We All Lost The Cold War:

We All Lost the Cold War: The Cuban Missile Crisis, 1962. Ch. 2. Missiles to Cuba: Foreign-Policy Motives. Ch. 3. Missiles to Cuba: Domestic Politics. Ch. 4. Why Did Khrushchev Miscalculate? Ch. 5. Why Did the Missiles Provoke a Crisis? Ch. 6. The Crisis and Its Resolution Richard Ned Lebow, 1994 Drawing on recently declassified

documents and extensive interviews with Soviet and American policy makers among them several important figures speaking for public record for the first time Ned Lebow and Janice Stein cast new light on the effect of nuclear threats in two of the tensest moments of the Cold War the Cuban Missile Crisis of 1962 and the confrontations arising out of the Arab Israeli war of 1973 They conclude that the strategy of deterrence prolonged rather than ended the conflict between the superpowers

We All Lost the Cold War Professor Richard Ned LeBow, 1994 We All Lost the Cold War Richard Ned Lebow, Janice Gross Stein, 1995-07-23 In the 1980s Soviet evidence suggests the Reagan arms buildup delayed rather than hastened the accommodation Gorbachev desired for internal political reasons Both nations the authors argue expended lives and resources out of all reasonable proportion to their legitimate security interests with destabilizing consequences that persist today

The Reagan Presidency W. Elliot Brownlee, Hugh Davis Graham, 2003 Table of contents The Constitution and the Conduct of American Foreign Policy David Gray Adler, Larry Nelson George, 1996 In this provocative and readable volume eleven leading constitutional authorities challenge business as usual in American foreign policymaking For far too long they contend Americans have acquiesced to presidential claims to sweeping executive powers in foreign affairs thanks to imperial minded presidents a weak willed Congress and neglectful scholars These authors forcefully argue that the president is not the supreme crafter of foreign policy and that Congress must provide more than a rubber stamp for the president's agenda Unilateral presidential control of foreign relations they warn can pose a grave threat to our nation's welfare and is simply without constitutional warrant Combining constitutional theory with keen historical insights these authors illuminate the roots of presidential abuse of executive power and remind us of the past and potential costs of such disregard for our unique system of checks and balances An essential guide for all concerned citizens and members of Congress this volume should help revive a proper understanding of this crucial dimension of American democracy Russia and Armed Persuasion

Stephen J. Cimbala, 2001 In Russia and Armed Persuasion Stephen J Cimbala argues that Russia's war planners and political leaders must make painful adjustments in their thinking about the relationship between military art and policy in the twenty first century Russia must master the use of force for persuasion not just destruction As the author shows military persuasion requires that Russian leaders master the politico military complexity of crisis management deterrence and arms control and the limitation of ends and means in war Russia now has scarce resources to devote to defense and can no longer afford the stick only diplomacy and strategy that have characterized some of its recent past Russian and Soviet military thinking historically emphasized the blunderbuss and total war overwhelming mass firepower and conflicts of annihilation or prolonged attrition However historical experience also forced Russia and the Soviet Union to come to grips with crisis management and with limited aims and means in the conduct of war On the one hand Russia failed the test of military persuasion in its management of the July 1914 crisis that plunged Europe into World War I On the other hand the Soviet Union did adjust to the requirements of the nuclear age for crisis management deterrence and limited war Using this mixed record of Russian and Soviet success and failure in twentieth century experience Cimbala argues that Russia can and must improve in the twenty first century According to the author the first decades of this century will pose at least three immediate challenges to Russia s military persuasion Russia must continue to pursue strategic nuclear arms control and arms reductions with the United States and avoid re starting the Cold War by means of an ill considered race in missile defenses Second Russia must maintain a surer grip on the military information revolution especially as it pertains to the management of Russia s nuclear deterrent Third Russia must develop forces that are more flexible

We Now Know John Lewis Gaddis,1997 One of America s leading historians offers the first major history of the Cold War Packed with new information drawn from previously unavailable sources the book offers major reassessments of Stalin Mao Khrushchev Kennedy Eisenhower and Truman From Red Sea to Blue Nile Rosita Forbes,1925 International Bibliography of Book Reviews of Scholarly Literature Chiefly in the Fields of Arts and Humanities and the Social Sciences ,1996 The United States and Arms Control Allan Krass,1997-08-30 The United States has committed itself to an unprecedented number and variety of arms control and nonproliferation obligations in the past decade At least ten major new agreements have been signed since 1986 and some of them have now been in force for several years After a brief review of Cold War arms control and the lessons to be learned from it the book surveys the commitments the United States has made during the past decade across the full spectrum of arms control including nuclear conventional chemical and biological weapons It describes the bureaucratic structure the United States has created to implement its own commitments and to verify that other countries are complying with theirs The book then analyzes the costs and benefits of the new regimes the persistent problems encountered in managing them and the causes and appropriate responses to incidents of noncompliance It concludes with an argument for continued U S leadership in international arms control

Managing Crises Uriel Rosenthal,Arjen Boin,Louise Kloos Comfort,2001 This textbook considers the phenomenon of crises from a new perspective one that bridges the conventional social science view with the ever changing nature of crises in modern society The textbook is divided into five sections The first section introduces the perspective taken in the textbook and offers an understanding of who crises means The second section discusses how crises develop and escalate One chapter in this section offers case studies of a number of Los Angeles riots that have taken place since the 1960 s including the riot sparked by the verdict of the Rodney King trial The Globalization and Society Raymond Breton, Jeffrey G. Reitz, 2003-12-30 Globalization has been defined as a process in which the population of the world is increasingly bonded into a single society Although none of the contributors to this collection denies the thrust toward convergence that is implicit in globalizing processes each contributor also concludes that globalization encourages differentiation Integration in the global system is not a passive process In different nations people analyze and interpret what is happening and respond by developing policies forming new institutions and changing existing ones They adopt broad cultural models in order to function effectively in the larger system and they also draw upon their particular traditions values institutions and resources to define a place that will be to their advantage economically politically and socio culturally As the studies presented in this book show integration in the world system may benefit a given society or
