Two Vanrevels Booth Tarkington:

The Two Vanrevels Booth Tarkington, 2021-01-28 Newton Booth Tarkington July 29 1869 May 19 1946 was an American novelist and dramatist best known for his novels The Magnificent Ambersons and Alice Adams. He is one of only four novelists to win the Pulitzer Prize for Fiction more than once along with William Faulkner, John Updike, and Colson Whitehead. Although he is nearly forgotten today, in the 1910s and 1920s he was considered America's greatest living author. Several of his stories were adapted to film. During the first quarter of the 20th century, Tarkington, along with Meredith Nicholson, George Ade, and James Whitcomb Riley, helped to create a Golden Age of literature in Indiana. Booth Tarkington served one term in the Indiana House of Representatives, was critical of the advent of automobiles, and set many of his stories in the Midwest. He eventually moved to Kennebunkport, Maine, where he continued his life work even as he suffered a loss of vision. In the 1910s and 1920s, Tarkington was regarded as the great American novelist as important as Mark Twain. His works were reprinted many times, were often on best seller lists, won many prizes, and were adapted into other media. Penrod and its two sequels were regular birthday presents for bookish boys. By the later twentieth century, however, he was ignored in academia, no congresses, no society, no journal of Tarkington Studies. In 1985, he was cited as an example of the great discrepancy possible between an author's fame when alive and oblivion later. According to this view, if an author succeeds at pleasing his or her contemporaries and Tarkington's works have not a whiff of social criticism, he or she is not going to please later readers of inevitably different values and concerns. Reproduction of the original The Two Vanrevels Booth Tarkington, 2008-09-01. It was long ago in the days when men sighed when they fell in love, when people danced by candle and lamp and did dance too instead of solemnly gliding about in that mellow time so long ago when the young were romantic and summer was roses and wine. Old Carewe brought his lovely daughter home from the convent to wreck the hearts of the youth of Rouen. That was not a far journey, only an afternoon's drive through the woods and by the river in an April long ago. Miss Betty's harp carefully strapped behind the great lumbering carriage, her guitar on the front seat half buried under a mound of bouquets and oddly shaped little bundles, farewell gifts of her comrades and the good Sisters. In her left hand she clutched a small lace handkerchief with which she now and then touched her eyes brimmed with the parting from Sister Cecilia, Sister Mary Bazilede, the old stone steps, and all the girls. But for every time that she lifted the dainty kerchief to brush away the edge of a tear, she took a deep breath of the Western woodland air and smiled at least twice.
