Routledge Handbook of Primary Physical Education Gerald Griggs, Kirsten Petrie, 2017-11-27 The Routledge Handbook of Primary Physical Education goes further than any other book in exploring the specific theoretical and practical components of teaching PE at the primary or elementary school level. As the most comprehensive review of theory, research and practice in primary PE yet published, it represents an essential evidence-based guide for all students, researchers and practitioners working in this area. Written by a team of leading international primary PE specialists from academic and practitioner backgrounds, this handbook examines the three discourses that dominate contemporary PE: health education and sport. With case studies from twelve countries including the UK, USA, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Norway, Spain and South Korea, it provides a truly international perspective on key themes and issues such as primary PE pedagogy, policy and curriculum development, assessment and standards, child development, diversity and inclusion, teacher training and professional development. Offering an unprecedented wealth of material, this handbook is an invaluable reference for any undergraduate or postgraduate degree programme in primary physical education or any primary teacher training course with a physical education element.

Change in Government Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Public Administration Select Committee, 2011-09-22 The Coalition Government has set a sizeable challenge for the Civil Service to transfer power out of Whitehall and into communities and, as a result, fundamentally change the way it works. The Committee found that while the Government seeks to embrace change, they have failed to recognise the scale of reform required or to set out the change programme required to achieve this reform. The lack of coordination from the centre and strong political leadership will result in the failure of key policies like the Big Society agenda. The Committee recommended a comprehensive change programme articulating clearly what the Government believes the Civil Service is for, how it must change and with a timetable of clear milestones. This change programme must also include proposals for the Civil Service to retain and develop the new skill sets required to meet the demands of the Big Society policy agenda and address long-running concerns about the decline in specialist expertise in Whitehall, the failure to innovate and take risks and the failure to work across departmental silos. To reflect the changing role of the Civil Service, the Committee has also recommended that the Government should consider the development of a new Haldane model of accountability or they must explain how the model remains relevant. The new realities of devolving power out of Whitehall to local government and elsewhere should be codified in the Civil Service governance structure.
