A 3D CAD model of a mechanical part, specifically a dome-shaped component mounted on a cylindrical base. The dome has a smooth, curved surface. A blue line highlights a specific edge on the dome, indicating it is selected for an edge blend operation. A dimension line with an arrow points to the radius of the dome, labeled with the value '50'. The base of the dome is a thick, cylindrical ring. The entire model is rendered in a light gray color with some shading to show its three-dimensional form.

A horizontal toolbar from the Siemens NX software interface. It contains several buttons: 'Feature Operation' (highlighted in blue), 'Curve', 'Surface', 'True Shading', and 'View'. Below these buttons is a row of smaller, circular icons representing different view orientations (isometric, top, front, left, right, bottom, etc.).
