The Civic Organization and the Digital Citizen Chris Wells, 2015. Digital media are reshaping citizens' connections to politics. Many claim that new media de-institutionalize political action. But where does that leave civic engagement long structured through stable bureaucratic organizations? This book examines what the relationship between young citizens and civic groups looks like on the Web and in social media.

Online Journalism in Africa Hayes Mawindi Mabweazara, Okoth Fred Mudhai, Jason Whittaker, 2014-01-21. Very little is known about how African journalists are forging new ways to practise their profession on the web. Against this backdrop, this volume provides contextually rooted discussions of trends, practices, and emerging cultures of web-based journalism across the continent, offering a comprehensive research tool that can both stand the test of time as well as offer researchers, particularly those in the economically developed Global North, models for cross-cultural comparative research. The essays here deploy either a wide range of evidence or adopt a case study approach to engage with contemporary developments in African online journalism. This book thus makes up for the gap in cross-cultural studies that seek to understand online journalism in all its complexities.

Technological Applications in Adult and Vocational Education Advancement Wang, Viktor, 2012-09-30. While adult and vocational education may be viewed as separate, the training and development in education and the workplace is essential to keeping up with the current pace of technologies and information. As technologies, individuals, and the workplace continue to advance, adult learning continues to be a forefront to keep up with this constant change of pace. Technological Applications in Adult and Vocational Education Advancement aims to advance the understanding, practice, and research within career and technical education. This book provides a global view on the education technologies for adult learning from leading scholars, theorists, and practitioners by sharing insight on innovative pedagogies and inspirational thoughts on the fields of adult education, technology, and career and technical education.

Bruneian Youths on Social Media: Key Trends and Challenges Siti Mazidah Mohamad, 2023-06-06. In the past five years, Brunei Darussalam's socio-cultural landscape has witnessed a significant transformation, creating social and economic opportunities for Bruneians. Social media sites such as Instagram, Twitter, and TikTok have become spaces and sites for racial, political, and religious engagements in Bruneian society. Digitally connected young people and their engagements on various social media platforms are major catalysts in this transformation. They actively share their social and religious practices and, in the process, create new discourses that are effectively reshaping the nation's socio-cultural, religious, and political landscape. This article examines three trends in Bruneian youths' social media engagements: digital civic engagement and social justice self-expression and influencing culture and new religious expressions and lived religiosities. Based on these trends, we can expect further evolution of youth culture carrying significance for the nation's development. The social consciousness and mobility of these young people are effectively measured through a study of the fluidity of their identity ideas and practices.

Using New Media for Citizen Engagement and Participation Adria, Marco, 2019-12-27 Recent technological advancements have made it possible to use moderated discussion threads on social media to provide citizens with a means of discussion concerning issues that involve them. With the renewed interest in devising new methods for public involvement, the use of such communication tools has caused some concern on how to properly apply them for strategic purposes. Using New Media for Citizen Engagement and Participation provides emerging research exploring the theoretical and practical aspects of how social media should be added to public involvement activities such as citizen juries, public deliberation, and citizen panels. Readers will be offered insights into the critical design considerations for planning, carrying out, and assessing public involvement initiatives. Featuring coverage on a broad range of topics such as citizen journalism, online activism, and public discourse, this book is ideally designed for corporate professionals, broadcasters, news writers, column editors, politicians, policy managers, government administrators, academicians, researchers, practitioners, and students in the fields of political science, communications, sociology, mass media, and broadcasting, public administration, and community service learning.

Emerging Issues, Challenges, and Opportunities in Urban E-Planning Silva, Carlos Nunes, 2015-02-28 Recent advances in information and communication technologies have enhanced the standards of metropolitan planning and development. These innovations have led to new opportunities in this evolving profession. Emerging Issues, Challenges, and Opportunities in Urban E-Planning brings together the efficiency of web-based tools and digital technologies with the practice of spatial planning. Focusing on the utilization of geographic information systems, computer-assisted design, visualization concepts, and database management systems, this book is a pivotal reference source for planners, policymakers, researchers, and graduate students interested in how recent technological advancements are enhancing the traditional practices in urban planning.
