Ugandas Economic Reforms Insider Accounts:

Uganda's Economic Reforms Florence Kuteesa,2010 This book represents the first consolidated account of the economic reforms undertaken by the Uganda government and their impact on growth and poverty reduction and includes contributions from those directly involved in the implementation of those reforms The Palgrave Handbook of African Colonial and Postcolonial History Martin S. Shanguhya,Toyin Falola,2018-01-28 This wide ranging volume presents the most complete appraisal of modern African history to date It assembles dozens of new and established scholars to tackle the questions and subjects that define the field ranging from the economy the two world wars nationalism decolonization and postcolonial politics to religion development sexuality and the African youth experience Contributors are drawn from numerous fields in African studies including art music literature education and anthropology The themes they cover illustrate the depth of modern African history and the diversity and originality of lenses available for examining it Older themes in the field have been treated to an engaging re assessment while new and emerging themes are situated as the book s core strength The result is a comprehensive vital picture of where the field of modern African history stands today Tax Reform in Uganda Dorothy Kwagala-Igaga,2016-12-14 In 1997 Uganda undertook extensive reforms in tax legislation This had been preceded by the structural reforms in tax administration that saw the creation of the Uganda Revenue Authority in 1991 The aim of the far reaching reforms was to improve the tax system and increase its revenue productivity This book demonstrates that the reforms were not as successful as anticipated and revenues have not improved in a sustained way The revenue from direct taxes only contributes about 20% to the total revenue well below the Sub Saharan average of 40% This has focused attention on the appropriateness of the reforms The focus of the reforms on achieving efficiency did not sufficiently take into account the fundamental importance of equity within the system As a result the Income Tax Act 1997 embodies distortions and inequalities in the treatment of taxable income and taxpayers that have led to inefficiency in the system as a whole The tax reforms also took a narrow technical view of the tax system The book employs political economy and optimal theory to explain the weaknesses in the tax system It is argued that the reforms although well designed were not likely to be successful given the timing and context of implementation The multidisciplinary and functionalist approach of the book is helpful in highlighting the constraints in which tax design and tax reform is undertaken in Uganda It is argued that the reforms were blunted by the manner of their formulation and context of implementation Taxation is a socio political issue and yet the IMF and World Bank which supported the reforms did not take into account the limited political will The lack of consensus in policy formulation has weakened the socio contract and allowed the government to blame external factors for the poor performance The weaknesses in governance and corruption have had an impact on the tax system by encouraging tax avoidance and evasion among political elites as well as on activities in the informal sector Aid and Authoritarianism in Africa Tobias Hagmann,Professor Filip Reyntjens,2016-03-15 In 2013 almost half of Africa s top aid recipients were ruled by authoritarian regimes While the West may claim to promote democracy and human rights in practice major bilateral and international donors such as USAID DFID the World Bank and the European Commission have seen their aid policies become ever more entangled with the survival of their authoritarian protégés Local citizens thus find themselves at the receiving end of a compromise between aid agencies and government elites in which development policies are shaped in the interests of maintaining the status quo Aid and Authoritarianism in Africa sheds light on the political intricacies and moral dilemmas raised by the relationship between foreign aid and autocratic rule in Africa Through contributions by leading experts exploring the revival of authoritarian development politics in Ethiopia Uganda Rwanda Cameroon Mozambique and Angola the book exposes shifting donor interests and rhetoric as well as the impact of foreign aid on military assistance rural development electoral processes and domestic politics In the process it raises an urgent and too often neglected question to what extent are foreign aid programmes actually perpetuating authoritarian rule

Medium-Term Budget Frameworks in Sub-Saharan African Countries Richard Allen, Taz Chaponda, Ms. Lesley Fisher, Rohini Ray, 2017-09-11 More than 15 years ago many countries in sub-Saharan Africa embarked on a program of budgetary reform an important element of which was a medium term budget framework MTBF This working paper focuses on the performance of these frameworks in six countries Kenya Namibia South Africa Tanzania Uganda and Zambia It assesses the effectiveness of MTBFs in achieving improved fiscal discipline resource allocation and certainty of funding as well as wider economic and social criteria such as poverty reduction and more efficient public investment In most countries early successes were not sustained and budgetary outcomes did not improve partly for technical reasons such as poor data and inadequate forecasting methodologies but also because the reforms were largely supply driven The paper argues that the development of MTBFs typically falls into four distinct phases To make the transition from one phase to the next developing countries should focus on building their capability in macrofiscal forecasting and analysis and in improving the credibility of the annual budget process

Uganda Jörg Wiegratz, Giuliano Martiniello, Elisa Greco, 2018-11-15 For the last three decades Uganda has been one of the fastest growing economies in Africa Globally praised as an African success story and heavily backed by international financial institutions development agencies and bilateral donors the country has become an exemplar of economic and political reform for those who espouse a neoliberal model of development The neoliberal policies and the resulting restructuring of the country have been accompanied by narratives of progress prosperity and modernisation and justified in the name of development But this self-celebratory narrative which is critiqued by many in Uganda masks the disruptive social impact of these reforms and silences the complex and persistent crises resulting from neoliberal transformation Bringing together a range of leading scholars on the country this collection represents a timely contribution to the debate around the New Uganda one which confronts the often sanitised and largely depoliticised accounts of the Museveni government and its proponents Harnessing a wealth of empirical materials the contributors offer a critical multi-disciplinary analysis of the unprecedented political socio economic cultural and ecological transformations brought about by neoliberal capitalist restructuring since the 1980s The result is the most comprehensive collective study to date of a neoliberal market society in contemporary Africa offering crucial insights for other countries in the Global South

Thirty Years of Public Sector Reforms in Africa Paulos Chanie, Paschal B. Mihyo, 2013 Over the past three decades African countries have been reforming their public sector with a view to improving efficiency effectiveness accountability and transparency as part of efforts to improve the delivery of public services Reform actions have included privatisation public private partnerships commercialisation and adoption of private sector approaches in managing public organisations This book put together by OSSREA reviews measures by African countries in that regard the extent to which the measures have achieved their intended results as well as the factors behind the failure to achieve those results where this was the case

Deals and Development Eric Werker, Lant Pritchett, Kunal Sen, 2018 When are developing countries able to initiate periods of rapid growth and why have so few been able to sustain growth over decades This book provides a novel conceptual framework built from a political economy of business government relations and applies it to nine countries across Africa and Asia drawing actionable policy recommendations

Pockets of Effectiveness and the Politics of State-Building and Development in Africa Sam Hickey, 2023 This book shows that politics is the driving factor that shapes how well state agencies perform their roles It deploys a new conceptual framework the power domains approach to explore the shifting fortunes of key state agencies in five countries Ghana Kenya Rwanda Uganda and Zambia over the past three decades

Uganda International Monetary Fund. African Dept., 2015-07-07 This 2015 Article IV Consultation highlights that Uganda's recent economic performance has been favorable Real GDP growth is projected at 5.24 percent for FY2014/15 supported by a fiscal stimulus and a recovery in private consumption Annual core inflation increased to 4.75 percent in May from very depressed levels mainly fueled by the shilling depreciation pass through The current account deficit is set to widen to about 9 percent of GDP reflecting increasing capital goods imports but international reserves remain adequate The outlook is promising Growth is estimated at 5.75 percent in FY2015/16 and an average 6.25 percent over the medium term
