What Do I Say Talking With Patients About Spirituality:

What Do I Say? Elizabeth Johnston Taylor, 2007 Health care professionals clergy chaplains social workers and others who counsel people in medical crisis often find themselves faced with deeply painful questions Why is this happening to me Am I dying Why should I live I m just a burden to others Here is a workbook that suggests healing verbal responses to such expressions of spiritual pain The accompanying DVD helps reinforce the lessons and exercises that integrate psychology psychiatry pastoral counseling nursing chaplaincy and spiritual direction for whole person care The author an internationally recognized expert in spiritual caregiving points out that wanting to help is one motivation for learning these skills but there are also evidence based reasons helping patients express their innermost feelings promotes spiritual healing spiritual health is related to physical and emotional health spiritual coping helps patients accept and deal with their illness and patients tend to want their health care professionals to know about their spirituality Lessons tips and exercises teach how to listen effectively with guidelines for detecting and understanding the spiritual needs embedded in patients conversations Suggestions are provided for verbal responses to patients who express spiritual distress including tips for building rapport using self disclosure and praying with patients A FAQ section deals with frequently asked questions and miscellaneous information such as What do I do when a patient talks on and on and I have to leave How do I answer a why question What do I say to a patient who believes a miracle will happen to cure them What if I m not religious How can I talk about it By practicing and using these healing techniques Taylor explains healthcare professionals will be able to provide patients responses to their questions that allow them to become intellectually emotionally and physically aware of their spirituality so they can experience life more fully What Do I Say?, 2007 Enhancing Nurses' and Midwives' Competence in

Providing Spiritual Care Wilfred McSherry, Adam Boughey, Josephine Attard, 2021-05-18 This book is the first of its kind addressing key issues in the teaching and learning of spirituality and spiritual care in the context of nursing and midwifery practice The content is based on the outcomes of a European wide project EPICC that brought together leading nursing and midwifery educators and practitioners from 21 countries It highlights the importance of ensuring student nurses and midwives receive sufficient educational preparation to provide spiritual person centred care In turn the book puts forward an innovative and creative approach to the teaching of spiritual person centred care based on an evaluation of best practice across Europe The content and activities presented will enable nursing and midwifery educators to acquire new knowledge skills for learning about and teaching on the personal religious and spiritual aspects of person centred care Both interactive and engaging it will equip nursing and midwifery students to holistically address the needs of the people they care for The book has the potential to transform the nursing and midwifery workforce of the future by ensuring they are prepared to face the global challenges that are impacting international nursing and midwifery practice The Publishers Weekly, 2007
