

Essay 1

Prompt: Why do you want to go to college?

The air is tainted with unnatural fumes of grease, wood, and burnt electrical tape. Oil slicks stain the floor. Thick wooden shelves sag unnervingly close to buckling under the weight of old house paint and power tools. A workbench lies buried beneath papers, rulers, cans, and metal shards. An uncomfortable growl pours from the water heater. Most people wouldn't describe my grimy garage as pleasant, but I love spending my free time here. It's where I built a 2 ft trebuchet in sixth grade, a 4 ft trebuchet in seventh grade, and plan to build an 8 ft trebuchet this winter break. It's where I built a battlebot and slapped an Arduino microcontroller on top to give it intelligence. Ever since I sat watching jets shake the sky and explosions rock the screen in the movie Iron Man as a stunned sixth grader, I've spent weekends experimenting in my garage, trying to learn everything I can about engineering and robotics.

Sure, outside of my garage I love wildlife and hiking, history, and weird foods. I love classic rock, jazz, and maybe even secretly Katy Perry. Nevertheless, I've always had a life plan centered on robotics: go to a great college, learn robotics, build robots, get a Bernese mountain dog, and live happily ever after in a beautiful forest home. It seems strange that I've committed myself to robotics so easily despite my many interests, but in reality, robotics combines nearly all of them. Computer science, electrical engineering, and mechanical engineering are crucial to the robot, but combine them with biology, astronomy, music, or ecology, and that's when robotics becomes amazing. I could help the sick with robots that give surgeons more dexterity while operating. I could help the poor with affordable, robot-made products. I could aid the elderly, replace the limbs of wounded warriors, and keep fire fighters from harm's way, all with robots. Although these robots may not be the crimson and gold Iron Man suit that first got me interested, I love the realistic and heroic possibilities in the field of robotics.

Almost as exciting as imagining the robots I could build, is imagining where I could build them. I could become a professor and research cutting edge A.I. algorithms. I could become an entrepreneur and bring my creations to market. I could even become an employee for a tech company and devote myself to its latest innovations. Maybe next year around this time, I will even be studying on the Freshman Quad. With the LCSR robotics lab, the minor in robotics, a

The Conspiracy of Modern Art Luiz Renato Martins, 2017-03-06 In The Conspiracy of Modern Art the Brazilian critic and art historian Luiz Renato Martins presents a new account of modern art from David to Abstract Expressionism The once vibrant debate on these touchstones of modernism has gone stale Viewed from the Sao Paulo megalopolis the art of Paris and New York embodying Revolution Thermidor Bonapartism and Bourgeois Triumph once more pulsates in tragic key Equally attentive to form and politics Martins invites us to look again at familiar pictures In the process modern art appears in a new light These essays largely unknown to an English speaking audience may be the most important contribution to the account of modern painting since the important debates of the 1980s

Economic Informality and World Literature Josh Jewell, 2024-04-29 This book analyses the impact of economic informality on the novel form across the modern world system looking specifically at works by Antonio de Almeida Machado de Assis Dany Laferrière Ng g wa Thiong o Nadine Gordimer and Masande Ntshanga It sees the representation of informal economies as a structural homology of world literature In chapters on the figure of the agregado in the nineteenth century Brazilian novel sex work in Haitian fiction the politics of the informal economy in the post apartheid South African novel and Ngugi s representation African occult economies Josh Jewell explores the relationship between the rise of improvised economic activity and its consolidation under neoliberalism in postcolonial nations and literary form He shows how informal economies can be grasped as locations of strategy and improvisation whose subjects must shift constantly between officialdom and underground networks between the realms of the licit and illicit This produces highly heterogenous narratives oscillating between different tones and registers unserious and tragic social spaces working class and elite and conceptions of reality By comparing the various situated aesthetics of informality this book instrumentalises the Warwick Research Collective s compelling but nebulous idea of a world literature that variously registers a singular modernity

Anticolonial Form Alexandra Reza, 2024-01-24 Anticolonial Form Literary Journals at the End of Empire addresses the relationship between culture and politics in two journals published in Europe by African writers Pr sence Africaine launched in Paris in 1947 and Mensagem published between 1948 and 1964 in Lisbon Grounded in extensive archival work the book argues for a comparative and transnational approach to postcolonial literary studies for the significance of the literary journal as a key form in the development of African writing in French Portuguese and English and for a historically and geographically contingent understanding of the relationships between literature culture and politics This book takes up the idea of articulation to bring forward the contingent and fugitive connections that networks of literary journals fostered between francophone anglophone and lusophone writers in the conjuncture of decolonization in the 1950s and 1960s It argues that comparison as a praxis and a method was central to the anticolonial charge of those journals on whose pages we see an iterative back and forth between writing from and about different parts of the colonial world a recursive effort to establish how ideas and analyses developed in one part of the colonial world could travel and be adopted and adapted in others Many scholars have argued convincingly that the institutionalized practice of comparison in the academic field of comparative literature is itself imbricated with histories of colonialism Reza s argument takes on a particular significance in the context of that critique as the anticolonial comparison on which she focuses offers a different tradition of relational praxis from which to think about connection and comparison itself

The Persistence of Realism in Modernist Fiction Paul Stasi, 2022-10-06 Form vs content aesthetics vs politics modernism vs realism these entrenched binaries tend to structure work in early 20th century literary studies even among scholars who seek to undo them The Persistence of Realism demonstrates how realism s defining concerns sympathy class social determination animate the work of Henry James James Joyce Virginia Woolf Samuel Beckett and Ralph Ellison In contrast to the oft told tale of an aesthetically rich modernism overthrowing realism s social commitments along with its formal structures Stasi shows how these writers engaged with realism in concrete ways The domestic novel naturalist fiction novels of sentiment and industrial tales are realist structures that modernist fiction simultaneously preserves and subverts Putting modernist writers in conversation with the realism that preceded them The Persistence of Realism demonstrates how modernism's social concerns are inseparable from its formal ones     The Girl's Own Annual ,1887     The American Bookseller ,1889
