industries
